WARNS POLITICIANS

Civil Works Engineer is Fired in Pittsburgh for Solicitation of Fees

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The government battled graft in the emergency relief and civil works administrations today.

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins asserted that thousands of dollars already had been devoted to investigating reports of scandals in the two administrations and warned that prosecution faces unscrupulous politicians and petty grafters who have used the recovery agencies for personal gains.

The youthful, clear-eyed, head of the twin units which have provided 6,000,000 Americans with employment, food, shelter and clothing said that the department of justice henceforth will deal with those profiting through the misery of others.

Assistant Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan, driving chief of the criminal division of the justice department, has been placed in charge of ferreting out the grafters. Already he has sent investigators to Los Angeles county, Calif., where a CWA scandal is brewing that may reach into political circles.

The civil works program at Pittsburgh has been ordered investigated by Hopkins, and a civil works engineer for Pennsylvania has been discharged for alleged solicitation of a "fee."

Newspaper reports of alleged irregularities have come from Michigan, New York, Alabama, West Virginia and New Jersey. Where such reports have been officially conveyed to Hopkins field representatives have been ordered to "investigate."

"But you can't keep a policeman in every community," observed Hopkins.

CWA, Hopkins added, is receiving "9000 letters a day" in protest against terminating the civil works program on May 1.

Conferees may be asked for $350,000,000 to continue the program.

TRIAL OF RANCHERS IS NEARING CLOSE

VISALIA, Cal., Jan. 23.—(UP)—The state was expected to conclude its case today as trial of eight Tulare county ranchers on murder charges was resumed here, filling the superior courtroom to capacity after a week and recess. Defense attorneys, it was believed, would argue self-defense in attempting to combat damaging prosecution testimony which has identified each of the eight defendants with some part in the bloody riot which ended in death of Dolores Hernandez and Delino D'Avila, cotton pickers, and wounding of nine other persons.

Defendants were Hiram May, Henry Santens, Melvin Shultz, Roy Nichols, E. G. Krueger, Leland Thompson, Clarence Murray and John Allen.

NATION'S EYES ON LOUISIANA BALLOT TODAY

Defeat of Long's Forces May Mean Beginning of End for Kingfish

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Sen. Huey P. Long, political czar of Louisiana, faced the crucial test today as New Orleans voters went to the polls to elect a new city government.

Should the ticket backed by Long's once all-powerful machine lose, it will spell the beginning of the end for the Kingfish's one-man dominance of the state's federal, state, parish and municipal elective offices. Almost all experts agreed in saying Long was decidedly the underdog and that his defeat was probable.

A special committee of seven, representing all three of the Democratic factions backing tickets in today's primary, directed a special police force to assure honesty and order. Nevertheless, charges of impending dishonesty were hurled by all leaders.

The polls were guarded by police who are controlled by the old regulars, local Democratic machine forces. The poll guards were armed with a list of over 3,000 voters alleged to be illegally registered by Long's machine. They will be arrested if they try to vote.

Should the old regulars re-elect Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley and his ticket, it was generally agreed that impeachment proceedings might be proposed against Long.

Long's final campaign gesture was a joint appearance with a dance band. While the band played "You've Got Me Crying Again," the Kingfish crooned the words, but broke off now and then to hurl satirical remarks at his opponents.

FARLEY WILL NAME BROOKLYN LEADER

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The way seemed to be open today for Postmaster James A. Farley to dictate the nomination of a successor to the late John H. McCoey, Democratic boss of Brooklyn. Meanwhile the fight to oust John F. Curry as leader of Tammany hall was held in abeyance.

The meeting of the Brooklyn executive committee to select McCoey's successor will not be held until after the late leader's funeral tomorrow, which Farley will attend.

Frank V. Kelly, leader of the fourth assembly district, and Postmaster Fran J. Sinnott were regarded as likely choices, both acceptable to Farley.

Fumigators Demanding Higher Pay

Fumigating Activities Tied Up Last Night as Men Demand Increases

BULLETIN

A group of fumigators meeting in the yard of the Orange Welfare store at 2 o'clock this afternoon, were ordered to disperse by Chief of Police B. F. Richards, who said the men had no permission to meet there. The group then moved to the Unemployed headquarters across the street.

The workers are asking pay rates of 70 cents an hour with a limit of 65 trees in a string. At present some rates are as low as 55 cents an hour and strings run as high as 88 trees, it is said. This pay makes a rate of about $2.75 per night, or $12.50 per week, during the fumigating season from December 1 to March 15, with a few more days in the summer.

THREATS of continued activities of strikers tonight who disrupted fumigating activities last night in several Orange county citrus orchards unless demands of workers were met, were voiced today.

A group of 40 strikers demanding more pay went to several orchards last night where fumigating was in progress, and employees of fumigating companies which were alleged to be paying lower wages than other companies were forced to stop work.

Strikers demanded 70 cents a set, instead of 55 cents now being paid them by some companies, for 45 minutes work. They now get about 68 cents an hour, and seek to force the companies involved to pay them an increase of about 30 per cent.

Rigs operated by companies who pay more money were not bothered by the strikers last night, who moved in several cars to several orchards which were being fumigated, it is reported.

The strikers called a mass meeting of workers and operators of fumigating companies for 2 o'clock this afternoon near the welfare building in Orange, when it is expected that demands will be presented employers with the threat of disrupted work in case they are not met.

Tent-pullers working for companies said to be paying lower wages than other companies were forced to quit work by the 40 strikers last night as they visited working rigs in orchards. In several cases, tent-pullers were forced to accompany the group of strikers. Shooters, tabers and foremen were not bothered.

The group of strikers which moved down on non-striking workers was formed of employees of several companies, according to reports.

Nine rigs operated by Aldrich and Graves company of Orange, were visited, and about 45 men were stopped from working by taking tent-pullers with the striking group. George Baier, Orange fumigator, experienced no trouble, employees of his company said.

Bonkosky and Oelke, Anaheim fumigators, reported that one of their rigs was visited but the workers were left alone when it

CHARGES REED FILIBUSTERED SENATE RESOLUTION UNTIL MAIL CONTRACT BIDS OPENED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Senator Reed, Pa., was described today as "having filibustered" the senate resolution to hold mail contract awards until bids on a contract had been opened at the post office department. The testimony was by A. J. Ball, foreign traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Ball testified before a senate committee investigating ocean and air mail contracts.

Ball's testimony was given after he said that efforts were made to rush through formation of the Philadelphia Mail Steamship company in which the Pennsylvania railroad was to be a major stockholder.

The Reed "filibuster" was conducted March 1, Ball said, while he and others sat in the senate gallery.

The Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio and the Reading railroad, Ball said, planned to form the line and purchase two shipping board vessels from the International Mercantile Marine company.

The purchase contract was to have been signed February 28. On the way to Washington, Ball said, he and his associates read an account of the senate resolution being offered which would prohibit

Believe Parents of St. Paul Man Has Arranged for Ransom Payment

BULLETIN

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 23.—(UP)—As the wife of kidnapped Edward G. Bremer collapsed in her home, Adolph Bremer, father of the man held for $200,000 ransom and friend of President Roosevelt, was believed today to be negotiating independently for his son's freedom.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Release of Edward G. Bremer, 36, kidnapped broker, was expected within 24 hours today following a series of rapid-fire developments.

Representatives of Adolph Bremer, the victim's father and personal friend of President Roosevelt, were reported to have renewed contact with the victim's captors and have dispatched a negotiator with $200,000 ransom to a designated "payoff" rendezvous.

Arrangements for the delivery of the ransom money were said to have been continued in two notes thrown through a window of the home of Dr. H. T. Nippert, Bremer family physician.

Notes Received

The reported receipt of these notes was followed by the insertion of an advertisement in two Minneapolis newspapers.

The advertisement read: "D. O. 'Rose, please phone today. D. O. 'Rose who have remained out of the case lost their work endanger young Bremer's security believed this advertisement signified that members of the family were willing."

SLAYER OF SONS IS DECLARED INSANE

SEATTLE, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Luke S. May, noted Seattle criminologist, was convinced today that both Oscar Hestnes, fanatic who purportedly confessed strangling his two sons, and Hestnes' frail blonde wife, Marie, 35, are insane.

Hestnes and his wife were held in solitary confinement while authorities considered their case. A minister found the bodies of their sons, John, 10, and Henry, 4, in the Hestnes home. The father allegedly told police that he had been directed "by God" to kill the boys "to drive the devil out of them."

Mendieta Is Notified Of New Support

State Department Instructed to Cable Word Today to New Regime

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The United States today extended formal recognition to the government of President Carlos Mendieta of Cuba.

At 2 p. m. President Roosevelt instructed the state department to cable instruction to the American embassy in Havana to notify the Cuban government that the United States government was according immediate recognition of the Mendieta government.

The move ends months of uncertainty during the administration of former President Grau San Martin, overthrown last week. Dr. Grau San Martin departed for Mexico shortly after he resigned in favor of Carlos Hevia, who served two and one-half days before giving way to Mendieta, elderly Nationalist party leader, who appears to have the confidence of the people in a greater degree than any chief executive since Cuba was thrown into political turmoil last August.

Reports from Havana, the President said, indicated that Mendieta has the support of the Cuban army, navy and of practically all political elements there. These reports indicate the government of Cuba has reached a condition of comparative stability, he said.

PAOLA, Kan., Jan. 23.—(UP)—Bob Brady, co-leader of seven desperadoes who escaped Friday from the Kansas state prison at Lansing, lay in a morgue here today, his body riddled with police bullets.

Four of his convict companions were back at Lansing, in solitary confinement. Oklahoma authorities pushed search for the remaining two.

Brady was killed and Tommy McMahon, Fred Cody and Kenneth Young were captured in a gun battle late yesterday between Miami county officers and the fugitives. Charles Clifton McArthur, also known as Claude Newton, was arrested in Kansas City, Mo., Sunday.

LOVER LOOKS ON AS GIRL KILLS SELF

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A wealthy Arizona creamery man who allegedly watched a former sweetheart kill herself because he joked her about being unfaithful to him, was to be questioned today in the death of Miss Gretchen Gill, 35-year-old former Spokane society girl.

Police said D. E. Webster of Phoenix would be asked to repeat his story that he witnessed the suicide and then delayed for several hours before reporting it to officers.

The nude body of the victim was found last night in the bedroom of her home. Death had resulted from a single bullet wound in the heart.

COMMITTEE VOTES OUT VINSON BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The White House naval affairs committee today voted unanimously to report favorably the Vinson bill, which would build the U. S. fleet up to treaty limits.

In an effort to speed action, committee members said an effort would be made to attach the bill as a rider to the regular naval appropriation bill which was being debated in the house today.

The committee's action came after Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, declared failure to build the fleet to treaty strength endangered the safety of this nation.

SEEKING WYNEKOOP RELEASE ON BAIL

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Attorneys for Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, suspected slayer of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, announced today they would seek her release on bail. A trial of murder charges against the woman physician was declared a mistrial yesterday.

Judge Joseph B. David arranged the mistrial declaration after a committee of physicians reported to him that continuance of the trial presented the danger of Dr. Wynekoop's death from heart disease.

FARLEY READY TO RESIGN AS BOURBON CHIEF

Other Resignations From National Committee to Come Soon, Revealed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's drive to separate government affairs from the affairs of political parties gained ground of its own momentum today, with further resignations expected from the Democratic national committee.

The expectation was based on a disclosure that members of the committee who also hold federal office must give up one post or the other. The chairman and vice chairman and five committeemen are in this class.

Postmaster General Farley is ready to retire from the chairmanship when a suitable successor is found.

The plans of the others are unknown. They are Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming, vice chairman and director of the mint; W. W. Julian, Ohio committeeman and treasurer of the United States; W. M. Howes, South Dakota committeeman and first assistant postmaster general; Horatio Abbott, Michigan committeeman and internal revenue collector at Detroit; Dudley Doollittle, Kansas committeeman and manager of the Wichita Federal Land bank; and Jed C. Adams, Texas committeeman and member of the board of tax appeals.

Five senators—McAdoo, Calif., Long, La., O'Mahoney, Wyo., Byrd, Va., and McKellar, Tenn.—also hold membership on the committee. Farley said it was "up to them" whether they resigned.

Senator Byrnes revealed he had administration support for his bill to prevent members of congress from going before government departments to influence action on claims, contracts and awards.

ROSCOE TURNER TO RACE TO AUSTRALIA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, holder of transcontinental speed records, will compete in an air race from London to Australia next October if he can find a backer, he told the United Press today.

Turner returned last night from New York City where he conferred with a group of sportsmen who may sponsor his entry, he said. He said he anticipated he would be able to make a formal announcement of his entry within a few weeks.

FAVORABLE REPORT IS SENT SENATE

Two Year Limitation is Placed on Operations of Stabilization Funds

BOARD ALSO CREATED

Believed, However, Amendments Will Be Killed By Action of Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The senate banking and currency committee today voted a favorable report on the Roosevelt gold program but approved amendments designed to limit broad powers of the bill and to place it on an emergency rather than on a permanent basis.

The committee's action was taken after a prolonged session in which those advocating the changes in the bill as it passed the house were successful in two out of three efforts.

One amendment adopted by the committee would place a two year limitation on operations of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund which the bill would create.

Another amendment, proposed by Senator Glass, Dem., Va., and approved by a vote of 12 to 8 would set up a board of five to supervise management of the $2,000,000,000 fund instead of giving Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau sole control over it.

Glass and Senators McAdoo, Dem., Calif., and Gore, Dem., Okla., joined with the republican members of the committee to obtain approval of the amendments.

It was believed likely the democratic leadership would be able to defeat these amendments and restore the bill to its original form during senate consideration if President Roosevelt desired.

No changes were made in the basic features of the measure providing for seizure of the federal reserve banks' $3,500,000,000 of gold and for revaluation of the dollar at between 50 and 60 per cent of its old gold content.

McAdoo sought an amendment

VANDERGRIFT TO ACT IN H. B. OIL WASTE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Agreeing with charges of Claude C. Brown, state gas administrator, that 57 per cent of the gas resources of the Huntington Beach oil fields are blown into the air, Dan Blood, director of the state department of natural resources, said today that steps would be taken in the immediate future to curtail this "unreasonable wastage."

Blood said he planned conferences with Rolland Vandergrift, director of finance, and Governor Rolph to determine what course should be followed in stopping the waste of natural gas.

"I had hopes that the series of suits instituted by Vandergrift to settle the controversy over the tapping of oil and gas from state-owned tidelands would also settle the question of waste," Blood said.

"If the matter cannot be adjudicated with the operators, some other action will be necessary."

CHARGES REED FILIBUSTERED SENATE RESOLUTION UNTIL MAIL CONTRACT BIDS OPENED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Senator Reed, Repn., Pa., was filibustered today as "heavy" the senate resolution to hold mail contract awards until bids on a contract had been opened at the post office department. The testimony was by A. J. Ball, foreign traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Ball testified before a senate committee investigating ocean and air mail contracts.

Ball's testimony was given after he said that efforts were made to rush through formation of the Philadelphia Mail Steamship company in which the Pennsylvania railroad was to be a major stockholder.

The Reed "filibuster" was conducted March 1, Ball said, while he and others sat in the senate gallery.

The Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio and the Reading railroad, Ball said, planned to form the line and purchase two shipping board vessels from the International Mercantile Marine company. The purchase contract was to have been signed February 28. On the way to Washington, Ball said he and his associates read an account of the senate resolution being offered which would prohibit awards of the March 1 contracts until an opportunity was had to study them.

On arriving, Ball said, he called Reed's office and succeeded finally in reaching him.

Reed said, the witness testified, that he would prevent action on the resolution until after the bids had been opened. They were opened at noon and at 12:30 p. m. the resolution was adopted.

The resolution subsequently was sent to Chairman O'Connor of the shipping board. The contract never went into effect.

Ball described Postmaster General Brown's insistence that an arrangement be made with the American-Hampton Roads line governing operations out of Norfolk. These arrangements finally were made and efforts made to get the mail contracts rushed through.

Brown protested, Ball said, that it would be embarrassing to him to attempt to push the arrangement through. He fell in line with their plan, however, Ball added.

"What was Mr. Brown's stock interest in the Pennsylvania at that time?" Black asked.

"I don't know about that," the witness answered.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A new banking scandal, Royalist and Communist riots, a virtual state of siege throughout the capital, and a momentous meeting of parliament combined today to give a smashing climax to the crisis arising out of the Stavisky financial collapse.

More than 700 agitators, a majority of fiery young Royalists devoted to the pretender, Duke of Guise, were under arrest after all-night scenes that recalled the disturbances of the old Commune.

For hours, reforming in valiant bands after being dispersed by the police, these young "Camelots Du Roi", the Royalist fighting corps, stormed the boulevards, building impromptu barricades against traffic, tearing up iron manholes, and throwing billboards, benches and sewer lids into obstructive piles in the streets.

Police maintained heavy forces around the chamber of deputies, the senate, the Hotel De Ville and other public buildings.

The arrest of the banker, Georges Alexandre, who was held on a charge of issuing 50,000,000 francs worth of obligations on which he is said to have retained a commission of 10,000,000 francs, provided another sensation.

While Alexandre was giving himself up, another banker, Charles Neuberger, was arrested on charges of running a client shop and defrauding his clients of 4,000,000 francs.

The demonstrations were timed to arouse public opinion on the eve of today's debate in the chamber when Premier Camille Chautemps may be threatened by a coalition of the right center and Socialists, demanding more drastic treatment of the Stavisky bank scandal.

Other Resignations From National Committee to Come Soon, Revealed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's drive to separate government affairs from the affairs of political parties gained ground of its own momentum today, with further resignations expected from the Democratic national committee.

The expectation was based on a disclosure that members of the committee who also hold federal office must give up one post or the other. The chairman and vice chairman and five committeemen are in this class.

Postmaster General Farley is ready to retire from the chairmanship when a suitable successor is found.

The plans of the others are unknown. They are Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming, vice-chairman and director of the mint; W. W. Julian, Ohio committeeman and treasurer of the United States; W. M. Howes, South Dakota committeeman and first assistant postmaster general; Horatio Abbott, Michigan committeeman and internal revenue collector at Detroit; Dudley Doollittle, Kansas committeeman and manager of the Wichita Federal land bank; and Jed C. Adams, Texas committeeman and member of the board of tax appeals.

Five senators—McAdoo, Calif.; Long, La.; O'Mahoney, Wyo.; Byrd, Va.; and McKellar, Tenn.—also hold membership on the committee. Farley said it was "up to them" whether they resigned.

Senator Byrnes revealed he had administration support for his bill to prevent members of congress from going before government departments to influence action on claims, contracts and awards.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, holder of transcontinental speed records, will compete in an air race from London to Australia next October if he can find a backer, he told the United Press today.

Turner returned last night from New York City where he conferred with a group of sportsmen who may sponsor his entry, he said. He said he anticipated he would be able to make a formal announcement of his entry within a few weeks.

ROSCOE TURNER TO RACE TO AUSTRALIA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The White House naval affairs committee today voted unanimously to report favorably the Vinson bill, which would build the U. S. fleet up to treaty limits.

In an effort to speed action, committee members said an effort would be made to attach the bill as a rider to the regular naval appropriation bill which was being debated in the house today.

The committee's action came after Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, declared failure to build the fleet to treaty strength endangered the safety of this nation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The White House naval affairs committee today voted unanimously to report favorably the Vinson bill, which would build the U. S. fleet up to treaty limits.

In an effort to speed action, committee members said an effort would be made to attach the bill as a rider to the regular naval appropriation bill which was being debated in the house today.

FAVORABLE REPORT IS SENT SENATE

Two Year Limitation is Placed on Operations of Stabilization Funds

BOARD ALSO CREATED

Believed, However, Amendments Will Be Killed By Action of Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The senate banking and currency committee today voted a favorable report on the Roosevelt gold program but approved amendments designed to limit broad powers of the bill and to place it on an emergency rather than on a permanent basis.

The committee's action was taken after a prolonged session in which those advocating the changes in the bill as it passed the house were successful in two out of three efforts.

One amendment adopted by the committee would place a two year limitation on operations of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund which the bill would create.

Another amendment, proposed by Senator Glass, Dem., Va., and approved by a vote of 12 to 8 would set up a board of five to supervise management of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund.

Glass and Senators McAdoo, Dem., Calif., and Gore, Dem., Okla., joined with the republican members of the committee to obtain approval of the amendments. It was believed likely the democratic leadership would be able to defeat these amendments and restore the bill to its original form during senate consideration if President Roosevelt desired.

No changes were made in the basic features of the measure providing for seizure of the federal reserve banks' $3,600,000,000 of gold and for revaluation of the dollar at between 50 and 60 per cent of its old gold content.

VANDEGRIFT TO ACT IN H. B. OIL WASTE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Agreeing with charges of Claude C. Brown, state gas administrator, that 57 per cent of the gas resources of the Huntington Beach oil fields are blown into the air, Dan Vandegrift, director of the state department of natural resources, said today that steps would be taken in the immediate future to curtail this "unreasonable wastage."

Blood said he planned conferences with Rolland Vandegrift, director of finance, and Governor Rolph to determine what course should be followed in stopping the waste of natural gas.

"I had hoped that the series of suits instituted by Vandegrift to settle the controversy over the tapping of oil and gas from state-owned tidelands would also settle the question of waste," Blood said.

"If the matter cannot be adjudicated with the operators, some other action will be necessary."

gram temporarily. Some in congress favor a larger appropriation. Hopkins also is expected to seek work, although he believes that in the spring, farming, seasonal in the north, and the PWA, should absorb about 5,000,000 of the 8,000,000 persons now on relief lists.

Approximately 3,000,000 of the total were described as "floaters," having been unemployed in the boom period of 1929.

ONE IS RELEASED FROM COUNTY JAIL

Mrs. Emily Paddieford, held in the Orange county jail since Saturday on a conspiracy charge in connection with the CWA investigation, posted a $5000 bail bond and was released yesterday. Miss Loretta Hasker, 24, arrested with the other woman, was expected to post similar bail sometime today.

GOLD RESERVE BILL AMENDED IN COMMITTEE

which would permit the reserve banks to retain half of their gold, but he was defeated.

Senator Fess, Repn., O., on the senate floor attacked the ethics of devaluation as it concerns debts owed by the United States to other nations.

Fess termed as "dishonest" any legislation which would provide for such devaluation and subsequent issuance of greenbacks. "This would be flat money," he said, "and this percentage of the debt would be repudiated. Such legislation is a dishonest proposal when applied to contracts already made."

"The question is not what percentage should be devaluated, but should we devalue at all?" An amendment by Chairman Fletcher to strike out of the house bill the provision requiring a report to congress on the stabilization operations was passed without a record vote. However, Fletcher explained that any report made by the secretary to the president would be available to members of congress.

The time limit on the stabilization fund was sponsored by Glass and carried by a vote of 12 to 8. Under that amendment, the stabilization feature of the bill would be in operation for two years or less, but the president would be empowered to extend it for a third year.

By a vote of 11 to 8, the committee adopted an amendment by Senator Bulkeley, Dem., Ohio, which would give the president two years in which to accomplish devaluation, with an extension of one year if necessary.

An amendment by Senator Mc-

Adoo, Dem., Calif., to have the government take its gold profit in the form of a franchise tax was defeated, 11 to 9. It was the first test of the day and found administration forces lined up strongly against Republicans who had the support of Glass and Gore.

The committee defeated eight to six, a proposal by Gore to limit gold purchases. His amendment would have forced the treasury to buy gold at a fixed price after the stabilization operations had been accomplished.

EQUIPMENT FOR RADIO STATION ORDERED SET UP

Authority to sign the contract of Williams and Kientz, agents for the Western Electric in Santa Ana, for installation of equipment of the Orange county police radio station, was given Chairman Willard Smith by the board of supervisors today. The contract to purchase the equipment from Williams and Kientz had been signed.

Following signing of the contract it was announced that work of installing the equipment would start immediately. Work of installing the tower already has started.

It also was indicated that during the afternoon session of the board the matter of who will have charge of the station will be decided.

On motion of Supervisor George Jeffrey the board authorized the firm of O'Melveny, Tuller and Meyers to pass on the validity of the recently approved Harbor Bond issue and the act under which the district was created.

JAPANESE MINISTER IN PACIFIC SPEECH

TOKIO, Jan. 23.—(UP)—No problem exists between the United States and Japan that is not capable of solution, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota declared today in his address to the Japanese diet.

In a speech regarded as extremely pacific in tone, Hirota reviewed the events of the past year in Manchukuo, the Japanese withdrawal from the league of nations, and the Japanese-American position in the far east.

"Far from having any thought of picking a quarrel with America, Japan fervently desires American friendship," he said.

He expressed regret that "the Soviet union should now take to broadcasting, at home and abroad, through the press and other channels, unwarranted criticisms directed against Japan, and circulate exaggerated stories . . . for political and diplomatic purposes."

VALENCIA TO BE SCENE OF MILITARY BALL

Definite choice of Valencia Ballroom as the setting for the 1934 version of the Jack Fisher ball on February 22, was made last night at an informal meeting called by Major Earl B. Hawks, commander of Jack Fisher chapter D. A. V., in the A. G. Flagg home, 1320 North Broadway.

When the affair was held in Valencia ballroom last year, approval of the choice was so general that there seemed little argument this year regarding a place. Centrally located so that it is of easy access from any section of the county, so spacious as to allow for ease in dancing regardless of the size of the crowd and also for the fine maneuvers executed by the Legion Drum Corps, and lending itself well to military decorations, the ballroom seems unusually well adapted to the purpose of the committee. It was announced.

Different cities in the county sent representatives to confer with the Disabled Veterans last night, and promise their full co-operation in working for the success of the ball. Members to the Citizens' committee will be appointed soon to serve from the various communities, according to Major Hawks.

Pressing needs among Disabled Veterans of the World War make this year's ball of the utmost importance, according to the chapter commander, who has reminded the public that all the money realized from the annual event, goes to the aid and support of deserving heroes of the war, and is the only public appeal made each year by the organization.

In addition the ball serves as a memorial to the late Jack Fisher, Santa Ana hero for whom the Orange county D. A. V. chapter was named, and who planned the first Military ball in 1929.

Court Notes

Stephen Ingley, 30, charged with grand theft in connection with asserted orange stealing in Anaheim, was sentenced to pay $100 or serve 60 days in jail by Judge Charles Kuchel of Anaheim yesterday. Ingley and a 15-year-old boy were arrested Sunday night.

Oliver W. Holmes, charged with non-support of minor children, was arraigned in justice court yesterday, entered a plea of not guilty and had his hearing set for February 1 at 9 a. m. He was released by Judge Kenneth Morrison without bail.

Angelo Ochoa, of Los Angeles, charged with petty theft after being arrested for shoplifting Saturday, pleaded guilty and was committed to the county jail for 30 days by Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

E. B. Webster was committed to the county jail for 60 days yesterday by Judge J. G. Mitchell after pleading to an intoxication charge.

Adel Vanderbulck, 46, Westminister, started serving a 30-day sentence for drunkenness last night at the county jail after concluding a 90-day term for disturbing the peace. He was committed to the jail by Judge Kenneth Morrison to serve the two sentences consecutively.

Juan Ydearte, 30, and E. Garcia, Fullerton, entered the county jail yesterday to serve five-day sentences for intoxication imposed by Judge Frank Tausch of Anaheim.

Sentenced to serve six months jail with three years' probation to follow on a charge of manslaughter, Charles Lipscombe, 39, Talbert, booked himself at the county jail yesterday. He came before the superior court last week on the charge.

EDITOR REGISTER

DEAR SIR: A recent issue of the paper contained an article commending the manner in which the business men of Santa Ana have supported the N.R.A. and telling of their voluntary decision to continue to do so. Sounds fine, and being of an optimistic turn of mind which prefers building to knocking, I should be glad to believe it true.

However, I am wondering how many cases like ours are scattered throughout our fair city. A husband went back to work with the advent of the N.R.A. and the men were assured in no uncertain terms that the management would "stand by the N.R.A. regardless of cost." Then, after a few months, during which the code regarding the wage minimum was utterly disregarded, the company laid off men because business was dull.

Just what was meant by "regardless of cost" I do not know, but they evidently did not mean money cost, for to save a few extra dollars, these families were deprived of their only income.

It is sheer tragedy that the plans of our great-hearted President for human welfare should go amiss because of individual greed.

Let us hope the day will come when the accumulation of money will not be the measure of success in our land.

FEDERAL FUNDS FOR BEACH SCHOOL, PLAN

Facilities for a far greater number of pupils than the 160 now enrolled at Tustin and Newport Beach will be required when a four-year course is established in Laguna Beach, according to a survey made by J. B. Ely and submitted yesterday to the Laguna Beach Board of Education. Ely, who has organized several high school districts and colleges in California, was employed by the board several months ago. Mrs. A. B. Collins, president of the board, said today that the report shows many families who own homes in Laguna Beach and spend the summers there would make their homes in the beach city if high school courses were offered.

The report takes into consideration the experiences of a number of high school districts which showed immediate increased attendance over normal expectancy. The survey will be turned over immediately to Andrew P. Hill, former architect for the state department of education, who is acting in an advisory capacity to the board. An effort will be made, Mrs. Collins said, to secure federal funds for the construction of any new building or facilities that may be required to establish the high school here by September. The board president said the full report of the survey will not be made public until a definite plan has been submitted by Hill.

ing to accede to the wishes of the abductors. The "D. O. C." initials were believed to mean that the family wished to pay the ransom on delivery of Bremer. The initials were to be reversed to read C. O. D. or cash on delivery.

There was considerable activity in the neighborhood of the Bremer family mansion overlooking the Mississippi river. Mysterious callers came and went several times during the night. It was reported that the ransom money had been taken from a vault in the American National bank, Adolf Bremer's leading bank in a chain of stores, and conveyed to the Minneapolis municipal airport. Several planes left the airport during the night.

Suspect Held Police arrested and held one suspect in the case. After questioning a disbarred attorney and releasing him, they brought in a middle-aged man with a scarred face. This man was questioned in the detective bureau for several hours, then placed in a cell. Extra guards were stationed about the cell-block.

Police refused to reveal what charges would be placed against him. They denied that the man was Verne Sankey, notorious renegade and suspected kidnaper. The rumors that the suspect was Sankey occurred after federal agents appeared to aid in the questioning.

Bremer had been held almost a week. He was abducted last Wednesday morning about 8:30 after he had driven his daughter, Betty, 8, to school and was on his way to the Commercial State bank, of which he is president.

His absence was first discovered after Walter Magee, a contractor and close friend, received a telephone call and note saying that Bremer had been kidnapped. The note demanded $200,000 ransom in small bills.

WORKER FROM CHINA TO SPEAK TO CLUB

Tom M. Elliott, of Amoy, China, will talk on the subject, "The Oriental Triangle" as the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of Santa Ana Kiwanis club tomorrow noon in James' cafe. It was announced today by Secretary Fred Crowell.

The speaker has been a Y. M. C. A. secretary at Amoy, China, and has held several public offices there, having been the mayor of the city at one time. He will be introduced by J. P. Baumgartner, program chairman of the day.

Picnics and Reunions

SOUTH DAKOTA The annual South Dakota mid-winter picnic will be held at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, January 28. It was announced today by Beaton E. Anderson, president of the South Dakota State society. All former residents are requested to attend.

MARTIN COUNTY Former residents of Martin county, Minnesota, will hold a picnic in Birch park, Santa Ana, next Sunday, January 28.

KANSAS Kansas Day will be observed by the Kansas Society of Long Beach at Sixty park, on Monday, January 29, 1934, with a picnic rally. Mayor Frank Shaw of Los Angeles, Mayor Ray Dickey of Inglewood, and Supervisor Hugh Thatcher of Los Angeles, all of whom spent their boyhood days in the Jayhawker state, will speak at the afternoon program commencing at 1:30 o'clock. Long Beach officials also will take part in the program.

ATTORNEY GOES ON TRIAL ON LICENSE COUNT OF CONFERENCE

Watched with interest by California lawyers and city officials, the jury trial of Frank E. Santa Ana, attorney, charged with violation of the city license ordinance, started in the Santa Ana police court this morning.

At the request of Ey, Judge J. G. Mitchell voluntarily disqualified himself for the trial and Judge A. W. Swayze, Orange justice of the peace, is presiding at the hearing. Mitchell explained that he was supporting the campaign of the city council to enforce the license ordinance and might be influenced in the case. Ey is contending that it is unnecessary for him to pay a city business license as an attorney because he already pays a state license as an attorney. When he failed to pay his delinquent license, he was arrested on the order of City Clerk Ed Vegely and brought into court. Pleading not guilty, he demanded a jury trial.

It is understood that Ey will carry his case to higher courts if given a negative decision here. If he is found not guilty, it is expected that attorneys throughout the state will use the decision to refuse paying city licenses, and the case may apply to other professions.

Witnesses who testified this morning were Police Officer Charles W. Wolford, City Clerk Ed Vegely, County Clerk Joe Backs and Judge J. G. Mitchell. Ey is being defended by Attorney Edgar C. Fee of Los Angeles while City Attorney Clyde Downing is prosecuting.

The jury panel consists of R. V. Cox, Jessie E. White, Gertrude E. Minor, John W. Norton, Lowell G. Robbins, E. C. McKinstry, Jeanette E. Fall, F. H. Cloyes, Abbey Lowe, Mildred Weisgerber, Elizabeth C. Bray and P. H. Norton.

HUSBAND SUED FOR DIVORCE BY MINOR

Mrs. Yukiye Iida, 18, has filed suit in superior court for divorce from her husband Shigetoe Iida, charging him with non-support. Because Mrs. Iida is a minor the suit was filed on her behalf by her father, Kintsuchi Shiotani.

According to the complaint the couple married in Los Angeles March 7, 1930, and separated the following November 4. They are the parents of a daughter whose custody is sought by the mother, the father having signed a property agreement by which he will contribute $10 monthly for support of the child.

LIQUOR LAWS TO BE SUBJECT OF CONFERENCE

Representing Santa Ana, Orange and possibly several other larger Orange county cities, Mayor Clyde Watson will go to San Francisco to attend a meeting Thursday of city and county officials on the question of the control of taxes and policies on the new liquor laws.

Santa Ana councilmen were unanimous that some change should be made in the current situation when it was learned from Chief of Police Floyd Howard that he had instructed his force not to make arrests for possession of liquor or similar offenses because there is no way under existing laws to secure convictions. The only statutes being enforced locally are those regarding intoxication, drunken driving and selling liquor without a license.

At the council meeting yesterday, the Santa Ana trustees decided that instead of going to the expense of sending a Santa Ana man to the conference, this city would share the expenses of sending Watson, who had previously signified his intention of making the trip.

It was understood that District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Sheriff Logan Jackson were going to make the trip but the officials expressed doubt this morning as to whether they would go. Sheriff Jackson said that the unrest among the fumigators would probably keep him here while Kaufman said he hoped to attend but could not say definitely.

The meeting, called by James B. McSheehy, president of the San Francisco board of supervisors, will be attended by city councilmen, mayors, supervisors, sheriffs, police chiefs and other officials. Among the subjects to be discussed will be the jurisdiction and revenues on the part of cities, local option and local control, the circulating of a petition to amend the constitution to secure equitable distribution of revenue in accordance with the method of control and the repeal of certain amendments to the liquor laws.

was found that they were being paid fair wages. Workers of this company earn about 70 or 75 cents every 45 minutes, it was stated. R. L. Noble, of Garden Grove, had no trouble with his employees, he reported.

Officials of the Orange County Fumigating company, of Orange, refused to give out any information concerning whether or not their workmen had struck, but reports from other sources said they had been involved in the strike last night.

Strikers visited rigs operated by the Relf and Brock company, of Orange, took tent poles away and stood on tents to prevent continuance of fumigating operations. The company pays employees about 55 cents for 45 minutes work and extra for pull-offs, it was stated by employees of the firm.

The strikers were reported to have visited rigs operated by the Frances Citrus association of the San Joaquin ranch, although reports of trouble were denied by association officials.

Sheriff Logan Jackson sent deputy sheriffs out to investigate the situation and to prepare for any trouble which might come up tonight. He said that he has received information to the effect that agitators have been working in the county for some time.

Approximately 3,000,000 of the total were described as "floaters," having been unemployed in the boom period of 1929.

Hopkins attributed his trouble with grafters to the speed with which the CWA was launched in November to put 4,000,000 persons to work in 30 days.

GOLD RESERVE BILL AMENDED IN COMMITTEE

"The question is not what percentage should be devaluated, but should we devalue at all?"

An amendment by Chairman Fletcher to strike out of the house bill the provision requiring a report to congress on the stabilization operations was passed without a record vote. However, Fletcher explained that any report made by the secretary to the president would be available to members of congress.

The time limit on the stabilization fund was sponsored by Glass and carried by a vote of 12 to 8. Under that amendment, the stabilization feature of the bill would be in operation for two years or less, but the president would be empowered to extend it for a third year.

By a vote of 11 to 8, the committee adopted an amendment by Senator Bulkley, Dem., Ohio, which would give the president two years in which to accomplish devaluation, with an extension of one year if necessary.

An amendment by Senator Mc-

Adoo, Dem., Calif., to have the government take its gold profit in the form of a franchise tax was defeated, 11 to 9. It was the first test of the day and found administration forces lined up strongly against Republicans who had the support of Glass and Gore.

The committee defeated, eight to six, a proposal by Gore to limit gold purchases. His amendment would have forced the treasury to buy gold at a fixed price after the stabilization operations had been accomplished.

Without a record vote, the committee rejected another Gore amendment to prevent the government from taking title and ownership of gold in reserve banks, and an amendment by Senator Kean, Repn., N. J., to set the devaluation range A from 65 to 70 cents.

EQUIPMENT FOR RADIO STATION ORDERED SET UP

Authority to sign the contract of Williams and Kientz, agents for the Western Electric in Santa Ana, for installation of equipment of the Orange county police radio station, was given Chairman Willard Smith by the board of supervisors today.

The contract to purchase the equipment from Williams and Kientz had been signed.

Following signing of the contract it was announced that work of installing the equipment would start immediately. Work of installing the tower already has started.

It also was indicated that during the afternoon session of the board the matter of who will have charge of the station will be decided.

On motion of Supervisor George Jeffrey the board authorized the firm of O'Melveny, Tuller and Meyers to pass on the validity of the recently approved Harbor Bond issue and the act under which the district was created.

Long Beach officials also will take part in the program.

FEDERAL FUNDS FOR BEACH SCHOOL, PLAN

Facilities for a far greater number of pupils than the 150 now enrolled at Tustin and Newport Beach will be required when a four-year course is established in Laguna Beach, according to a survey made by J. B. Ely and submitted yesterday to the Laguna Beach board of education. Ely, who has organized several high school districts and colleges in California, was employed by the board several months ago. Mrs. A. B. Collins, president of the board, said today that the report shows many families who own homes in Laguna Beach and beyond the summers there would make their homes in the beach city if high school courses were offered. The report takes into consideration the experiences of a number of high school districts which show an immediate increase in attendance over normal expectancy. The survey will be turned over immediately to Andrew P. Hill, former architect for the state department of education, who is acting in an advisory capacity to the board. An effort will be made, Mrs. Collins said, to secure federal funds for the construction of any new building or facilities that may be required to establish the high school here by September. The board president said the full cost of the school would be made public until a definite plan has been submitted by Hill.

EARLY RELEASE OF BANKER'S NOW PREDICTED

ing to accede to the wishes of the abductors. The "D. O. C." initials were believed to mean that the family wished to pay the ransom on delivery of Bremer. The initials were to be reversed to read C. O. D. or cash on delivery.

There was considerable activity in the neighborhood of the Bremer family mansion overlooking the Mississippi river. Mysterious callers came and went several times during the night. It was reported that the ransom money had been taken from a vault in the American National bank. Adolph Bremer, leading bank in a chain owned by him and his brother, Otto, and conveyed to the Minneapolis municipal airport. Several planes left the airport during the night.

Suspect Held

Police arrested and held one suspect in absence of questioning a disbarred attorney and releasing him, they brought in a middle-aged man with a scarred face. This man was questioned in the detective bureau for several hours, then placed in a cell. Extra guards were stationed about the cell-block.

Police refused to reveal what charges would be placed against him. They denied that the man was Verne Sankey, notorious renegade and suspected kidnaper. The rumors that the suspect was Sankey occurred after federal agents appeared to aid in the questioning.

Bremer had been held almost a week. He was abducted last Wednesday morning about 8:30 after he had driven his daughter, Betty, 8, to school and was on his way to the Commercial State bank of which he is president.

His absence was first discovered after Walter Magee, a contractor and close friend, received a telephone call and note saying that Bremer had been kidnapped. The note demanded $200,000 ransom in small bills.

HUSBAND SUED FOR DIVORCE BY MINOR

Mrs. Yukiye Iida, 18, has filed suit in superior court for divorce from her husband Shigetoe Iida, charging him with non-support. Because Mrs. Iida is a minor the suit was filed on her behalf by her father, Knitsuchi Shiotani.

According to the complaint the couple married in Los Angeles March 7, 1929, and separated the following November 4. They are the parents of a daughter whose custody is sought by the mother, the father having signed a property agreement by which he will contribute $10 monthly for support of the child.

ATTORNEY GOES ON TRIAL ON LICENSE COUNT

Watched with interest by California lawyers and city officials, the jury trial of Frank Ey, Santa Ana attorney, charged with violation of the city license ordinance, started in the Santa Ana police court this morning.

At the request of Ey, Judge J. G. Mitchell voluntarily disqualified himself for the trial and Judge A. W. Swayze, Orange justice of the peace, is presiding at the hearing. Mitchell explained that he was supporting the campaign of the city council to enforce the license ordinance and might be influenced in the case.

Ey is contending that it is unnecessary for him to pay a city business license as an attorney because he already pays a state license as an attorney. When he failed to pay his delinquent license, he was arrested on the order of City Clerk Ed Vegely and brought into court. Pleading not guilty, he demanded a jury trial.

It is understood that Ey will carry his case to higher courts if given a negative decision here. If he is found not guilty, it is expected that attorneys throughout the state will use the decision to refuse paying city licenses, and the case may apply to other professions.

Witnesses who testified this morning were Police Officer Charles W. Wolford, City Clerk Ed Vegely, County Clerk Joe Backs and Judge J. G. Mitchell. Ey is being defended by Attorney Edgar C. Fee of Los Angeles while City Attorney Clyde Downing is prosecuting.

The jury panel consists of R. V. Cox, Jessie E. White, Gertrude E. Minor, John W. Norton, Lowell G. Robbins, E. C. McKinstry, Jeanette E. Fall, F. H. Cloyes, Abbey Lowe, Mildred Weisgerber, Elizabeth C. Bray and P. H. Norton.

LIQUOR LAWS TO BE SUBJECT OF CONFERENCE

Representing Santa Ana, Orange and possibly several other larger Orange county cities, Mayor Clyde Watson will go to San Francisco to attend a meeting Thursday of city and county officials on the question of the control of taxes and policies on the new liquor laws.

Santa Ana councilmen were unanimous that some change should be made in the current situation when it was learned from Chief of Police Floyd Howard that he had instructed his force not to make arrests for possession of liquor or similar offenses because there is no way under existing laws to secure convictions. The only statutes being enforced locally are those regarding intoxication, drunken driving and selling liquor without a license.

At the council meeting yesterday, the Santa Ana trustees decided that instead of going to the expense of sending a Santa Ana man to the convocation, this city would share the expenses of sending Watson, who had previously signified his intention of making the trip.

It was understood that District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Sheriff Logan Jackson were going to make the trip but the officials expressed doubt this morning as to whether they would go. Sheriff Jackson said that the unrest among the fumigators would probably keep him here while Kaufman said he hoped to attend but could not say definitely.

The meeting, called by James B. McSheehy, president of the San Francisco board of supervisors, will be attended by city councilmen, mayors, supervisors, sheriffs, police chiefs and other officials. Among the subjects to be discussed will be the jurisdiction and revenues on the part of cities, local option and local control, the circulating of a petition to amend the constitution to secure equitable distribution of revenue in accordance with the method of control and the repeal of certain amendments to the liquor laws.

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 23. (To the Editor of The Register:) Our able and amiable Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, returned from a conference, and entered through the front door; our delegates generally climb over the back fence in the dead of night when they get back. If this administration never did another thing, the new deal toward all our neighbors to the south has gained us many friends, and the best friend anyone can have is their neighbors. Give the Philippines their freedom, and take that godfather clause out of our Cuban treaty, and first thing you know we would be called "brother" and not "big brother."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FUMIGATORS OF COUNTY SEEK WAGE INCREASE

was found that they were being paid fair wages. Workers of this company earn about 70 or 75 cents every 45 minutes, it was stated. R. L. Noble, of Garden Grove, had no trouble with his employees, he reported.

Officials of the Orange County Fumigating company, of Orange, refused to give out any information concerning whether or not their workmen had struck, but reports from other sources said they had been involved in the strike last night.

Strikers visited rigs operated by the Reif and Brook company, of Orange, took tent poles away and stood on tents to prevent continuance of fumigating operations. The company pays employees about 55 cents for 45 minutes work and extra for pull-offs, it was stated by employees of the firm.

The strikers were reported to have visited rigs operated by the Frances Citrus association of the San Joaquin ranch, although reports of trouble were denied by association officials.

Sheriff Logan Jackson sent deputy sheriffs out to investigate the situation and to prepare for any trouble which might come up tonight. He said that he has received information to the effect that agitators have been working in the county for some time.

WILL REQUEST SPECIAL SHOWS WORK BE DONE AT 2 THEATERS WITH CWW FUND FOR BIG PARTY

County Superintendent of Highways Nat Neff was authorized this morning by the board of supervisors to prepare application to the CWA for a project including tree planting along 25 miles of state highway in the coast section. Pending decision of the CWA whether labor and trees can be furnished, Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton will investigate the legal phase of the proposal.

It was pointed out that arrangements will have to be made whereby the county will be permitted to maintain the trees planted on a state right-of-way. Decision to ask the CWA to provide labor and trees for planting along the coast route was reached after Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, president of the Coast association and Dr. Spencer Miller, Laguna Beach, president of the Coast Council for Beautification appeared before the board and outlined their plan.

According to their proposal the trees can be planted as a CWA project and the state will take over their maintenance after one year. The county will have to maintain them until they are taken over by the state. To have this state cooperation it was pointed out that the types of trees planted must first be approved by the state arboreturist. Indications are that eucalyptus trees probably will be the most likely to gain approval.

Miller said that for the past six months the council for beautification has been studying types of trees that will thrive in conditions such as prevail in the area to be planted and through recommendations of horticultural experts has prepared a list of such trees for selection. Neff estimated that the cost of maintaining the trees for the first year would approximate $1000 basing the estimate on the planting of 100 trees to the mile along the 25 mile coast highway system.

Menton said that there might be a local obstacle in the way of the county paying for maintenance of trees along a state highway unless specific permission to do this is granted by the state highway commission.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB DINNER POSTPONED

Cancellation of plans for Democratic dinner to be held at the Green Cat cafe on the evening of January 30, to celebrate the birthday of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was announced today by James Davis, chairman of the Orange County Democratic club, the organization sponsoring the event.

Davis said that the dinner event had been cancelled on behalf of the President's Birthday ball to be held here the same night. "The Orange County Democratic club does not want to interfere with the success of the ball and other features planned for that evening and as our speakers have signified their willingness to address a dinner here at some later date we felt that postponement of the affair at this time is essential. We are all working for the success of the birthday ball and for that reason our dinner will be postponed to a date to be announced later," Davis said.

Wife Cites Rings Taken By Store In Divorce Complaint

Alleging that her husband declined to work steadily and that her engagement ring and wedding ring were repossessed soon after the wedding by the jewelry store from which they were purchased, Mrs. Velma Violet Tucker has filed suit in superior court seeking an interlocutory decree of divorce from Robert B. Tucker. They were married November 2, 1932, and separated March 5, last.

According to the complaint Tucker took his wife to the home of his mother in Costa Mesa where they lived until January 1, 1933, when Tucker quarrelled with his mother. After the quarrel she alleged they moved to the home of her mother where they remained until March 5 when her husband deserted her.

THORPE TO BE RESPONSIBILITY SPEAKER FOR OF CHURCH TO WALNUT MEET BE DISCUSSED

With Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers association as one of the principal speakers, plans have been completed for holding the Southern Walnut Growers Institute in Santa Ana, February 10. The institute will be held in the auditorium of Francis Willard Junior High school according to Farm Adviser Harold Wahlberg. The institute is being sponsored by the Inter-county Farm Bureau Walnut department.

The program committee at a recent meeting in Wahlberg's office completed arrangements for the program and accommodations during the institute. The reception committee appointed by J. A. Smiley includes: G. H. Goodwin, Garden Grove; S. M. Badger, San Juan Capistrano; L. E. Smith, Santa Ana; A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana; W. Muckenthaler and R. Porter, Fullerton; O. G. Stith, La Habra; and J. A. Smiley, West Orange.

According to plans announced by Wahlberg the address of welcome will be given at the opening of the morning session by Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors. The morning session will feature cultural subjects and the afternoon session will cover economic and marketing problems.

Thorpe has accepted the committee's invitation to present the latest market development in the sale of California walnuts in both domestic and foreign markets. He recently completed a sales campaign in the largest markets of Europe as well as the Eastern territory of this country and a vivid picture of the possibilities of disposal of the present crop and the future outlook of the industry.

TRIAL DELAYED BY FILING TWO MORE CHARGES

The case of Mrs. Selma Otero of Tustin, scheduled to go to trial before a jury in superior court this morning for the alleged contributing to the delinquency of a minor was delayed through the filing by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner of an amended complaint charging her with three offenses.

Mrs. Otero in the original complaint was charged with contributing to the delinquency of her minor son through the possession, sale and serving of liquor at her home. In the new complaint she is charged with contributing to the delinquency of her son and two daughters. She will be arraigned on the new information Friday morning before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

The amended complaints were filed after Attorney Morris Cain and Nick Meyers, representing Mrs. Otero had filed a demurrer to the original complaint alleging that the complaint did not state a cause of offense. Turner, in court this morning submitted that the demurrer was sustained without leave to amend, and filed the amended complaint.

WILL REQUEST SPECIAL SHOWS WORK BE DONE AT 2 THEATERS WITH CWW FUND FOR BIG PARTY

County Superintendent of Highways Nat Neff was authorized this morning by the board of supervisors to prepare application to the CWA for a project including tree planting along 25 miles of state highway in the coast section. Pending decision of the CWA whether labor and trees can be furnished, Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton will investigate the legal phase of the proposal.

It was pointed out that arrangements will have to be made whereby the county will be permitted to maintain the trees planted on a state right-of-way. Decision to ask the CWA to provide labor and trees for planting along the coast route was reached after Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, president of the Costa Mesa Association and Dr. Spencer Miller, Laguna Beach, president of the Coast Council for Beautification appeared before the board and outlined their plan.

According to their proposal the trees can be planted as a CWA project and the state will take over their maintenance after one year. The county will have to maintain them until they are taken over by the state. To have this state cooperation it was pointed out that the types of trees planted must first be approved by the state arboriculturist. Indications are that eucalyptus trees probably will be the most likely to gain approval. Miller said that for the past six months the council for beautification has been studying types of trees that will thrive in conditions such as prevail in the area to be planted and through recommendations of horticultural experts has prepared a list of trees for selection.

Neff estimated that the cost of maintaining the trees for the first year would approximate $1000 basing the estimate on the planting of 100 trees to the mile along the 25 mile coast highway system. Menton said that there might be a local obstacle in the way of the county paying for maintenance of trees along a state highway unless specific permission to do this is granted by the state highway commission.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB DINNER POSTPONED

Cancellation of plans for Democratic dinner to be held at the Green Cafe on the evening of January 30, as Santa Ana's observance of President Roosevelt's birthday and to raise a permanent endowment fund for the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Davis said that the dinner event had been cancelled on behalf of the President's Birthday ball to be held here the same night. "The Orange County Democratic club does not want to interfere with the success of the ball and other features planned for that evening and as our speakers have signified their willingness to address a dinner here at some later date we felt that postponement of the affair at this time is essential. We are all working for the success of the birthday ball and for that reason our dinner will be postponed to a date to be announced later," Davis said.

THORPE TO BE RESPONSIBILITY SPEAKER FOR OF CHURCH TO WALNUT MEET BE DISCUSSED

With Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers association as one of the principal speakers, plans have been completed for holding the Southern Walnut Growers Institute in Santa Ana, February 10. The institute will be held in the auditorium of Francis Willard Junior High school according to Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg. The institute is being sponsored by the Inter-county Farm Bureau Walnut department.

The program committee at a recent meeting in Wahlberg's office completed arrangements for the program and accommodations during the institute. The committee appointed by J. A. Smiley includes: G. H. Goodrich, Garden Grove; S. M. Bathgate, San Juan Capistrano; L. E. Smith, Santa Ana; A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana; W. Mueckenthaler and R. Porter, Fullerton; O. G. Stith, La Habra; and J. A. Smiley, West Orange.

According to plans announced by Wahlberg the address of welcome will be given at the opening of the morning session by Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors. The morning session will feature cultural subjects and the afternoon session will cover economic and marketing problems.

Thorpe has accepted the committee's invitation to present the latest market development in the sale of California walnuts in both domestic and foreign markets. He recently completed a sales campaign in the largest markets of Europe as well as the Eastern territory of this country and a vivid picture of the possibilities of disposal of the present crop and the future outlook of the industry.

The case of Mrs. Selma Otero of Tustin, scheduled to go to trial before a jury in superior court tomorrow for the alleged contributing to the delinquency of a minor was delayed through the filing by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner of an amended complaint charging her with three offenses.

Mrs. Otero in the original complaint was charged with contributing to the delinquency of her minor son through the possession, sale and serving of liquor at her home. In the new complaint she is charged with contributing to the delinquency of her son and two daughters. She will be arraigned on the new information Friday morning before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

The amended complaints were filed after Attorney M. E. C. Cain and Nick Meyers, representing Mrs. Otero had filed a demurrer to the original complaint alleging that the complaint did not state a public offense. Turner in court this morning stipulated that the demurrer be sustained without leave to amend, and filed the amended complaint.

Wife Cites Rings Taken By Store In Divorce Complaint
Alleging that her husband declined to work steadily and that her engagement ring and wedding ring were repossessed soon after the wedding by the jewelry store from which they were purchased, from which they were purchased, Mrs. Velma Violet Tucker has filed suit in superior court seeking an interlocutory decree of divorce from Robert B. Tucker. They were married November 2, 1932, and separated March 5, last.

According to the complaint Tucker took his wife to the home of his mother in Costa Mesa, where they lived until January 1, 1933, when Tucker quarreled with his mother. After the quarrel she alleged that she moved to the home of her mother where they remained until March 5 when her husband deserted her.

The agricultural adjustment administration, Washington, has been asked to establish in California a branch of the specialty crops section in order to expedite negotiations for marketing agreements for many California crops and have the agreements operative for the 1934 marketing season. This information was obtained by Farm Adviser Harold E. Wahlberg in a recent conference at Berkeley with R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau federation. The request to Washington was made by Blackburn and Alex Johnson, secretary of the federation. Blackburn is now in Washington in connection with this and other problems pertinent to California agriculture.

ARREST SUSPECT IN SAFE ROBBERY CASE

Believed to have knowledge concerning the safe robbery Friday at the offices of the Waste Water Disposal company near Anaheim, Tom Lewis, 32, colored, of Berkeley, was arrested by deputy sheriffs yesterday and booked at the jail on investigation of burglary.

Lewis told officers he found a large checkbook and deposit books taken from the looted safe while walking along a railroad track about a mile from the office. He took them to the station agent in Placenta, he said, and was referred to the Placenta bank where he gave them to the bank officials.

When Lewis came to the water offices yesterday to see if he could secure a small reward for recovering the books, officers were called and he was arrested. Deputy Sheriff Earl Nickles is checking his story on the theory that he may have robbed the safe and then given up the loot to get a reward.

The safe was dragged from the building and the door removed by the burglar. The heavy door is still missing.

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

CRUISING
No one actually believes Mr. Roosevelt is going on that semi-world cruise this spring--except Mr. Roosevelt.

Even the inside crowd thought he was kidding when he talked recently. They refuse to believe the President really intends to go off gallivanting on the sea for six weeks or two months in times like these.

The newsmen thought the idea so preposterous they played the story weakly. Some gave it only a few paragraphs.

The story behind it is of more importance and significance than the headlined gold bill.

PLANS
Preposterous or not, he is going. The navy already is laying plans. He intends to leave within a week or two after congress adjourns.

First, Rio, the Panama Canal, Hawaii, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. He has an idea that he will also go to the Philippines, but he probably will be talked out of that.

That is why the $20,000 traveling allowance of the President was boosted to $50,000 in the budget without explanation.

HINTS
This news means a lot to sharp-eyed business men and Wall Street.

It confirms the idea that Mr. Roosevelt is scheming to get rid of congress sooner than congress now suspects. To do that he will need congress very few legislative ideas to chew on. He will try to hold the program of the session to emergency essentials and appropriations. Further, general form legislation will wait until next year.

The president has an idea that by recommending only a few things he can induce congress to adjourn around April 1. The congressional leaders say June 1, but the president probably knows more about that than they do. It would be too hot to make the southern cruise in June.

SAILING
The plan also confirms the growing suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt is going to let his new deal drift awhile on its present tack.

No important new post-congress developments can be in his mind or he would not be planning such an extensive ocean joy-ride.

The deduction up with the fact that he is going to feed congress very little before it adjourns and you can see the general outlines of his course for at least the next six months.

The inside crowd believes the business improvement tide will carry along until summer. They are confident the economic situation will not need any more presidential hypodermics until then.

FINANCING
Expectations of spring crisis in government financing are fading out already.

Mr. Roosevelt has been much more worried about that question than he has let on. It was supposed to have been the main subject discussed (Saturday) when Federal Reserve bank governors met here.

At that meeting the governors decided to go along with the government financing program in a cooperative manner, inasmuch as Mr. Roosevelt is giving them $9 per cent stabilization of the dollar.

They will be the sales agents for the new billions of government securities.

If they cooperate, we will not have much of a crisis.

RAILS
The New Deal theme could be discerned also in the Eastman railroad report to congress.

That report hardly said anything except that Coordinator Eastman and Mr. Roosevelt had nothing to say now.

The rail situation will be permitted to drift as is, with the railroads laying off men and cutting salaries. It violates the spirit of the New Deal, but apparently the big thinkers of Washington figure it is best to get workers out of that industry into others and put the railroads on a stable basis.

White House was the edict against broadcasting by Roosevelt on the radio.

The most accurate House speech on the gold bill was made by Congressman Reedy who said that no more than 12 House members knew what the bill was all about.

Someday there is going to be a big publicity spurge about what went on inside our delegation at the London Economic conference. At least two delegates have privately written the whole inside truth as they saw it, naming names and spelling out details. Believe it or not, the offstage actions of some of the delegates are said to have been spicily interesting. These privately written manuscripts will not be published for several years at least and perhaps not until some people are dead.

AFFILIATES
Security affiliates of banks may not be required to commit complete suicide after all. Watch for congressional legislation allowing them the privilege of existing provided they confine themselves to federal, state and municipal securities.

This change of heart is linked to the federal financing program. The government has discovered that dealers, who specialize in its securities, can be quite a help.

BOSTON
Specifically there's the First of Boston Corporation--affiliate of the First National of Boston. The bank was just about ready to liquidate the Corporation when the government discovered what was going on and entered an order to stop the liquidation.

Officially Boston was dissolved the market for federal obligations would be noticeably restricted and Treasury authorities are well aware of it.

The point is that this company, along with the Discount Corporation and C. F. Childs and Co. are by all odds the most important market-makers for government issues. The latter have no connection with banks but the Boston outfit is the biggest of the three.

You might ask why the First National Bank couldn't simply swallow its affiliate as a department and continue its business in government securities. Such a course would be perfectly legal. The answer is that the bulk of First of Boston's business is done in New York. It is permissible for the affiliate to maintain a branch here for the purpose but the bank itself cannot do so.

That's why a loophole must be found. But affiliates with speculative intentions needn't prick up their ears. There are few of them left and whatever changes are made in the law won't help them a particle.

To Relieve Catarrh Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from the ear. But the best of all, the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from Walgreens, McCoy Drug or your druggist 1 oz. of (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

ATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

CRUISING

No one actually believes Mr. Roosevelt is going on that semi-world cruise this spring—except Mr. Roosevelt.

Even the inside crowd thought he was spoofing when he talked rather indefinitely about it recently. They refuse to believe the President really intends to go off gallivanting on the sea for six weeks or two months in times like these.

The newsmen thought the idea so preposterous they played the story weakly. Some gave it only a few paragraphs.

The story behind it is of more importance and significance than the headlined gold bill.

PLANS

Preposterous or not, he is going. The navy already is laying plans. He intends to leave within a week or two after congress adjourns. He will certainly visit Puerto Rico, the Panama Canal, Hawaii, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. He has an idea he will also go to the Philippines but he probably will be talked out of that.

That is why the $20,000 traveling allowance of the President was boosted to $25,000 in the budget without explanation.

HINTS

This news means a lot to sharp-eyed business men and Wall Streeters.

It confirms the idea that Mr. Roosevelt is scheming to get rid of congress sooner than congress would expect. To do that he will need congress very few legislative ideas to chew on. He will try to hold the program of the session to emergency essentials and appropriations. Further, general term legislation will wait until next year.

The president has an idea that by recommending only a few things he can induce congress to adjourn around April 1. The congressional leaders say June 1, but the president probably knows more about that than they do. It would be too hot to make the southern cruise in June.

SAILING

The plan also confirms the growing suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt is going to let his new deal drift awhile on its present tack. No important new post-congress developments can be in his mind or he would not be planning such an extensive ocean joy-ride.

The deduction up with the fact that he is going to feed congress very little before it adjourns and you can see the general outlines of his course for at least the next six months.

The inside crowd believes the business improvement tide will carry along until summer. They are confident the economic situation will not need any more presidential hypodermics until then.

FINANCING

Expectations of spring crisis in government financing are fading out already.

Mr. Roosevelt has been much more worried about that question than he has let on. It was supposed to have been the main subject discussed (Saturday) when Federal Reserve bank governors met here.

At that meeting the governors decided to go along with the government financing program in a cooperative manner, inasmuch as Mr. Roosevelt is giving them 80 per cent stabilization of the dollar.

They will be the sales agents for the new billions of government securities.

If they cooperate, we will not have much of a crisis.

RAILS

The New Deal theme could be discerned also in the Eastman railroad report to congress.

That report hardly says anything except that Coordinator Eastman and Mr. Roosevelt had nothing to say now.

The rail situation will be permitted to drift as is, with the railroads laying off men and cutting salaries. It violates the spirit of the New Deal, but apparently the big thinkers of Washington figure it is best to get workers out of that industry into others and put the railroads on a stable basis.

General reorganization legislation will wait until next year.

SMARTNESS

Every Time Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's name was mentioned in the senate gold hearing, Senator Glass interposed with: "And he is not a banker."

The main objection brought out in the senate gold debate was that Morgenthau should not be entrusted with such power because he is a novice in international finance.

Senator Glass and the house objects are all correct. Morgenthau knows little about banking, government finance and foreign exchange. But he is smart enough to know he is no expert and he hires men who are.

For instance, Earle Balleis is supposed to have gone back to New York. His resignation as assistant secretary took effect legally on January 1. Actually he has not given up his job at all. He knows how to handle government financing and Morgenthau is secretly keeping him around for that purpose.

Balleis sat in at the Reserve Board governors meeting on that subject although he was legally a private citizen.

The exchange planing also was done in Morgenthau's name but some expert on the subject (probably Kent) will handle the job.

NOTES

The first sign of irritation Mr. Roosevelt has shown about little things since he has been in the White House was the edit against broadcasting by Roosevelt mimics on the radio.

The most accurate House speech on the gold bill was made by Congressman Reedy who said that no more than 12 House members knew what the bill was all about.

Someday there is going to be a big publicity splurge about what went on inside our delegation at the London Economic conference. At least two delegates have privately written the whole inside truth as they saw it, naming names and spelling out the details of it or not, the offstage actions of some of the delegates are said to have been spicily interesting. These privately written manuscripts will not be published for several years at least and perhaps not until some people are dead.

AFFILIATES
Security affiliates of banks may not be required to commit complete suicide after all. Watch for Congressional legislation allowing them the privilege of existing provided they confine themselves to federal, state and municipal securities.

This change of heart is linked to the federal financing program. The government has discovered that dealers who specialize in its securities can be quite a help.

BOSTON

Specifically there's the First of Boston Corporation—affiliate of the First National of Boston. The bank was just about ready to liquidate the Corporation when the government discovered what was going on and entered an unofficial but timely protest.

First of Boston was dissolved for the market for federal obligations would be noticeably restricted and Treasury authorities are well aware of it.

The point is that this company, along with the Discount Corporation and C. P. Childs and Co., by all odds the most important market-makers for government issues. The two latter have no connection with banks but the Boston outfit is the biggest of the three.

You might ask why the First National Bank couldn't simply swallow its affiliate as a department and continue its business in government securities. Such a course would be perfectly legal.

The answer is that the bulk of First of Boston's business is done in New York. It is permissible for the affiliate to maintain a branch here for the purpose but the bank itself cannot do so.

QUESTIONS

Several of the larger banks are asking their officers and senior employees all manner of embarrassing questions.

The questions concern their personal assets and liabilities. Special emphasis is laid on loans which indicate activity. Those who have been questioned fear the beginning of a drastic wood-in-out process.

More than a few bank officers are still in a funk for sometime. In many cases the banks themselves have taken over these loans and are gradually retiring them by clipping off regular slices from the debtors' pay checks. Bank managements agree it's not a happy state of affairs but they haven't been able to fire the offenders because that would end their chance of collecting.

There will be much stiffer regulation hereafter of the debts bank officers are allowed to conduct. It is possible that even installment buying will be banned and any borrowing except on a real estate mortgage will be cause for dismissal. The change will be in keeping with the New Deal objective of curbing get-rich-quick ambitions among bankers and giving them a professional status but no legislation is needed to bring it about. The banks will take care of it themselves.

COTTON

The recent flurry in cotton is largely traceable to brokers' excitement about the Rankin bill. The bill will provide that all cotton gins must be licensed by the government and will only be allowed to handle two-thirds of their average annual output for the last five years. Insiders understand the bill is pretty sure of passage at this session of Congress.

Local experts predict it will be much more effective in restricting production and boosting prices than any amount of direct dealing with farmers. Therefore there's a rush to board the bandwagon before the real fireworks begin.

Texas farmers are already said to be figuring on sending their surpluses of Mexico for ginning if the bill goes through. Mexico is unlikely to let them get away with it for long.

FRANCE

Parisians with good connections at the Palais Bourbon report the next cabinet crisis will not be the usual routine affair and is closer at hand than most people think. There's much talk among the Deputies about a "government to save the state."

That of course would mean Fascism. Tardieu might head such a combination although the desire for a "new man" is evident throughout the Chamber.

FAVORITISM

Ever since the Peruvian government established its drastic foreign exchange control policy it has been very difficult for American creditors to collect their outstanding balances. Word has just got around Wall Street that a certain large bank has been getting more than preferential treatment and its competitors who didn't get anything are preparing to tip off their friends on Capitol Hill. They want the solons to find out just what the bank in question was justly exempted from in Peruvian law.

UNITED ACTION PLANNED TO GET CWA CONTINUED

United action on the campaign to secure an extension of CWA work in Orange county will probably be one of the main topics of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities to be held Thursday night in the K.P. hall in Tustin.

A. C. Hasenjaeger, new president of the group and Mayor Paul Witmer, Santa Ana representative, indicated that all cities would be asked to join in the movement to send telegrams to state and federal officials, seeking to lengthen the federal work program here.

E. T. Kelsner, regional director of liquor and sales tax, working in conjunction with the board of equalization, will be one of the main speakers to explain the various phases of liquor control. The league is making a strong effort to insure the giving of a share of the liquor taxes to the cities and will be represented at a meeting in San Francisco Friday where the question will be discussed by city and county officials.

Harold Pomeroy, mayor of Southgate and assistant secretary of the California League of Municipalities, will also be a speaker at the meeting. Amendments and discussion of the new by-laws passed at the last meeting will be held.

CONTRACTORS SEND REQUEST TO COUNCIL

Having agreed at a meeting on January 16 to send a copy of a resolution to all public bodies, architects and contractors in the county, the Orange County General Contractors association notified the city council last night of new requests asked by the group.

The motion passed by the builders asked that all contractors, architects and public bodies, when making estimates and bids on work, give the contractors the privilege of submitting a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond for five per cent of the cost of the project. They also asked that in paying for work, 85 per cent of the cost on labor and materials should be made on progressive payments.

Both requests are in accord with practices of the Federal government, the letter stated. George A. Barrows, secretary of the association, wrote the communication. The council filed the request.

CHANGE ZONING ON EL PORTAL STREET

At a point hearing of the city council and planning commission held last night, an application to change zoning on El Portal street to allow the erection of a physician and dental building was passed and put into effect.

At a recent council meeting, W. F. Crodgy applied to have the zoning changed at 124 El Portal, which was formerly residential on the front of the property and business on the rear. By the action last night, the lot is now zoned for special use and will permit the building of the new offices. Crodgy presented an architect's drawing of the proposed structure. He did not announce who would build or occupy the building or when work would start.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."

COUNCIL NOTES

Albert Launer, secretary of the Orange County League of Municipalities, last night requested all members of the city council to attend the meeting of the league to be held Thursday night in the K.P. hall in Tustin.

A taxi drivers' permit was granted last night by the council to Clyde McWhorter, 1210 South Shelton street, on the recommendation of the police commissioner. He will drive for the Broadway Cab company.

Legal technicalities involving the maintenance and construction of a culvert at McFadden and Maple streets were referred by the council to City Attorney Clyde Downing. The Pacific Electric railway assertedly had agreed previously to bear the entire expense but later wrote to the city asking that part of the cost be borne by the city.

Mayor Paul Witmer announced that he would attend the special meetings of the California League of Municipalities in San Francisco on February 10. Witmer is a former state director and is now the incumbent representative from the Orange County League of Municipalities to the state group.

City Judge J. G. Mitchell was given permission by the city council to have the annual picnic of former residents of Martin county, Minnesota, in Birch park next Sunday, January 28.

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Luncheon

1-2 baked Danish squash
1-2 slice bacon for seasoning
1 shirred egg (see directions)
Salad:
1 ring pineapple
1-2 orange, sliced
1 Tbsp. mineral oil mayonnaise
Clear tea, with lemon and saccharine

Calory total 290
This may look like a fussy luncheon if you are dieting, but if you are using the oven for other baking it is rather clever, I think, and a change from the usual diet route.

Prepare the squash for baking, cut the small piece of bacon into shreds and bake in the squash for seasoning. When the squash is tender, take it out, slip an egg into it, over the bacon, dust with salt and pepper, and slip back to cook until the egg is as firm as you like it. While the egg is cooking you can get your salad and pot of tea ready, a place set in a quiet corner, something to read, and there you are... all ready to "invite your soul" to sit back on its spine and have a good time for a few minutes.

Don't you find that fifteen minutes of restful reading and eating, give you a lift on the rest of the day's work? It's likewise a wise thing to remember that no one thanks you for working yourself to death except your husband's second wife.

Maybe I've already told you this, but it will bear repetition: When you make ice box cakes, chocolate ones, use thin slices of dark cake to build the loaf... twice as nice and gooey as lady fingers!

TODAY'S RECIPE

Raisin Pie de Luxe

2 1-2 cups milk
3-4 cup brown sugar
4 Tbsp. cornstarch
2 eggs
1 Tbsp. butter
1 cup seedless raisins

—Contributed Recipe.
Scald 2 cups of milk in a double boiler. Mix sugar and cornstarch together, using the half cup of extra milk to moisten. Add the egg yolks and whip well. Pour this mixture into the hot milk, stir constantly until thick and smooth. Add raisins and butter and beat well. Remove from the fire, add vanilla and pour into a baked pastry shell, spread with the meringue (these 2 egg whites) and bake about 15 minutes in a slow oven. Chill to serve.
Chill the whites to make meringue. Add a pinch of salt, and as they beat to a soft fluff begin adding the sugar, 3 Tbsp. to each white, beating the meringue until it takes on a slick glossy look.

This pie made in the average pie tin, cut in six pieces has a calory value of 350 for each piece, and have they authority! Just

COUNCIL TO HAVE CONTROL OF CITY BAND

Appointing Harry Hanson as advisory chairman of the music committee for the coming year, the city council last night passed a resolution regarding the control of the city band.

For the past year, Hanson has served as band manager with full control of policies, finances, and membership. Under the new agreement, he is named advisory chairman without compensation, and is in virtual authority over the band. All matters of financial policy, bills or contracts, however, must be recommended by Hanson for action by the city council.

Leland Auer, assistant band director at the University of Southern California, has been appointed director of the band by Hanson and the council and is conducting regular rehearsals.

PROTEST AGAINST CATS GETS RESULTS

No further complaints from neighbors will be made concerning the harboring of cats at the home of Mrs. Rose Thurnauer, 323 East Camille street, it was reported to the council last night by Poundmaster Harold Pickering. Mrs. Thurnauer has disposed of all her thirty-odd cats except one, and she has promised to keep her single pet quiet at all times. Pickering said. At the last council meeting and on another occasion, George Allen, 324 East Myrtle street, came before the council and said he was joined by other neighbors in protesting the keeping of so many cats by Mrs. Thurnauer, who also keeps many dogs, it was said. Pickering was ordered to make an investigation by the council.

Blue Wing Gun Club Is Closed

SMELTZER, Jan. 22. — The Blue Wing Gun club which has operated for a number of years, has been closed, the keeper, Mr. Hudson, moving this week to Los Angeles. The club, which was operated by members who reside in Los Angeles, is located just off First street on Bolsa Chica road and adjoins the Westminster Gun club on the north.

A change in keepers of the Sunset Gun club took place this week with the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stels. The new keeper is Buddy Gioia. Mrs. Gioia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gano, of Fullerton, and is known to many here.

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Fortunate indeed is that modern man or woman who does not get nervously upset. Raw, jangled nerves seem, all too often, to be the order of the day.

If nerves are your problem, we suggest a check-up now—on your eating, sleeping, and smoking. Get a fresh slant on your smoking by trying Camels. Much is heard about the tobacco used in various cigarettes. But this is a fact, as any impartial leaf-tobacco expert will tell you:

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

Everywhere you see Camels smoked more and more. People do care about mildness... about good taste... about their nerves. And Camels never get on your nerves... never tire your taste.

Riddle Woods, All-Around
Champion Cowboy, says:

"To have nerves that can take it, I smoke only Camels. I've tried them all but Camels are my smoke! They have a natural mildness, and I like their taste better. Camels do not jangle my nerves, even when I smoke one after another."

CHICAGO BEARS CONSIDER S. A. NIGHT CONTEST

George Halas, "head man" of the Chicago Bears, probably will come here Thursday for a conference with American Legion committee members relative to the proposed appearance of the professional football champions in the Santa Ana Bowl either Jan. 31 or Feb. 7.

At the same time, it was definitely announced that Jim Musick, the big fullback who left Santa Ana to establish a National reputation at U. S. C. and in pro ranks, had agreed to recruit a powerful all-star team to oppose the Bears if Halas and the Legion spokesmen get together on terms.

Musick, home from San Francisco where he played with the Pacific Coast All-Americans against the Bears last Sunday, said he could muster for his lineup such men as Aaron Rosenberg, Erny Picknick, Mel Hein, Nate Barnum, Glen Presnell, "Turk" Edwards and Magner Apsit, about the same team that already has given a good account of itself against the Bears in two games.

It is understood that only a matter of a guarantee is holding up definite announcement of the Santa Ana contest. The Bears are willing to show here but ask a flat sum rather than a percentage of the gate receipts. While satisfied that at popular prices the Bears would draw heavily from all over Orange county, the Legion hesitates to make a guarantee because of the danger of inclement weather. They want Halas to personally investigate the accommodations at the Bowl which seats about 8000 comfortably.

Musick's club is willing to play for a percentage of the "gate."

90,000 EXPECTED TO SEE PITT PLAY S. C.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A chance to revenge two thorough whippings by Southern California teams was thrown into the lap of Dr. Jack Sutherland, Pittsburgh football coach, when the 1934 schedule was made up.

Approximately 90,000 fans will overflow the Pitt stadium to see the Trojans, whose teams easily whipped great Pitt teams in Rose Bowl games in 1930 and 1933.

Both years Sutherland headed his teams westward confident of making a game of it but both times the Trojans romped to victories. In 1930 it was 47-14 and three years later, 35-0.

Some critics blamed Pitt's showing on the heat, others on the team's mental condition and still others on the strenuous train ride. Sutherland made no alibi.

This year, however, the situation will be reversed. The Trojans must come eastward via train and probably encounter weather contrasting sharply with that on the Coast.

The schedule opens with two good Eastern opponents—Washington & Jefferson and West Virginia—which will give Pitt hard games and put the players in condition for the Trojans.

The Gophers of Minnesota come to the stadium the Saturday after Southern California.

The only "breather" on the schedule, Westminster, follows the Gopher game and then Elmer Layden will return to Pittsburgh to show his many friends here what he can do with Notre Dame material.

Following Notre Dame are the Cornhuskers of Nebraska who will meet on their own gridiron Nov. 10 at Lincoln. Pitt then travels to Baltimore for a return game with Navy and closes the season Thanksgiving day against Carnegie Tech, its city rival.

ROSS 7-5 FAVORITE TO DEFEAT PETROLLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Messrs. Sam Pian and Art Winch, co-managers of Lightweight Championship Barney Ross, are negotiating with promoters in three cities to give the Chicago boy a shot at Jimmy McLarin's welter crown if Ross beats Billy Petrolle here tomorrow night.

It will be a bitter blow indeed to the Pian-Winch plans if the ancient "Fargo Express" derails their young Mr. Ross in the scheduled 16-round non-title bout. The odds are 7 to 5 in favor of Barney repeating his Chicago victory of last March over Petrolle, but plenty of Billy's admirers doubt his ability to do so.

Some admirers are confident enough to predict that Old Willyum will crawl out from under his horse blanket and knock the champion among the artichokes before the eighth round.

The great difference of opinion as to the outcome rises from the fact that Billy, the Dutch dynamiter, is entering the ring at about 142 pounds. This is his natural fighting weight. No lightweight ever had the audacity to crawl through the ropes against Petrolle when he was slugging with that poundage behind him.

When Ross took the 16-round decision over him in Chicago, Billy weighed about 135. He claimed the parring down process made him as weak as boarding house soup.

Barney will scale about 137 pounds.

HORSESHOE CHAMP

This smiling fellow is the champion horseshoe pitcher of the country. Alhambra's Theodore Allen, who'll appear in a series of exhibitions at the Santa Ana Horseshoe club tomorrow.

Jack McCord, nationally known sports official, made a speech before a service club at Orange, but what he said "in meeting" wasn't as interesting as some of the revelations he made to friends afterward.

McCord declared the "refereeing racket" isn't what it used to be. Where a few years ago, officials were able to cull from $6000 to $8000 annually out of football and basketball, the pay has been decreased so drastically in most sections of the country that officiating no longer is worth the trouble.

A fellow can make more out of something else.

Other McCord disclosures: He has "worked" 2800 basketball games during his career and at least 800 football contests. . . . His son never will be allowed to play football because the gridiron takes too much out of a young boy. . . . The best place to watch a football game is from behind the goal posts. . . . Some of the leading colleges couldn't exist if it weren't for the revenue from football. . . . Just for a test, he would like to see two spectators, a sports writer and a coach selected to referee one of the big collegiate games.

Perhaps Jack McCord is right in his diagnosis of the decline of the art of officiating, but more than one Orange county coach will tell him the extra money they get from such work is all that gets 'em over the hump. Most every mentor in the section draws at least $10 a week from such employment, and in one week Tus-tin's Bill Cole was able to off-late three games in two days.

His own team drew a bye, so he referred a Friday afternoon game, a Friday night contest here and a Saturday afternoon conflict somewhere else.

Harry Clayton, a towering tackle who made many all-conference teams while at Santa Ana Jaysee two years ago, has followed "Tex" Oliver to Arizona. Clayton has been out of school since '32.

California has entered the bargaining for Art Strancke of the Saints. . . . The most insidious thing of the season is that B-O yell of Brea-Olinda. May-be there's a reason. "Shorty" Smith's men won the football crown. . . . Did you know there isn't a miniature golf course in California?

Night ball babbles: If Billy Feinstein is allowed to operate the Long Beach club without undue pressure from the Aacorns "old guard" there will be a new and colorful contender in the National League this summer.

Feinstein, well known for his connection with Shell Oil ball teams, will add enterprise to the Long Beach franchise which went to Joe Bell and Company. . . . Torrance's hustling first baseman, Walt Wolf, is working up a campaign and may not be joining the champions for the '34 season. . . . Westminster's George Lackaye has signed Catcher "Bono" Koral to replace big Clarry Hapes who won't be home from Mississippi U. until June. Lackaye also will give outfielder Joe Mene another tryout.

Prexy George Peterkin says Earl Morrill's suspension from Santa Ana club. DeBusk says the Lindsay outfit folded up at midseason after a row over umpires. He was one of the two pitching aces of the San Joaquin wheel, Lionel Brown, formerly of Torrance, being the other. . . . Joe Rodgers of Huntington Beach has thrown up his hands in appeal to President Peterkin. Joe says he has been waited on by half the players in the league who think Huntington Beach has jobs for them, and he wants Peterkin to set him right on the course of action he should take. Peterkin has ruled that no manager can talk business with any player who does not have his release. . . . If Long Beach comes back into the league it will get back all its 1932 players, including Pete Osburn and George Murray of Huntington Beach.

ALLEN, KING OF U. S. HORSESHOE PITCHERS, HERE

Three of the ablest American horseshoe pitchers will appear in public exhibitions at the Santa Ana Horseshoe club this week.

The champion tosser of equine brooms in the United States, young Theodore Allen of Alhambra, Cal., will be here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the famed Guy Zimmerman team—Mr. and Mrs.—of Sac City, Ia., is booked for Friday at the same hour.

Allen won the National horseshoe pitching tournament at the Chicago World's Fair last summer, defeating in the finals C. C. Davis of Kansas City. Allen scored 22 victories against 3 defeats in the U. S. championships in bringing the title to California for the first time.

The "king" will give a trick-shot exhibition, and also compete in singles with the aces of the Santa Ana club—Roger Brown, 18-year-old "pitcher" who established a semi-official world record here last week by making 70 ringers during five 21-point matches, and William Heber, a player of wider experience who finished near the front of the recent state tournament at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman bill themselves as the world's champion trick and fancy shots, but Zimmerman will face Heber in a best three-out-of-five singles encounter, and Mrs. Zimmerman will oppose Barney Block over the same route. Zimmerman holds Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska state titles; his wife won the women's open tournament at Orlando, Fla., last March. She also placed second in the interstate tourney at Long Beach last December.

Willowick Wins Final Match But H. B. Takes Title

Despite a 141-2 to 1-2 point victory over Long Beach Municipal in its concluding match the Willowick Golf club's women's golf team had completed its inter-club schedule today in second place, trailing Huntington Beach 25 points to 32. Long Beach was third with 14.

The Santa Ana players almost made a clean sweep on their own course yesterday. The summary:

Mrs. Percy Havener and Mrs. Lena Austin (W) 3 points; Mrs. V. Hanson and Mrs. E. Nourse (LB) 6 points;

Mrs. Myrtle Chapman and Miss Maxine Smith (W) 3 points; Mrs. D. Belknap and Mrs. Erma Russell (LB) 0;

Mrs. Mary Adams and Mrs. Erma Bradley (W) 3; Mrs. M. Sumner and Mrs. E. Badger (LB) 0;

Mrs. Joe Schaffer and Mrs. Ethel Russell (W) 3; Mrs. Mary Barman and Mrs. L. Bernard (LB) 0;

Mrs. Ann Potts and Mrs. Dorothy Gibbs (W) 21-2; Mrs. Ann Webster and Mrs. Barbara Dadds (LB) 1-2.

Willowick will sponsor two-ball mixed foursomes next Saturday, the tournament beginning at 1 p. m.

GERMANS PLAN BIG OLYMPIC STADIUM

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Germany is rebuilding for the Olympic Games of 1936 the great stadium which was constructed for the Olympics of 1916, cancelled because of the war.

Werner March, son of the original builder, is in charge of remodeling the huge arena in the Grunewald, just outside of Berlin, and plans to make it more complete even than the Los Angeles stadium.

It is planned that the main stadium will be surrounded by a tennis-court, a cycling-ground and a swimming pool, with accommodations for 440,000 spectators. Furthermore, a ground for equestrian sports will be erected. A home for athletes, to be called "The Home of German Sports" is also planned, as well as buildings with social centers for the athletes participating at the 1936 Games.

In issuing orders for the reconstruction, Chancellor Hitler declared: "Germany receives here with a sports arena the equal of which has never been seen anywhere in the world." The German sports commissioner, von Tschammer-Osten and the minister of interior, Wilhelm Frick have full powers for conducting construction work. The money needed for the purpose has already been appropriated by the ministry of finance.

Troy Wins First Rugby Contest, 8-7

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The University of Southern California made its debut in the field of rugby football a winning one yesterday when the Trojan team eked out an 8-7 victory over the Exposition Park Spoilers at the Coliseum.

Hoop Team Is Melting Pot; Webster Eyes 880 Record

N. C. A. A. MEET COSTS MONEY

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Jan. 23.—Although genial Jewish Jerry Nemer is no longer on the squad, the University of Southern California basketball team still has that League of Nations flavor. . . . Julius Beskos is Spanish, Lee Guttoro, Italian, Ernie Holbrook, English, Sax Elliott, Scotch-Irish-English and Joe Kelly is all Irish. . . .

Ambidextrous bucketeers are supposed to make the best shots, but have you noticed that Guttoro, leading scorer of the conference southern division, uses his right hand for almost every shot regardless of the side from which he is shooting? . . . He may have the ball in his left hand when he goes up in the air for a shot, but he'll get it shifted to his right before he makes the toss. . . . By favoring his natural shooting hand and making it easy for himself, he makes a good many hard shots look easy. . . .

If Ferris Webster doesn't go stale before the end of the long season, he is going to make the boys do some fancy running in the 880 this year. . . . He's already near top shape with the season still two months off. . . . Last year he ran 1 minute, 52 seconds in placing fourth at the N. C. A. A. championships in Chicago. . . . Hornbostel of Indiana was first in 1:50.9, Cunningham of Kansas second and Simmons of Abilene Christian third. . . . Webster's goal is to burn up the track when the N. C. A. A. championships are held June 22 and 23 in Los Angeles.

"Inky" Wotkins, varsity fullback last fall, is the latest convert to rugby. . . . Plays left wing or stand-off halfback or words to that effect. . . . "Cotton" Warburton, basketball water boy, has had to give up the idea of going out for dear old rugby. . . . He's working p. m.'s. . . . Anyway, he would not have been much good. . . . Too slow. . . . Besides that, he can't take it. . . .

Jerry Nemer, star Southern California basketball forward for three years and now playing for the Firestone Californians, is now in the first year of the Trojan law school. . . . Bill Hunter, director of athletics, goes back to the National football rules committee meetings in February to represent the West. . . . H. Jones, the football coach, is shooting more and better golf than usual. . . . Had a 78 at Brentwood last Saturday. . . . Bill Graber, whose world's record of 14 feet, 4 3-8 inches in the pole vault is due to be accepted by the International federation this year, is looking good in his training on Bovard field for eastern indoor meets. . . . Works in his sweat clothes on form with the bar at 13 feet. . . . To bring the N. C. A. A. championships to Los Angeles this year, Southern California is guaranteeing to pay the expenses of leading athletes to the meet and to stand all costs of the affair. . . . If there is any loss, the university will make it up. . . . If there is a profit, it will be turned back to the N. C. A. A.

SURVEYING CURRENT SPORTS IN COMPANY WITH McLEMORE

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—"Mickey" Cochrane, the baseballer, thinks foot football will be pushing the diamond game for national honors in a few years. Mickey, by the way, liked football much better than baseball when he was at Boston university, but the coaches made him give it up. . . . "Red" Faber, one of the two remaining spitball pitchers in the big leagues, is the only player who ever tried to steal an occupied base in a world series game. . . . Richard Crooks, the grand opera singer, is a golf bug. He recently completed a golfing trip which carried him 8200 miles and saw him average 86 on 42 courses. . . .

If Captain Bob Lassiter of the 1933 Yale football team was playing for fun, as he is reported to have said he was, he did better with the ball than any of his teammates who may have been tearing their hearts out for dear old Yale. . . . The statistics show that Bob gained 68 yards and lost but 22. His average gain was about four yards, and in three years as a varsity player he gained 2030 yards, despite the fact he was laid up often with injuries. . . . Jack Chevigney, newly appointed head coach of Texas university, in his first year as mentor at St. Edwards (250 enrollment) produced a team that won its first Texas conference championship. . . . Hormidas Aube, Yankee pitcher, was born in Westbrook, Me., the town that gave Rudy (Dictaphone) Valles to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is going to cost the Dodgers money, for they will have to play Sabbath dates in those towns which formerly went to Brooklyn. . . .

Harold Vanderbilt wants to name his new America's Cup defender Rainbow. "Rainbow," Vanderbilt says, "is an omen significant of a rift, a parting of the clouds, indicating fair sailing and better times ahead." . . . Dear me! There is now an official sport at Princeton, and "Spider" Kelly will do the coaching. . . . Could there be any connection between the recognition of boxing and the fact that Harvard returns to the Princeton football schedule next year? . . . Carl Hubbell, who will get $18,000 this year, is the highest paid pitcher in the history of the Giants. . . . Max Schmeling believes Tommy Loughran has a good chance to whip Primo Carnera when they meet in Miami, Feb. 22. Schmeling, who saw Primo fight Paulino in Rome last year, says the Italian does not hit, simply pushes. . . .

Bun Cook is the most superstitious member of the New York Rangers. Bun would throw a fit on the ice for a game, and would do worse than that if he saw anyone throw a hat on a bed. . . . Andy Aitkenhead, Ranger goalie, always looks under his bed before retiring. . . . Jimmy Dykes, White Sox infielder, is an expert bowler.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Frankie Wallace, youthful Cleveland Italian jabbed his way to a hair-line decision over Frankie Klick, San Francisco lightweight, in a non-title bout here last night. Wallace weighed 131-12, Klick 132.

Klick made an impressive start, winning the first two rounds handsly with body punching, but Wallace rallied after the third frame, held the Californian at arm's length, and piled up points with long rights and lefts to the head.

Klick is matched to fight Lightweight Champion Barney Ross in March. He recently knocked out Kid Chocolate of Cuba to gain the junior lightweight title.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The University of California's basketball team scored its third win of the season over St. Mary's by defeating the Morgans last night by a score of 24-25.

MURDOCH SETS AMAZING MARK IN ICE HOCKEY

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Some eight years ago hockey was introduced at Madison Square Garden by "Tex" Rickard, who knew so much about the ice sport that he thought it was played on horses. . . . One of the competing teams that night was the new-born New York Rangers, and one of the Ranger players was Murray Murdoch, a young certified public accountant, three years out of Manitoba university.

Tonight the Rangers play their 400th game and for Mr. Murdoch, or "Mudhook," to give him the name his teammates use, it will be an epochal occasion. For the simple reason that when the starting whistle blows, and Mr. Murdoch's blades bite into the ice, he will have put in round numbers one of the most amazing "iron man" feats sports has ever known.

Rivals Gehrig's Record

Tonight's game with the Ottawa Senators will be Murdoch's 400th consecutive big league hockey game. The fact that all 400 were played with one club makes the feat all the more remarkable. It is only natural to compare Murdoch with Lou Gehrig who holds the consecutive game record in baseball, and ask which is the more outstanding.

On cold figures Gehrig would seem to hold an edge, having played better than 1300 Yankee games without a miss. But then baseball isn't hockey. The diamond sport, as it is played in the big leagues, isn't exactly a gentle pastime, but its hazards are the hazards of a Browning society meeting when compared to hockey. Injuries are rare in baseball; in hockey they are as much a part of the game as the puck. To your men of the ice six-stitch cuts, broken bones, and bashed profiles are something to be expected. Baseball players can get life insurance during the playing season; hockey players can't. They're worse risks than steepjackers, lion tamers, and Ekyptologists who explored the inner lining of King Tut's tomb.

Murdoch Amazes Coach

Lester Patrick, silver-haired coach of the Rangers, who has been in hockey since the ice age, is one who is amazed at Murdoch's record.

"Murdoch's mark," Patrick told us, "stands little chance of ever being tied, much less broken. It's almost unbelievable that a man could play through 400 games of big league hockey without a miss. Especially such a player as Murdoch, who is always in the middle of the hottest mix-ups—or skating like the devil to get into the middle. He is rough and tough and has been in some of the damndest crack-ups you ever saw. Yet, here he is, pink-cheeked, smiling, and all in one part."

The Rangers will set other records when they take the ice against the Senators tonight. They'll send out the same front line of the Brothers Cook and Frankie Boucher they had in 1925. And the same defensemen in "Ching" Johnson. These boys haven't played in all the games, but they've been the backbone of the team since it was started in '26. And the 800-plus goals the Cooks and Boucher have scored is still another record.

Local interest is keen and a brisk advance sale has been reported by the box office. In connection with the meet a single tournament is being held for the "Tilden Challenge Trophy" the winner of which will receive an autographed racket from "Big Bill" in person the night of the match.

Indoor play makes for a furiously fast game and tennis experts state that the floor in the auditorium here is unexcelled for unrestricted play. The box office is open daily at the auditorium from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Kenry Matsuyama, Japanese cue ace from New York, will win the National three-cushion billiard championship tonight if he beats Alfredo De Oro, 71-year-old Cuban-born New Yorker, in the scheduled final match of the tourney.

However, should Matsuyama lose, the tourney will be thrown into a four-way tie for first place, necessitating a play-off.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The charity contest between the Chicago Bears and the Pacific Coast All-Americans returned a profit of between $10,000 and $15,000, Knights of Columbus officials reported today.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Adolpho Luque, 43-year-old Cuban pitcher who was one of the heroes of the last world series, has sent in his signed contract for 1934 to the New York Giants.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The University of California's basketball team scored its third win of the season over St. Mary's by defeating the Morgans last night by a score of 24-25.

CHICAGO BEARS
CONSIDER S. A.
NIGHT CONTEST

George Halas, "head man" of the Chicago Bears, probably will come here Thursday for a conference with American Legion committee men relative to the proposed appearance of the professional football champions in the Santa Ana Bowl either Jan. 31 or Feb. 7.

At the same time, it was definitely announced that Jim Musick, the big fullback who left Santa Ana to establish a "National" organization at U. S. C. and in a powerful ally team to oppose the Bears if Halas and the Legion spokesmen get together on terms.

Musick, home from San Francisco where he played with the Pacific Coast All-Americans against the Bears last Sunday, said he could muster for his lineup such men as Aaron, Rosenberg, Emy, Pinkett, Mel Hein, Nate Barnard, Glen Presnell, "Turk" Edwards and Macner Apsit, about the same team that already has given a good account of itself against the Bears in two games.

It is understood that only a matter of a guarantee is holding up definite announcement of the Santa Ana contest. The Bears are willing to show here but ask a flat sum rather than a percentage of the gate receipts. While satisfied that at popular prices the Bears would draw heavily from all over Orange county, the Legion hesitates to make a guarantee because of the danger of inclement weather. They want Halas to personally investigate the situation here, especially the accommodations at the Bowl which seats about 8000 comfortably.

Musick's club is willing to play for a percentage of the gate.

SEE PITTS PLAY S. C.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A chance to revenge two through whippings by Southern teams in the past was thrust into the lap of Dr. Jack Sutherland, Pittsburgh football coach, when the 1934 schedule was made up.

Approximately 90,000 fans will overflow the Pitt stadium to see the Trojans, whose teams easily whipped Great Pitt teams in Rose Bowl games in 1929 and 1932.

Both years Sutherland headed his teams westward confident of making a game of it but both times the Trojans rumped to victories. In 1929 it was 47-14 and three years later.

Some critics blamed Pitt's showing on the heat, others on the team's mental condition and still others on the strenuous train ride. Sutherland made no alibi.

This year, however, the situation will be reversed. The Trojans must come eastward via train and probably encounter weather contrasting sharply with that on the Coast.

The schedule opens with two good Eastern opponents—Washington & Jefferson and West Virginia—which will give Pitt hard games and put the players in condition for the Trojans Oct. 13.

The Gophers of Minnesota come to the stadium the Saturday after Southern California.

The only "brainer" on the schedule, Westminster, follows the Gopher game, and then Elmer Laiden will return to Pittsburgh to show his many friends here what he can do with Notre Dame material.

Following Notre Dame are the Cornhuskers of Nebraska who will meet on their own gridiron Nov. 10 at Lincoln. Pitt then travels to Baltimore for a return game with Navy and closes the season Thanksgiving day against Carnegie Tech, its city rival.

ROSS 7-5 FAVORITE TO DEFEAT PETROLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Messrs. Sam Pian and Art Winch, co-managers of Lightweight Champion Barney Ross, are negotiating with promoters in three cities to give the Chicago boy a shot at Jimmy McLarnin's welter crown if Ross beats Billy Petrolle here tomorrow night.

It will be a bitter blow indeed to the Pian-Winch plans if the ancient "Fargo Express" details their young Mr. Ross in the scheduled 16-round non-title bout. The odds are 7 to 5 in favor of Barney repeating his Chicago victory of last March over Petrolle, but plenty of Billy's admirers doubt his ability to do so.

Some admirers are confident enough to predict that Old Willy will crawl out from under his horse blanket and knock the champion among the artichokes before the eighth round.

The great difference of opinion as to the outcome rises from the fact that Billy, the Duluth dynamiter, is entering the ring at about 142 pounds. This is his natural fighting weight. No light-weight ever had the audacity to crawl through the ropes against Petrolle when he was slugger with that poundage behind him.

When Ross took the 16-round decision over him in Chicago, Billy weighed about 135. He claimed the piling down process made him as weak as boarding house soup.

Barney will scale about 137 pounds.

HORSESHOE CHAMP

This smiling fellow is the champion horseshoe pitcher of the country, Alhambra's Theodore Allen, who'll appear in a series of exhibitions at the Santa Ana Horseshoe club tomorrow.

Jack McCord, nationally known sports official, made a speech before a service club at Orange, but what he said "in meeting" wasn't as interesting as some of the revelations he made to friends afterward.

McCord declared the "refereeing racket" isn't what it used to be. Where a few years ago, officials were able to pull from $6000 to $8000 annually out of football and basketball, the pay has been decreased so drastically in most sections of the country that officiating no longer is worth the trouble. A fellow can make more out of something else.

Other McCord disclosures: He has "worked" 2500 basketball games during his career and at least 800 football contests.

His son never will be allowed to play football because the gridiron takes too much out of a young boy. The best place to watch a football game is from behind the goal posts. Some of the leading colleges couldn't exist if it weren't for the revenue from football. Just for a test, he would like to see two spectators, a sports writer and a coach selected to referee one of the big college games.

Perhaps Jack McCord is right in his diagnosis of the decline of the art of officiating, but more than one Orange county coach will tell him the extra money they get from such work is all that gets 'em over the hump.

Every yard in the section draws at least $10 a week from such employment, and in one week Tustin's Bill Cole was able to officiate three games in two days. His own team drew a bye, so he refereed a Friday afternoon game.

A Saturday afternoon conflict somewhere else.

ALLEN, KING OF
U. S. HORSESHOE
PITCHERS, HERE

Three of the ablest American horseshoe pitchers will appear in public exhibitions at the Santa Ana Horseshoe club this week. The champion pitcher of equine games in the United States, young Theodore Allen of Alhambra, Cal., will be here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the famed Guy Zimmerman team—Mr. and Mrs.—of San City, Ia., is booked for Friday at the same hour.

Allen won the National horseshoe pitching tournament at the Chicago World's Fair last summer, defeating in the finals C. C. Davis of Kansas City. Allen scored 22 victories against 3 defeats in the U. S. championships in bringing the title to California for the first time.

The "king" will give a trick-shot exhibition, and also compete in singles with the ace of the Santa Ana club—Roger Brown, 18-year-old "pitcher" who established a semi-official world record here last week by making 70 ringers during five 21-point matches, and William Heber, a player of wider experience who finished near the front of the recent state tournament at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman bill themselves as the world's champion trick and fancy shots, but Zimmerman will face Heber in a best three-out-of-five singles encounter, and Mrs. Zimmerman will oppose Barney Black over the same route. Zimmerman holds Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska state titles; his wife won the women's open tournament at Orlando, Fla., last March. She also placed second in the interstate tourney at Long Beach last December.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS AT TROY
N. C. A. A. MEET COSTS MONEY

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Jan. 23.—Although genial Jewish Jerry Nemer is no longer on the squad, the University of Southern California basketball team still has that League of Nations flavor. . . . Julius Beskos is Spanish, Lee Guttoro, Italian, Ernie Holbrook, English, Sax Elliott, Scotch-Irish-English and Joe Kelly is all Irish. . . .

Ambidextrous bucketeers are supposed to make the best shots, but have you noticed that Guttoro, leading scorer of the conference southern division, uses his right hand for almost every shot regardless of the side from which he is shooting? . . . He may have the ball in his left hand when he goes up in the air for a shot, but he'll get it shifted to his right before he makes the toss. . . . By favoring his natural shooting hand and making it easy for himself, he makes a good many hard shots look easy. . . .

If Ferris Webster doesn't go stale before the end of the long season, he is going to make the boys do some fancy running in the 880 this year. . . . He's already near top shape with the season still two months off. . . . Last year he ran 1 minute, 52 seconds in placing fourth at the N. C. A. A. championships in Chicago. . . . Hornbostel of Indiana was first in 1:40, Birmingham of Kansas second and Simmons of Alabama third. . . . Webster's goal is to turn up the track when the N. C. A. A. championships are held June 22 and 23 in Los Angeles. . . .

"Tinky" Wotkins, varsity fullback last fall, is the latest convert to rugby. . . . Plays left wing or stand-off halfback or works to that effect. . . . "Cotton" Warburton, basketball water boy, has had to give up the idea of going out for dear old rugby. . . . He's working p. m. . . . Anyway, he would not have been much good. . . . Too slow. . . . Besides that, he can't take it. . . .

Jerry Nemer, star Southern California basketball forward for three years and now playing for the Firestone Californians, is now in the first year of the Trojan law school. . . . Bill Hunter, director of athletics, goes back to the National football rules committee meetings in February to represent the West. . . . H. Jones, the football coach, is shooting more and better golf than usual. . . . Had a 78 at Brentwood last Saturday. . . . Bill Graber, whose world's record of 14 feet, 3-8 inches in the pole vault is due to be accepted by the International federation this year, is looking good in his training on Bovard field for eastern indoor meets. . . . Works in his sweat clothes on form with the bar at 13 feet. . . . To bring the N. C. A. A. championships to Los Angeles this year, Southern California is guaranteeing to pay the expenses of leading athletes to the meet and to stand all costs of the affair. . . . If there is any loss, the university will make it up. . . . If there is a profit, it will be turned back to the N. C. A. A.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Harold Vanderbilt wants to name his new America's Cup defender Rainbow. "Rainbow," Vanderbilt says, "is an omen significant of a rift, a parting of the clouds, indicating fair sailing and better times ahead." . . . Dear me! Boxing is now an official sport at Princeton, and "Spider" Kelly will do the coaching. . . . Could there be any connection between the recognition of boxing and the fact that Harvard returns to the Princeton football schedule next year? . . . Carl Hubbell, who will gain $18,000 this year, is the highest paid pitcher in the history of the Giants. . . . Max Schmeling believes Tommy Loughran has a good chance to whip Primo Carnera when they meet in Miami, Feb. 22. Schmeling, who saw Primo fight Paulino in Rome last year, says the Italian does not hit, simply pushes. . . .

Bun Cook is the most superstitious member of the New York Rangers. Bun would throw a fit if he were the first Ranger on the ice for a game, and would do worse than that if he saw anyone throw a hat on a bed. . . . Andy Aitkenhead, Ranger goalie, always looks under his bed before retiring. . . . Jimmy Dykes, White Sox infielder, is an expert bowler.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Debate on the Duck Stamp Bill and the plan to appropriate $18,000,000 for the conservation of game birds was expected to feature today's second session of the American Game conference.

Senator Frederick Walcott of Connecticut, chairman of the senate committee on conservation of wild life resources, was to explain the duck stamp bill and start discussion of it.

This bill, now in the house, provides that every waterfowl hunter must put a $1 federal stamp on his state hunting license. These stamps, sold at post offices throughout the country, are expected to bring in about $1,000,000 to aid in the conservation of waterfowl, particularly ducks.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Franklin Wallace, youthful Cleveland Italian, abbed his way to a hair-line decision over Frankie Klink, San Francisco lightweight, in a non-title bout here last night. Wallace weighed 131-2, Klink 132.

Klink made an impressive start, winning the first two rounds handily with body punching, but Wallace rallied after the third frame, held the Californian at arm's length, and piled up points with long rights and lefts to the head.

Klink is matched to fight Lightweight Champion Barney Ross in March. He recently knocked out Kid Chocolate of Cuba to gain the junior lightweight title.

MURDOCH SETS
IN ICE HOCKEY

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Some eight years ago hockey was introduced at Madison Square Garden by "Tex" Rickard, who knew so much about the ice sport that he thought it was played on horseback. One of the competing teams that night was the newborn New York Rangers, and one of the Ranger players was Murray Murdoch, a young certified public accountant, three years out of Manhattan university. Tonight the Rangers played their 40th game and for Mr. Murdoch, or "Mudhook," to give him the name his teammates use, it will be an epochal occasion. For the simple reason that when the starting whistle blows, and Mr. Murdoch blades into the ice, he will have put in round numbers one of the most amazing "iron man" feats sports has ever known.

Rivals Gehrig's Record
Tonight's game with the Ottawa Senators will be Murdoch's 40th consecutive big league hockey game. The fact that all 400 were played with one club makes the feat all the more remarkable. It is only natural to compare Murdoch with Lou Gehrig who holds the consecutive game record in baseball, and ask which is the more outstanding.

On cold figures Gehrig would seem to hold an edge, having played better than 1300 Yankee games without a miss. But then baseball isn't hockey. The diamond sport, as it is played in the big leagues, isn't exactly a gentle pastime, but its hazards are the hazards of a Browning society meeting when compared to hockey. Injuries are rare in baseball; in hockey they are as much a part of the game as the puck. To your men of the ice six-sixty cuts, broken bones, and bashed profiles are something to be expected. Baseball players can get life insurance during the playing season; hockey players can't. They're worse risks than steepjacks, lion tamers, and Egyptologists who explored the inner lining of King Tut's tomb.

Murdoch Amazes Coach
Lester Patrick, silver-haired coach of the Rangers, who has been in hockey since the ice age, is one who is amazed at Murdoch's record. "Murdoch's mark," Patrick told me, "stands little chance of ever being tied, much less broken. It's almost unbelievable that a man could play through 400 games of big league hockey without a miss. Especially such a player as Murdoch, who is always in the middle of the hottest mix-ups—on skating like the devil to get into the middle. He is rough and tough and has been some of the damnest crack-ups you ever saw. Yet, here he is, pink-cheeked, smiling, and all in one part."

The Rangers will set other records when they take the ice against the Senators tonight. They'll send out the same line of the Brothers Cook and Frankie Boucher they had in 1925. And the same defenseman in "Ching" Johnson. Those boys haven't played in all the games, but they've been the backbone of the team since it was started in '26. And the 800-plus goals the Cooks and Boucher have scored is still another record.

Local interest is keen and a brisk advance sale has been reported by the box office. In connection with the meet a singles tournament is being held for the "Tilden Challenge Trophy" the winner of which will receive an autographed racket from "Big Bill" in person the night of the match.

Indoor play makes for a furiously fast game and tennis experts state that the floor in the auditorium here is unexcelled for unrestricted play. The box office is open daily at the auditorium from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Kenry Matsuyama, Japanese ace from New York, will win the National three-cushion billiard championship tonight if he beats Alfredo De Oro, 71-year-old Cuban-born New Yorker, in the scheduled final match of the tourney.

However, should Matsuyama lose, the tourney will be thrown into a four-way tie for first place, necessitating a play-off.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Adolpho Luque, 43-year-old Cuban pitcher who was one of the heroes of the last world series, has sent in his signed contract for 1934 to the New York Giants.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—William T. Tilden II and Ellsworth Vines, former amateur tennis champions, today were sued for $250,000 damages for alleged breach of contract by Norman L. Sper, who described himself as Vines' former manager.

Sper claimed he entered into a contract with Vines March 15, 1932, in which he agreed to promote the tennis player's interests as a professional in return for 25 per cent of Vines' earnings.

Recently, Vines, with the aid and advice of Tilden and Tilden's agent, William O'Brien, who also was named as a defendant, broke the contract, Sper complained.

He asked $25,000 damages against Vines and the corporation employing him, Tilden Tours, Inc., and $225,000 against Tilden and O'Brien.

Perhaps the greatest disappointment of the financial campaign, however, came out of the Southern division play-off with the Los Angeles Cubs, whom the Dons defeated 7-6. Los Angeles authorities maintained the contest would draw better than here, and made seating arrangements for 7000. A comparatively small crowd attended, composed mainly of students admitted at reduced rates. Santa Ana sent a check for $184.48.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 23.—A capacity house is expected to greet "Big Bill" Tilden, Ellsworth Vines, Vincent Richards and Bruce Barnes, barnstorming pro quartet of tennis, when they play indoors on the floor of the huge Municipal auditorium, Wednesday evening Jan. 31.

The Long Beach match will consist of two singles and one doubles match, and will mark the first western appearance of the "Big Four" on the present East-West tour.

Local interest is keen and a brisk advance sale has been reported by the box office. In connection with the meet a singles tournament is being held for the "Tilden Challenge Trophy" the winner of which will receive an autographed racket from "Big Bill" in person the night of the match.

CHAMBER ASKS EXTENSION OF CWA PROGRAM

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Telegrams urging that they use their influence in the extension of the CWA program were sent to Senators Hiram Johnson and William G. McAdoo and Congressman Sam Collins by the local chamber of commerce, following a meeting held in the Lions clubhouse yesterday.

The action followed reports given by the various welfare and CWA heads representing this community. Roy Davis, speaking for the Welfare department, stated that in the giving out of over 50 Christmas boxes of food and clothing, it was learned that there is a definite need for employment here. Mrs. George Tooney, who is directing the Red Cross work, said that even though her organization had given nearly 100 blankets and hundreds of pieces of clothing, there is still a need for such things.

George Healey, chairman of the building committee of the local school board, suggested that more men, working under the CWA, be put to work on the raising of the old grammar school building. Andrew Mandery, who is in charge of the Federal Re-employment service here, urged that those wanting work and those employing use his headquarters as an employment bureau.

Dr. C. G. Huston, the newly elected president of the Orange County Coast association, speaking on the present local beautification program stated that he is contacting Phil Stanton, member of the State Highway commission, regarding certain local problems, among other things asking that at least two under ground passages be placed under Newport boulevard when and if the Southern Pacific railway is abandoned and converted into an auto road. He said that plans are being worked out for a tree planting project along the Coast highway. Dr. Huston was made delegate to the Coast association. D. J. Dodge was elected as alternate.

Charles TeWinkle was elected delegate to the Associated Chamber of Commerce and Leroy Anderson, alternate. Fire Chief, C. J. Lewis, was instructed to investigate thoroughly the present status concerning the fire situation here and report back at the next chamber meeting. He was given a vote of thanks by the chamber for his services in the past.

Laguna Play Slated For January 27

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 23.—"Meet the Wife" produced successfully in the drama section of the Community club, will be repeated Saturday night of this week, the curtain rising promptly at 8:15 o'clock. The title role will be played by Mrs. Polly Wuthnow, who was a hit in the part after jumping into it on short notice. Arthur Dupuis, whose serious illness prevented the scheduled repetition of the show last month, has recovered fully and will again be seen in the role of the husband. Gene Oatman, Frank Moore, Marjorie Gowan, Burt Stancliffe and Kathleen Covern will be seen in the other roles.

Director Hughes has announced that the production of "Divorcens," originally scheduled for February, will be postponed to give opportunity for the annual minstrel show. February 14 and 17 are the dates set. All proposed material will be submitted to the director tonight by those who have been asked to do numbers in the show and the running order will be decided upon. There will be a big minstrel first part to be followed by an olio and a grand finale.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO CONDUCT SERVICES

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 23.—Young People's day will be observed at the Presbyterian church, ext Sunday, with the pastor, the Rev. John J. Klene preaching in the morning. The young people will have charge of the services in the evening. The monthly Happy Workers' society public dinner and business session is scheduled for Wednesday and will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Fogler. Mrs. Fogler's committee to serve the dinner. Members of the Junior Christian Endeavor society under Mrs. Henry Snadell and the Senior Endeavor society, Mrs. Marie Hale, superintendent, attended the C. E. rally held Sunday at Tustin and missed winning the attendance pennant by just one point.

The Bible class of the Sunday school took charge of the opening service of the Sunday school Sunday. Mr. Greer, class teacher gave a talk. The scripture reading was by Fred Cooks and the solo number "Jesus is Passing By," was rendered by Mrs. A. M. Smith. Mission study classes are planned for the month of February.

$257.531 PAID TO YORBA LINDA CITRUS HOUSE

YORBA LINDA, Jan. 23.—A total return of $257.531.25 was made to the member growers of the Yorba Linda Citrus association, as revealed in the annual report made at the annual meeting Saturday at the Masonic hall. Of this amount, $187,536.57, or .931 per field box, was returned for lemons, and $69,994.68 for valencias. In addition, the association marketed $1,496.62 in grapefruit.

The meeting was well attended, with 300 present at the dinner and for the business session. The directors, V. C. Dillingham, W. H. Wickett, B. J. Foss, O. J. Dyckman, Bert Shaw, C. W. Morris and Austin R. Marshburn, were re-elected again. George Crawford, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange, talked on the business of the past year. Henry Ramsey, manager of the field department of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, talked on marketing problems, and M. L. Chapman, general sales manager of the exchange, spoke on the by-products end.

County Residents Wed In Riverside

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 23.—A double wedding was performed at Riverside January 20 when Miss Edith Parker, of Redlands, and Charles Blaholder, of Garden Grove, and his brother, Ralph Blaholder and Miss Olive Sheldon, of Garden Grove, were united in marriage.

Miss Sheldon wore a white crepe ensemble with a green jacket and white accessories while Miss Parker was dressed in a blue ensemble with black accessories. Miss Sheldon, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sheldon, of Wright street, graduated from the local high school with the class of 1933. Miss Parker is the daughter of Mrs. J. Parker of La Habra.

Ralph and Charles Blaholder are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blaholder, of West Chapman avenue. They were raised in Orange county and received their education here. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blaholder will make their home in Sunnyside Gardens, while Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blaholder will reside in Redlands.

Section Told of Trip to Mexico

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 23.—Lester Frink gave an interesting account of his recent trip through Mexico at the recent meeting of the Booklovers' section of the Woman's Civic club held in the home of Mrs. A. F. Kearns on Magnolia road, with Mrs. Nicholas as co-hostess. Mr. Frink also exhibited a number of curios and pictures secured on the trip.

A list of books published last month was given by Mrs. A. J. Woodward. Mrs. C. C. Violet, Elsie K. Daly, Spanish teacher, and Ida Alderman, student director.

The leads are taken by Beverly Bennett and Joyce Brown. Stanley Wilson has the part of the sweetheart and James Doyle is the guard. Others of the Spanish class are taking the parts of street vendors and water carriers.

BIG LION, STALKING DEER, ATTEMPTS TO STOP RIDERS

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 23.—The story of how a huge mountain lion tried to bar their way up a steep canyon in the Trabuco on Sunday, to keep them from disturbing a herd of deer that the king of California forests evidently had been stalking, was told in Laguna Beach yesterday by four members of Los Amigos Riding club who had gone for a day's outing on horseback. In the party were Mrs. Josie Dorkum Rice, who was riding her noted horse, Honda; Miss Marie Gardner, Bert Minter and Earl Oldaker.

When nearing the top of a range, Mrs. Rice's horse began to act strangely. There was no trail and Bert Minter and Miss Gardner were leading the way up the steep slope of the canyon.

Minter suddenly reined in his horse and pointing to a small clearing ahead, shouted, "There's a mountain lion." All members of the party were thrilled, but decided to press on. The lion advanced slightly toward them and gave vent to a deep-toned roar. Then it began to weave across their path, as if testing their advance, showing its teeth and emitting periodical howls. When the riders were within about 40 feet of the beast it suddenly retreated into the underbrush.

Almost instantly a herd of deer darted across a clearing at the top of the hill. The party urged their horses forward but when they reached the clearing the deer and lion were nowhere in sight.

Dinner Observes 19th Anniversary

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 23.—The Earl Halliday birthday on Mission Hill was the scene of a delightful affair recently when friends gathered there to celebrate the 19th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Halliday. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock to 20 guests who were seated at one large table. Sweet peas and maidenhair fern were the table decorations.

A mock wedding, secretly arranged by the guests, was completed in every detail, with members of the party taking part in the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Halliday once more exchanging the marriage vows. A lovely china tea set of the chintz pattern, an anniversary gift from the guests, was presented to the honored couple at the end of the ceremony.

Mrs. John Daneri, whose birthday was celebrated recently, shared honors with Mr. and Mrs. Halliday, and those present showered her with many clever and useful birthday gifts.

In the bridge contest later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Guilbert scored high and were rewarded with attractive scoring pencils. Mrs. John Daneri and Russell Cook, holder of low scores, were consoled with appropriate prizes.

Those invited to share the happy event with Mr. and Mrs. Halliday were Messrs. and Mesdames John S. Malcom, John Daneri, Carl H. Hankey, J. Roy Smith, Harry Barnes, Russell Cook, Oscar Guilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Don Leyden, of Doheny Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Lansing B. Hill, of Santa Ana.

Program Held by Post, Auxiliary

TUSTIN, Jan. 23.—Approximately 90 members of the Tustin American Legion post and auxiliary, together with their children, were present for the regular monthly dinner and entertainment program.

Mesdames Hilda Riehl, Grace Leinberger, Mamie Flud and Daisy Turner were in charge of arrangements for the dinner served at 6:30 o'clock, while Cadet Hamilton, Howard Timmons and W. S. Leinberger composed the entertainment committee. Harry Leinberger showed a movie of his hunting trip to Alaska.

Following the program, the post and auxiliary met for separate business sessions. The auxiliary made plans to initiate a number of new members at their next meeting February 2. Plans were made to attend the 21st district auxiliary meeting to be held in the near future at Arlington, with Mrs. Effie Oplinger, 21st district president, presiding.

The next joint meeting of the post and auxiliary will be February 15.

Hold Funeral Of Mrs. Lizzie Moore

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 23.—Funeral services for Mrs. Lizzie Moore, a resident of Wintersburg for approximately 20 years, were held January 19 from the Smith and Tutill chapel, with the Rev. J. Scott Willmarth of Pasadena, former pastor of Wintersburg Methodist church, officiating.

Two duet numbers, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "An Uncolored Day," were sung by Mrs. Eva Beem and Mrs. John Stinson. Pallbearers were all former neighbors in Wintersburg and included W. F. Slater, E. M. Fox, H. Weise, Fred Mallett, George Crane and Charles Graham.

Mrs. Moore is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lydia Keener, of Wintersburg, Mrs. Bruce Dixon and Mrs. Nannie Leach, of Tenn., and two sons, Horace Moore, of Orange, and Ed. Moore of Tenn.

PASTOR AT MEETING

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The Rev. William A. Matson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist Episcopal church, is in Santa Barbara attending a church meeting. The local pastor will remain for the entire period, 10 days. The Rev. Mr. White, retired minister of Laguna Beach, will preach here next Sunday morning, while David Cherry, of Costa Mesa, will speak at the evening service.

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN MESA MUSIC PROGRAM

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Seven girls of the Newport Harbor union high school were featured on the program of the music section of the Friday Afternoon club Monday at the Woman's clubhouse.

Six of the girls, Wanda Thompson, Helen Davis, Evelyn Rollins, Dorcas Brown, Frances Altas and Irene Inman, directed by Miss Marie Hiesch, instructor in music at the high school, sang "To a Wild Rose" and "The Beaming Eyes." Miss Adith Lowe gave a history of the composer, Edward MacDowell, and played several of his compositions, including, "To a Water Lily," "Will of the Wisp," "Old Trestling Place," "Indian Lodge," and "To a Wild Rose." Mrs. L. R. Daughenbaugh also spoke on MacDowell's life.

Other numbers included two selections of Mrs. C. H. Seamans sung by Mrs. Rose Kinley Meltott. The program was opened by all singing "America the Beautiful" and "We're Forever Having Boosters." Mrs. Daughenbaugh read two poems, "To Edward MacDowell" and "Hillcrest." A musical memory contest was held.

Announcement was made that the next meeting on February 26 will feature the study of the lives and works of three composers, Oley Speaks, Beems Taylor and Lorraine.

Mrs. Andrew Mandery, music curator of the club, Mrs. C. A. Custer and Mrs. Daughenbaugh were hostesses for the day. Mrs. Henry Abrams acted as secretary. Tea was served in the sun room.

The next meeting of the Friday Afternoon club will fall February 2.

Mission Worker To Give Address

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The Rev. Charles E. Winter, who is on furlough from Foochow, China, will speak at the church night meeting of the Wintersburg Methodist church on January 31. It was announced today. A pot luck dinner will be served at 8 o'clock. Dr. William Blair, superintendent of the Presbyterian mission district in Korea, was the principal speaker at the last church night meeting. He is a cousin of the Rev. W. A. Matson, local pastor.

Married Flirts

by MABEL McELLIOIT

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Gypsy Morell and Tom Weaver are married the same day as Lila Hotelling and Derek Bliss. Lila expects to live in luxury, while Gypsy intends to go on with her job, teaching in a settlement.

After returning from a honeymoon in Alaska, Gypsy and Tom go to dinner. Among the guests is wealthy Marko Broughton, who once asked Gypsy to marry him. He showers Gypsy with attentions and Tom is jealous.

Following for Christmas, Gypsy meets Broughton who offers her a job cataloging his library. She accepts, but does not tell Tom. The day she is to finish the work Gypsy is too ill to leave home. Tom overhears her telephone conversation with Broughton and is furious.

The doctor orders Gypsy to bed with flu and tells her she is going to have a baby.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
CHAPTER XVII
"You must give up your job at once, of course," Tom had said masterfully after the first excitement was over and they had come to a full realization of what the news meant.

Gypsy was going to have a baby! Well, it was wonderful of course, and they were glad—were proud and happy—but they had to plan for the future. They had to save, to look ahead. This baby must have everything he needed.

Gypsy was recovering from her attack of influenza now. She had been home definitely for two weeks, and was sitting, a little pale and shaky, but convalescent, in the blue chair Great Aunt Morell had sent her from Morristown as soon as she had heard the news. Great Aunt Morell hadn't given Gypsy a wedding present, but when Gypsy's mother had told her about the coming child she had been moved to send them this big, rich and rather unwieldy affair upholstered in the green damask. It made all the other furniture in the living room look pale and colorless. Gypsy snuggled into it, wrapped in her rosy robe, and listened to Tom.

"First of all, I don't want you traveling on subways," Tom said, oracularly. "You might faint or something."

Gypsy protested faintly. It was such easy work, she said, and it needed the money. They ought to be saving heaps, right now, to pay for Master Baby's arrival.

Tom said, very well, they'd do that. He'd cut down on cigarettes. He'd eat lunch at one of those one-cup places. They were fine—everybody said so. He took out his pencil and began to figure. So much lopped off here, so much there...

Bridegroom Gets Surprise on Visit to Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 23.—Richard "Dick" Fricke, formerly a lifeguard and member of the Newport Beach Fire department, who was married January 19 to Miss Ora V. Inus, of South Gate, was given a disturbing surprise by local firemen and police department friends when he drove into Newport Beach Saturday with his bride.

His friends had been informed of their coming and they no sooner arrived in the city than they were stopped by an officer and placed under arrest. They were escorted to the city court where Fricke was charged with the "crime of matrimony." After being turned over to the custody of Mrs. Fricke's life, the bridegroom paid his costs with cigars to the city hall force and was released. The young people will make their home in Huntington Park.

CONTESTS HELD BY MESA BOY SCOUTS

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Ten boys of Costa Mesa, Warren Collins, Richard Carlson, Merle Coe, Robert Hirtler, Robert Winterbourne, George Henry and Leroy Shilling, volunteered at a recent meeting of the troop to finish a local road building job after school. The project is one of the requirements necessary to qualify in a program to win a trophy that the 21st district American Legion is offering to the Scout troops within its territory.

Competing with all of the members of the troop, Robert Allenman won honors in a signaling contest. Allenman and Leonard Collins both won honors in setting up exercises; Richard Collins won honors in the first class group in the exercises and Robert Hirtler won high in the second class Scouts.

Merle Coe turned in his final papers for his merit badge in carpentry and Warren Collins turned in his papers for a merit badge in horsemanship.

Adult visitors at the meeting were Legionnaires George Grupe, Glen Cramer, George Sherry and E. J. Lambert of the local American Legion unit. Boy visitors were Tommy Grupe, James Wells and Robert Lambert.

During the business session it was announced by Scoutmaster Lloyd Willcutt that the second week in February will be Scout Anniversary week.

First prize for women went to Mrs. Edna Keller, second to Mrs. B. B. Brown and consolation to Mrs. Jack Strawbridge, while for men, Mrs. Maude Michel, substituting, won first prize; W. A. Millholland, second and Bert Hirtler, consolation. The door prize was won by Clyde Day. Al Van Steenberg was chairman of the entertainment and prize committees and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Houlihan and Mrs. Harold Robertson assisted him at the clubhouse.

Firemen Hosts At Card Parties

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 23.—Firemen of the Midway City Volunteer department acted as hosts Saturday evening at their homes at card parties given as a benefit for the local fire department fund and in this manner cleared a total of $23.32 toward the $14 needed. They will hold a dance on the evening of February 10.

Playing began at 8 o'clock, continuing until 11 o'clock, when all repaired to the Community clubhouse where the bridge scores were tallied, prizes awarded and refreshments served.

First prize for women went to Mrs. Edna Keller, second to Mrs. B. B. Brown and consolation to Mrs. Jack Strawbridge, while for men, Mrs. Maude Michel, substituting, won first prize; W. A. Millholland, second and Bert Hirtler, consolation. The door prize was won by Clyde Day. Al Van Steenberg was chairman of the entertainment and prize committees and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Houlihan and Mrs. Harold Robertson assisted him at the clubhouse.

And Gypsy would laugh delightedly, liking to hear Tom praised.

So the early spring passed and April came and there were one or two warm days to remind the city dwellers that summer was on the way. As new hats bloomed in all the shops, and fur coats began to look shoddy, and asparagus was sold in the markets, a few daffodils and narcissi appeared in street vendors' trays.

And Lila came back! Her high, clear voice came over the telephone early one morning.... that is, early for Lila. It was half past nine and Gypsy had just finished the breakfast dishes, had hung the blue checked tea towels up to dry.

"Darling!" said Lila. "Where are you keeping yourself? I called the house. I wanted you for lunch. But the girl there said you weren't working any more...."

"Not now," Gypsy told her gayly. "Well, not now! Come and lunch with me at one. At the Chatham. Not a party. Just the two of us."

"I'd love to," Gypsy said it quickly, without thinking. But in an instant the realization that her wardrobe would hardly match the springtime gaiety of the smart restaurant swept over her. Oh, nonsense! She would wear her last year's tweed coat and her blue crepe. True, it was already a bit tight, but she would put a fresh frill on it and no one would notice.

How curious it was, she reflected as she dressed, that she had gone along so happily for months, to be pricked into unrest and disquietude by the sound of Lila's voice. Lila, reminding her of the gay and fashionable world, in which she had no part. The winter of her content was over.

Hurriedly Gypsy dressed. She had to do her marketing first. Once on the street, she realized that this particular day was one of those springtime freaks—a June day transported to April. Even her tweed coat seemed unusually warm. The sky was laced with fleecy clouds and a warm wind blew from the river.

The old, disturbing feeling of dissatisfaction welled within her. How could she lunch with Lila in her old clothes? It wasn't fair! (To Be Continued)

CHAMBER ASKS EXTENSION OF CWA PROGRAM

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Telegrams urging that they use their influence in the extension of the CWA program were sent to Senators Hiram Johnson and William G. McAdoo and Congressman Sam Collins by the local chamber of commerce, following a meeting held in the Lions clubhouse yesterday.

The action followed reports given by the various welfare and CWA heads representing this community. Roy Davis, speaking for the Welfare department, stated that in the giving out of over 50 Christmas boxes of food and clothing, it was learned that there is a definite need for employment here. Mrs. George Toomey, who is directing the Red Cross work, said that even though her organization had given nearly 100 blankets and hundreds of pieces of clothing, there is still a need for such things.

George Healey, chairman of the building committee of the local school board, suggested that more men, working under the CWA, be put to work on the raising of the old grammar school building.

Andrew Mandery, who is in charge of the Federal Re-employment service here, urged that those wanting help use his headquarters as an employment bureau.

Dr. C. G. Huston, the newly elected president of the Orange County Coast association, speaking on the program local beautification program stated that he is contacting Phil Stanton, member of the State Highway commission, regarding certain local problems, among other things asking that at least two under ground passages be placed under Newport boulevard here when and if the Southern Pacific railway is abandoned and converted into an auto road. He said that plans are being worked out for a tree planting project along the Coast highway. Dr. Huston was made delegate to the Coast association. D. J. Dodge was elected as alternate.

Charles TeWinkle was elected delegate to the Associated Chamber of Commerce and Leroy Anderson, alternate. Fire Chief, C. J. Lewis, was instructed to investigate thoroughly the present situation concerning the fire situation here and report back at the next chamber meeting. He was given a vote of thanks by the chamber for his services in the past.

Laguna Play Slated For January 27

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 23.—"Meet the Wife" produced successfully in December by John B. Hughes for the drama section of the Community club, will be repeated Saturday night of this week, the curtain rising promptly at 8:15 o'clock. The title role will be played by Mrs. Polly Wuthe, now, who was a hit in the part after jumping into it on short notice. Arthur Dupuis, whose serious illness prevented the scheduled repetition of the show last month, has recovered fully and will again be seen in the role of the husband, Gene Oatman. Frank Moore, Marjorie Gowan, Burt Stanciloff and Kathleen Coven will be seen in the other roles.

Director Hughes has announced that the production of "Divorcens," originally scheduled for February, will be postponed to give opportunity for the annual minstrel show. February 14 and 17 are the dates set. All proposed material will be submitted to the director tonight by those who have been asked to do numbers in the show and the running order will be decided upon. There will be a big minstrel first part to be followed by an olio and a grand finale.

CITRUS GROUP AT DINNER

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 23.—Members of the Garden Grove Citrus association and their wives were entertained with a 6:30 o'clock dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Whipp on North Walnut street recently.

After dinner a social evening was enjoyed. Those present beside the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Whipp were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Teel, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Head, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Brady, Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Rossetto, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dozier and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Broady.

Gypsy was going to have a baby! Well, it was wonderful, of course, and they were glad—were proud and happy—but they had to plan for the future. They had to save, to look ahead. This baby must have everything he needed.

Gypsy was recovering from her attack of influenza now. She had been home definitely for two weeks, but was still a little pale and shaky, but convalescent, in the big chair Great Aunt Morrell had sent over from Morristown as soon as she had heard the news. Great Aunt Morrell hadn't given them a wedding present, but when Gypsy's mother had told her about the coming child she had been moved to send them this big, rich and rather unwieldy affair upholstered in green damask. It made all the other furniture in the living room look pale and colorless. Gypsy snuggled into it, wrapped in her rosy robe, and listened to Tom.

"First of all, I don't want you traveling on subways," Tom said, oracularly. "You might faint or something."

Gypsy protested faintly. It was such easy work, she said, and they needed the money. They ought to be saving heaps, right now, to pay for Master Baby's arrival.

Tom said, very well, they'd do that. He'd cut down on cigarettes. He'd eat lunch at one of those one-armed places. They were fine—everybody said so. He took out his pencil and began to figure. So much lopped off here, so much there...

"If I let Dinah go," said the girl in the green chair, speculatively, "and did my own cooking, we'd probably save heaps. She throws out food, you know. And she's careless about light and gas and all that sort of thing."

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN MESA MUSIC PROGRAM

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Seven girls of the Newport Harbor high school were featured on the program of the music section of the Friday Afternoon club Monday at the Woman's clubhouse.

Six of the girls, Wanda Thompson, Helen Davis, Evelyn Rollins, Dorcas Brown, Frances Altar and Irene Inman, directed by Miss Marie Hiebsch, instructor in music at the high school, sang "To a Wild Rose" and "The Beaming Eyes." Miss Arthith Lowe gave a history of the composer, Edward MacDowell, and played several of his compositions, including, "To a Water Lily," "Will o' the Wisp," "Old Trysting Place," "Indian Lodge," and "To a Wild Rose."

Mrs. L. R. Daughenbaugh also spoke on MacDowell's life.

Other numbers included two selections of Mrs. C. H. Semans sung by Mrs. Rose Kinley Mellott. The program was opened by all singing "America the Beautiful" and "We're Forever Having Boast-ers. Mrs. Daughenbaugh read two poems, "To Edward MacDowell" and "Hillcrest." A musical memory contest was held.

Announcement was made that the next meeting on February 26 will feature the study of the lives and works of three composers, Oley Speaks, Beams Taylor and Leaurance.

Mrs. Andrew Mandery, music curator of the club; Mrs. C. A. Custer and Mrs. Daughenbaugh were hostesses for the day. Mrs. Henry Abraham acted as secretary. Tea was served in the sun room.

The next meeting of the Friday Afternoon club will fall February 2.

Mission Worker To Give Address

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The Rev. Charles E. Winter, who is on furlough from Foochow, China, will speak at the church night meeting of the Wintersburg Methodist church on January 31, it was announced today. A pot luck dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

Dr. William Blair, superintendent of the Presbyterian mission district in Korea, was the principal speaker at the last church night meeting. He is a cousin of the Rev. W. A. Matson, local pastor.

Married Flirts

by MABEL McELLIONT

"You must have Dinah," Tom looked up quickly. "You won't be able to do all that..."

Gypsy interrupted him with a peal of laughter. "Tommy, what do you think people used to do when they had babies? The pioneer Marko brought, who once asked Gypsy to marry him. He powers Gypsy with attentions and Tom is jealous."

After returning from a honeymoon in Europe Lila asks the Weavers to dinner. Among the guests is wealthy Marko Broughton, who once asked Gypsy to marry him. He powers Gypsy with attentions and Tom is jealous.

"You must give up your job at once, of course," Tom had said masterfully after the first excitement was over and they had come to a full realization of what the news meant.

Bridegroom Gets Surprise on Visit to Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 23.—Richard "Dick" Fricke, formerly a fireguard and member of the Newport Beach Fire department, who was married January 19 to Miss Ora V. Innes, of South Gate, was given a surprising surprise by local firemen and police department friends when he drove into Newport Beach Saturday with his bride.

His friends had been informed of their coming and they no sooner arrived in the city than they were stopped by an officer and placed under arrest. They were escorted to the city court where Fricke was charged with the "crime of matrimony". After being turned over to the custody of Mrs. Fricke for life, the bridegroom paid his costs with cigars to the city hall force and was released. The young people will make their home in Huntington Park.

CONTESTS HELD BY MESA BOY SCOUTS

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Ten boys of Costa Mesa, Warren Collins, Richard Carlson, Merrell Collins, Robert Hirtler, Robert Winterbourne, George Henry and Leroy Shilling, volunteered at a recent meeting of the troop to finish a local road building job after school. The project is one of the requirements necessary to qualify in a program to win a trophy that the 21st district American Legion is offering to the Scout troops within its territory.

Competing with all of the members of the troop, Robert Allenman won honors in a signaling contest. Allenman and Leonard Collins both won honors in setting up exercises; Richard Collins won honors in the first class group in the exercises and Robert Hirtler won high in the second class Scouts.

Merrell Coe turned in his final papers for his merit badge in carpentry and Warren Collins turned in his papers for a merit badge in horsemanship.

Adult visitors at the meeting were Legionnaires George Grupe, Glen Cramer, George Sherry and E. J. Lambert of the local American Legion unit. Boy visitors were Tommy Grupe, James Wells and Robert Lambert.

During the business session it was announced by Scoutmaster Lloyd Willcutt that the second week in February will be Scout Anniversary week.

PETITIONS HIT COUNCIL PLAN TO OUST STREET

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 23.—Following the passing and publication of a resolution to abandon certain portions of Bay avenue by the city council at the last meeting, petitions protesting the move were placed in circulation today.

Those protesting the action point out that there is very little if any benefit to be derived under such procedure at present, and claim that once the property is deeded back to owners in the locality, the city would be required to pay a large sum if needed for public purposes.

The property in question includes Bay avenue from the east side of B street to the east terminus of the avenue just beyond K street. The distance is about 10 city blocks. The sections of cross streets that are crossed by Bay avenue are being retained, thus giving the city the use of all street ends. City officials point out that the city will not be cut off from the water in this section, even if it does relinquish right to certain sections of Bay avenue.

Firemen Hosts At Card Parties

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 23.—Firemen of the Midway City Volunteer department acted as hosts Saturday evening at their homes at card parties given as a benefit for the local fire department fund and in this manner cleared a total of $22.52 toward the $44 needed. They will hold a dance on the evening of February 10. Playing back at 8 o'clock, continuing until 11 o'clock, when all repaired to the Community clubhouse where the bridge scores were tallied, prizes awarded and refreshments served.

First prize for women went to Mrs. Edna Keller, second to Mrs. B. B. Brown and consolation to Mrs. Jack Strawbridge, while for men, Mrs. Maude Michel, substituting, won first prize; W. A. Millholland, second and Bert Heath, consolation. The door prize was won by Clyde Day, Al Van Steenberg was chairman of the entertainment and prize committee and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Houlihan and Mrs. Harold Robertson assisted him at the clubhouse.

Hold Funeral Of Mrs. Lizzie Moore

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 23.—Funeral services for Mrs. Lizzie Moore, a resident of Wintersburg for approximately 20 years, were held January 19 from the Smith and Tuttle chapel, with the Rev. J. Scott Willmarth of Pasadena, former pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church, officiating.

Two duet numbers, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "An Unclouded Day," were sung by Mrs. Eva Beem and Mrs. John Stinson. Pallbearers were all former neighbors in Wintersburg and included W. F. Slater, E. M. Fox, H. Weise, Fred Mallett, George Crane and Charles Graham.

Mrs. Moore is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lydia Keener, of Wintersburg, Mrs. Bruce Dixon and Mrs. Nannie Leach, of Tenn., and two sons, Horace Moore, of Orange, and Ed. Moore of Tenn.

PASTOR AT MEETING

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The Rev. William A. Matson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist Episcopal church, is in Santa Barbara attending a church meeting. The local pastor will remain for the entire period, 10 days. The Rev. Mr. White, retired minister of Laguna Beach will preach here next Sunday morning, while David Cherry, of Costa Mesa, will speak at the evening service.

PACKERS FACE PADDLING BY ROOSEVELT; WALLACE SEES RUIN ON HORIZON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

(Register Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A guessing game usually starts when elderly Speaker Henry T. Rainey makes a sensational public pronouncement. The point is to guess whether he takes his cue from the White House. Sometimes he does and sometimes he doesn't.

But you can be sure he reflected a Roosevelt viewpoint when he lambasted at the meat packers. Roosevelt won't "commandeer the plants and operate them," as Rainey suggests, but the packers are very definitely in his bad books and he feels he may have to license them under the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Charges of monopoly follow revelation that the highest packers have shown huge profit gains this year and allegations of farm-ers that the hog processing tax was being passed back to them.

The AAA has been unwilling to step out and license any processing industry so far, but it can't get the packers to agree to a code it considers fair to farmers and consumers. The showdown is not far off.

Wallace Sees Ruin

Must we decentralize our wealth and cities or go the way of Rome? Secretary Henry A. Wallace of the Department of Agriculture has studied carefully the theory that intensive urbanization and a rural slavery means ruin. He frequently mentions it.

The history of civilization is a Wallace hobby. The secretary has taken a special interest in Indian civilization. His curiosity is to know what makes civilizations tick, what makes them die, and the impulses that move them.

His speeches, many of which he himself writes, are full of allusions derived from his studies. Wallace himself wrote the speech he made to the Federal Council of Churches. You may have noticed that he linked the Protestant Reformation theory, the Darwinian theory of the survival of the fittest, and the Manchester school of economics theory in his discussion of the position of the individual.

Dear Santa Ana Register: I was interested in reading your article relating to the brick building on the southwest corner of Sixth and Birch streets now occupied by G. Y. Coutts and built in 1889. By the way the contractor's name was "Dripps" not "Drits." I was of the impression it was erected prior to 1889. I remember it was started by Jim Layman and partly built by him but has not been completed and stood idle for a number of years. However, I don't think Jim Layman ever did finish the structure.

My reason for thinking it was built prior to 1889 is I was living on Fifth street in 1887 directly back of the Broadway theater in a small house owned by Jacob Ross. My brothers, Oscar and Harry, rented a room from my wife in our home and Oscar, who always kept a horse in those days, rented the small brick stable now used as the Rutledge Radiator shop, and a part of the Coutts property. The stable was built before the house was. I believe Oscar paid a dollar and a half rent for this stable.

Very truly,
ED STAFFORD.

Editor Santa Ana Register. One doubts it. The dailies are full of expert testimony, much of which from the pen of folks whom were not here to say nothing of voting when Bryan came within one tick of being elected.

So far as concerns the need of money, is there any essential difference between a time of peace and a time of war, think you? In peace as well as in war a people need something with which to pay. Do not men get hungry in peace as in war? Do they not need money with which to exchange the products of industry in one time as well as in the other?

During a war the exigency is on the part of the government and the people as a whole. During peace the exigency is on a part of every individual citizen, who is in a struggle hardly less serious for his own existence—believe me.

If, in the supreme emergency of war, a nation can dispense with gold—and this people have done "that little thing"—why during peace should they sacrifice justice to obtain it?

If without gold a people in their collective capacity can defend their lives and their liberties, how illogical and absurd it supposes that they are dependent upon it in peace to defend their industries. Use your brain. If this Republic is to survive, it is as important that the people have food and raiment during peace as during war. What's wrong with that logic? The struggle for existence is not over—or a thing of the past—on the cessation of hostilities. The battle of life goes on. And they need as much money.

It is admitted that there is a struggle in war—who can deny

Mesa Camp Fire Girls on Outing

COSTA MESA, Jan. 23.—Camp Fire Girl units, represented by fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls of the Costa Mesa Grammar school and freshmen of the Newport Harbor High school enjoyed an outing at Forest Home recently. Miss Muriel Henderson, teacher in the grammar school here, was in charge.

The fifth and sixth grade group included Betty Belding, Martha Willcutt, Dorothy Beardsley, Norma Cook, Mildred Hampton, Eva Hoenschell and Myrtle Gora. In charge of Miss Rose Merryweather. The seventh and eighth grade group included Ethel Gill, president; Betty Lambertson, Maurine McClintock, Dorothy Summons, Ruth Wilson, June Brinkman, and Marjory McClary. High school freshmen were Betty Dodge, president; Christine Bendlin, Lorraine Ashman, Phyllis Ashman and Ellen Howe.

Those furnishing transportation for the party were V. Cook, Mrs. McClary, Miss Merryweather, Mr. Summons and D. J. Dodge.

Church Class in Birthday Party

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 23.—Complimenting Miss Myrtle Gardner and Miss Louise Smiley on their birthday anniversary, Mrs. S. C. Oertly entertained members of her Sunday school class of the Methodist Episcopal church with a dinner party at her home on North Euclid avenue recently.

The table was decorated with fragrant violets from the Oertly garden and nut cups in oiled shades. A feature of the dessert course was a lovely birthday cake, a gift of the Misses Joy and Fernie Schnitzer.

Those present were the Misses Myrtle Gardner, Louise Smiley Joy and Fernie Schnitzer, Lois Marks, Margaret Phillips, Frances Chandler, Janice Dales, Evelyn Bueholder, Charlotte Bartlett, Virginia Hayward and Mrs. Oertly.

There is also a struggle in peace. War lasts a year or so, the other is of a life time. The men who held the musket are they who follow the plow.

Do they not need a home?—as they needed on the battle field, the best of clothes, of blankets, of food and ammunition? Is there any period in their lives when the industrious, and aspiring people of this nation should not have all of these? Is it only during periods of warfare that men are blessed with prosperity?

Must men be unemployed during peace? Must they starve because they are not destroying each other. Did Milton err when he wrote:

No less renowned than war."

Father, Son Banquet Set For Friday

ORANGE, Jan. 23.—The annual father and son banquet of the First Christian church will be held Friday at 6 p. m. in the basement of the church. About 100 are expected to be present. There is to be no formal address but a program which is expected to be of interest to fathers and sons is being arranged under the direction of E. S. Gray.

Arthur Reed is to be toastmaster and an appropriate musical program will supplement the talks and short talks. The affair was postponed because of the observance of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the church in November.

HEALTH WORK OUTLINED FOR B. & P. W. CLUB

ORANGE, Jan. 23.—Dr. K. H. Sutherland, head of the Orange County Health department, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club last night, giving an outline of the county-wide health program in effect in this county. Orange county was one of the first counties in the state to have adopted a county-wide health program. It was brought out.

Included in the advantages of a unified health program, Dr. Sutherland named the prevention of contagious diseases. A health program carried out in one community may be nullified by another community where proper precautions in the spread of communicable diseases are not observed, it was brought out.

Mrs. Mary Nies was in charge of the program, the theme of which was "Health." Musical numbers were given by Dr. B. N. Sutherland, head of the Orange County hospital staff and Clyde Harmon, of Los Angeles, who sang a group of Hawaiian songs, accompanying themselves on steel guitars.

Mrs. Jack Clayton gave a talk on "Balancing the National Budget for 1934-35." Mrs. Melba Chandler was introduced as a prospective member of the club. Mrs. Eula Weaver presided. Mrs. Annette Stein was awarded a prize of a silk comforter as the result of a contest which has been under way. The meeting was marked by an unusually large audience.

E. S. HAGEN, BRIDE RETURN FROM YUMA

ORANGE, Jan. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Hagen, who were married in Yuma, Ariz., last week, with the Rev. H. A. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Yuma, reading the service, have returned to Orange to establish their home.

The bride was Miss Genevieve Kathleen Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allen, of Redlands. She was graduated from the Orange Union High school with the class of '31. For her wedding she wore a smart green tulle dress trimmed with black tulle. She wore black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Penn Pickering, sister of the bridegroom, was her only attendant. She was frocked in a midnight blue wool crepe ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of Tulleman roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. Pickering served Mr. Hagen as best man.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hagen, 145 North Cleveland street, and is associated with his father in the Hagen service station on West Chapman avenue. He is a prominent member of the Elks lodge and was recently elected treasurer of the 29-30 club of which he is a member. He was graduated from the Orange Union High school in 1928.

LEAVE FOR BERKELEY

BARBER CITY, Jan. 23.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Foster, who were among the first residents of Barber City, will be interested to learn that they are moving from Monrovia, where Mr. Foster has been located while employed in that section, to Berkeley.

A group of local relatives, including Mrs. Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Olsen, sister, Mrs. Oland of Santa Monica, who was a visitor here, and niece, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, motored to Monrovia to visit them recently.

ANNIVERSARY OF MOTHERS' CLUB IS CELEBRATED

ORANGE, Jan. 23.—The third anniversary of the founding of the Mothers' club of the American Legion auxiliary was observed yesterday with a luncheon at the Legion clubhouse. Mrs. Anna Slater, the fourth president to serve, presided and 22 members and guests were present.

The tables were decked with cornucopias and tiny yellow chrysanthemums. An angel food cake iced in white was made by Mrs. Celia Bryant and held three pink candles. The cake was cut by Mrs. Ora Benson, the first president of the club, which was organized January 22, 1931.

Jennie Bell, the secretary, gave a short history of the club. Other presidents to serve following Mrs. Benson were Mrs. Clara Hodson, who acted in this capacity in 1932, and Mrs. Henrietta McCarthy, who served in 1933.

A brief memorial was held for three members who have passed away in the past three years, Mrs. Matilda Lentz, Mrs. Anna Kurtz and Mrs. Ida Cumberland. The club now has two gold star mothers, Mrs. Clara Rozell, mother of Otto Rozell, Orange Union High school student, who was the first Orange county boy to be killed in action in the World war, and Mrs. Hattie Perkins, Mrs. Morris, a gold star mother of the city, was a guest of honor.

Plans were made for a spring bazaar and a comforter was finished for the Orange Community Welfare store. Guests included a number of auxiliary members, Mrs. C. H. Adams, Mrs. Celia Bryant, Mrs. Edna Franzon, Miss Maude Sisson, Mrs. Geraldine Hodson, Mrs. Lucille Rowland, Mrs. Ollie Kurtz, Mrs. Clara Haines, Mrs. George C. Holland, and Mrs. Laura Minton, of Watertown, S. D.; Mrs. Ellen Benford, a guest of Mrs. Benson, Mrs. M. Eltiste, Bert Hodson and Frank O'Donnell.

Plan Ceremony In Observance Of First Valencia Grove

EVENT TO BE HELD FEB. 1ST AT PLACENTIA

An event of interest to citrus growers and pioneer residents of Orange county will be the dedication on February 1, under the auspices of Grace Parlor 242, Native Daughters of the Golden West, at Placentia, of the planting of the first Valencia orange in California.

This will take place at the Placentia Fruit company grove on Placentia avenue, one-fourth mile north of Chapman avenue, where R. H. Gilman began growing seedling oranges in the 1870's and started the first commercial Valencia planting in the early eighties. This was about 10 years after the first Navel orange trees had been introduced at Riverside.

Gilman, now 88 years of age, will be the honor guest at the dedication, which will take place at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, February 1. Everyone interested is welcome to attend. Paul Armstrong, general manager, California Fruit Growers Exchange, will speak.

The first Valencia trees planted by Gilman are still in flourishing condition and are among the largest orange trees to be seen in California, and still bear great quantities of fruit, it is reported.

The state president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, Mrs. Irma W. Laird, will be present, according to Mrs. Nellie Cline, Placentia, who is chairman of the landmarks committee, and will preside at the dedication ceremony.

Penmanship Expert Letters Card With Lincoln Address

Lettered in pure Old English, H. L. Darnier, penmanship instructor with the Business Institute, has prepared an attractive card reproducing Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

With a decorative initial letter, all the difficult work was done with an ordinary lettering pen. Darnier spent more than 20 hours on the work.

BURNS DINNER TO BE GIVEN ON THURSDAY

When John Rowan, a visitor in Fullerton from Vancouver, B. C., attends the second annual Burns dinner and concert of the Canadian Legion at Knights of Columbus hall, Santa Ana, next Thursday evening it will be his fifty-first Burns birthday event.

Rowan came to Illinois from Scotland in 1883 and when one or more Scots are gathered together there will you find a Burns dinner also. So Rowan started the Burns tradition in Illinois, as Scots do all over the world and as the Canadian Legion post of Orange county has here. Alex F. Walker of Fullerton, member of the post, however, has the honor of starting it in this county, having had three annual Burns dinners in Fullerton before the Canadian and British veterans' organization held it in Santa Ana last January.

Rowan has an intimate interest in the great Scottish bard, as he was a boy helper of one John McKendrick, a Scottish singer, who in turn was an intimate of Burns himself.

Thursday night's events will start with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock with haggis, a famous Scotch dish, and all the other "trimmings" of a Burns banquet, including kilts, bagpipes, Scottish dances, songs and comedy. Robert Brown of Santa Ana and James F. Watkins of Balboa will sing, and the latter will lead the gathering in Auld Lang Syne.

Russell Munro of Santa Ana, commander of the Canadian Legion Orange county post, will give a brief welcome, while George A. Henry, of Anaheim, will say the Burns grace, and Walker will give the "address to the haggis."

Munro will propose a toast to the President of the United States; C. D. Swanner, commander of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion, a toast to the King of Britain; George Locke, first vice-commander of the California Canadian Legion, a toast to "the lassies." Watkins will also lead in singing "O Canada" and, of course, there will be a toast to "The Immortal Memory" of Burns.

OPPOSITION TO WIDENING SO. MAIN DROPPED

Voicing no protest over the proposed widening of South Main street after details of the work had been explained by Mayor Paul Witmer and City Engineer J. L. McBride, a group of South Main property owners conferred with the city council yesterday.

The taxpayers were among a group who signed a petition against the widening of the street and were called by the council so that an understanding could be reached. It was the popular misconception that the cost of altering curbs, driveways and other incidental work caused by the widening would have to be borne by the individual owner, but McBride explained that all this expense is provided for from the state gas tax funds.

"The owners will have no expense whatever," McBride said. "Paving of the street, new driveways, lowering of lots, grading, installation of sidewalks and curbs and other work will be paid for by the state. The west side of the street will be improved first, with work probably starting late next fall or early next spring. The widening of the east part of the street will have to come on the next appropriation of funds."

On the matter of installing street lights against the owner's wishes, it was pointed out that the present trustees had not erected a single street light or formed a single assessment district and that no further expense would be entailed in the city unless property owners demanded it.

McBride explained other details of the plan and said that South Main street had been designated for improvement because of the projected opening of South Main street to the coast highway and the natural increase in traffic because of the development of the harbor.

The street would be widened to an 80 foot highway from Fairview street south to Delhi road, he said. Drainage work and extra sidewalks would be included in the project. On the west side, a six-foot strip would be taken off, the only property loss being several large trees near the south end of the improvement.

Included among the property owners who attended the meeting were Fred Vollmer, Bruce Hays and W. Ray Edwards and Gerald Edwards.

Remodel Building for Restaurant

Work started today to remodel the building at 609 West Fourth street, formerly occupied by a bowling alley, in preparation for the removal of the Hof Brau from its present location in the Pacific building at Third and Broadway to the new location.

Reconstruction work on the new quarters will cost $1000, according to A. M. Caspari, of Orange, who bought the Hof Brau business from Carl Edgar, beer distributor who had taken over the establishment from Major Anderson.

Caspari has taken a three-year lease on the building where the Hof Brau will be located, and will install an up-to-date restaurant, where all types of meals will be served, he said. Dancing and entertainment will be featured at nights.

BREA RANCHER URGES USE OF HORSES, MULES ON FARMS AS WAY TO END DEPRESSION

A plan to end the depression by going back to old methods of farming, using horses and mules to replace tractors, which would be bought up by the government, has received the consideration of high governmental authorities who have communicated with Scott Foster, Brea rancher, originator of the idea.

Under Foster's plan, what he termed "old deal" could be used to further the success of President Roosevelt's "New Deal" by putting horses and mules back to work in the field to replace tractors. This, he said, would put untold numbers of men back to work on the farm and would put the country back to the "good times of 20 and 25 years ago."

Foster's solution would rid farms of machinery which has replaced men and so would be of extreme benefit in ending the depression in the United States, he said.

Buy Up Tractors

His proposal was to have the government immediately buy every tractor and pay cash for it, a liberal price, and allow the farmer to use the tractors for from six to nine months, at the end of which time he would be allowed to buy the motors from the tractors to use to pump water or similar work.

The few factories that build tractors could be used by the government to manufacture airplanes and other war material now needed. Foster said, and harvester companies would be benefited by the sale of new mower machines and other horse drawn equipment because every farmer in America needs new tools, but very few have the money to buy them.

Foster received a letter from M. R. Cooper, senior agricultural economist of the United States Department of Agriculture, bureau of agricultural economics, in which Cooper declared that even with a high and increased rate of breeding, horse numbers will continue to decline, and until this decline is stopped, and the number increased, there is little opportunity of using horses to displace tractors.

A letter received from C. E. Baldwin, assistant to Secretary Henry A. Wallace, of the United States Department of Agriculture, told Foster that "those responsible for the farm program of the administration regret the need for the destruction of crops and livestock and the other measures being used for the removal of surplus agricultural products with their depressing effect on the price of these products." The letter also stated that it would cost at least $322,000,000 for the government to purchase all the tractors.

Foster concluded his letter to Secretary Wallace with a plea that the government not "pay farmers to lay off men, destroy crops, and make land useless, but pay farmers to do away with machinery."

The statement was made in "The Agricultural Outlook for 1934" published by the Department of Agriculture, that there is 58 per cent as many horses on the farms in America now as there were in the peak year, and there is 35 per cent as many mules on the farms now as there were in the peak year. Regarding these figures, Foster said in his letter to Secretary Wallace, "I can't see that it would be an impossible task for the government, through its different channels already set up to loan money to ranchers, to buy imported stock to the number that it would be necessary to carry on the reduced farming operations now advocated by the agricultural administration."

Foster said that "those responsible for the farm program of the administration regret the need for the destruction of crops and livestock and the other measures being used for the removal of surplus agricultural products with their depressing effect on the price of these products." The letter also stated that it would cost at least $322,000,000 for the government to purchase all the tractors.

OFFICER'S WIFE HELD GUILTY ON DRIVING COUNT

Mrs. Elizabeth Schenck, wife of a Los Angeles policeman, was found guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated by a superior court jury late yesterday.

The jury recommended a fine instead of imprisonment for the woman after it had retired for deliberation at 3:45 p. m. and returned at 4:40. J. H. Mandell, her attorney, filed a petition for probation and hearing on the application will be before Superior Judge G. K. Seegal at 2 o'clock February 2.

During the afternoon session the woman's husband testified that on the day his wife was arrested she stopped at his post, Glendale and Montana streets in Los Angeles where he was on traffic duty, and told him that she was on her way to Vista to visit her parents. She had just left a doctor's office the husband testified and was extremely nervous but was not intoxicated.

Testifying on her own behalf Mrs. Schenck said that she had taken a hot toddy before leaving home on the advice of her doctor but denied that she was under the influence of liquor. The averring of her automobile, she said, was caused through her efforts to drive and at the same time control a dog in the rear seat of the vehicle.

FEW PEOPLE DIE FROM EXTERNAL DISEASE

The real enemy, "TOXIC POISON" is within and has its beginning in the Stomach and Intestines. This poison is carried by the blood stream to organs, glands, tissues and joints, and irritates them just as it does the Stomach and Intestines. Thus it is that the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Thyroid and other glands and tissues, become DISEASED AND ENLARGED. This I believe to be the true source of most cardiac ailments as well as cancer of the liver and minor ailments.

We can't create new organs, glands or tissues, only God can do that, but we can protect what you already have by removing the toxic poisons from the Stomach, Intestines and Blood stream, and by increasing the flow of healing energy to the diseased parts.

CITY WILL PAY ANY EXTRA COST ON CITY HALL

Following further consultations with public works administration officials in Los Angeles and on their request, the city council last night passed a resolution, guaranteeing that the city will be liable for any expense over the proposed $100,000 in building a new city hall at Third and Main streets.

The PWA board advised the city officials that the resolution was merely a legal formality. It was explained that it was virtually impossible to erect any building for exactly a set figure and should the new city hall cost a few dollars more than planned, the expense could not be borne by the federal government.

It was pointed out, however, that the government will grant the 30 per cent share of the cost, regardless of whether it runs over the $100,000. The council was advised that when the contracts are let, the cost can be regulated closely to the $100,000 figure. There are several alternatives in the building plans which can be altered to shift the total cost either higher or lower. These include the addition of the tower, full completion of the third story, additional furniture, and other matters.

The cost of the architect must be paid by the city, it was learned. This can not be construed as a part of federal expense, although the salary of an inspector can be included, it was said.

The PWA board first had the city hall matter for a decision on Friday, January 12 and continued it one week, at which time it was again postponed for a week. The only explanation given was that there was insufficient time to study the mass of information. The government officials have repeatedly assured local heads that the application forms are complete in every detail and there will be no question as to their final approval.

As soon as the Los Angeles board approves the papers, they will be sent to Washington, D. C., for final action. It is believed that this approval can be secured within 45 days, in which case the building could probably be erected and ready for occupancy by September 1 or before.

Testifying on her own behalf Mrs. Schenck said that she had taken a hot toddy before leaving home on the advice of her doctor but denied that she was under the influence of liquor. The swerving of her automobile, she said, was caused through her efforts to drive and at the same time control a dog in the rear seat of the vehicle.

CITY WILL PAY ANY EXTRA COST ON CITY HALL

Following further consultations with public works administration officials in Los Angeles and on their request, the city council last night passed a resolution, guaranteeing that the city will be liable for any expense over the proposed $100,000 in building a new city hall at Third and Main streets.

The PWA board advised the city officials that the resolution was merely a legal formality. It was explained that it was virtually impossible to erect any building for exactly a set figure and should the new city hall cost a few dollars more than planned, the expense could not be borne by the federal government.

It was pointed out, however, that the government will grant the 30 per cent share of the cost, regardless of whether it runs over the $100,000. The council was advised that when the contracts are let, the cost can be regulated closely to the $100,000 figure. There are several alternative in the building plans which can be altered to shift the total cost either higher or lower. These include the addition of the tower, full completion of the third story, additional furniture, and other matters.

The cost of the architect must be paid by the city, it was learned. This can not be construed as a part of federal expense, although the salary of an inspector can be included, it was said.

The PWA board first had the city hall matter for advisement on Friday, January 12 and continued it one week, at which time it was again postponed for a week. The only explanation given was that there was insufficient time to study the mass of information. The government officials have repeatedly assured local heads that the application forms are complete in every detail and there will be no question as to their final approval.

As soon as the Los Angeles board approves the papers, they will be sent to Washington, D. C., for final action. It is believed that this approval can be secured within 45 days, in which case the building could probably be erected and ready for occupancy by September 1 or before.

Penmanship Expert Letters Card With Lincoln Address

Lettered in pure Old English, H. L. Darnier, penmanship instructor with the Business Institute, has prepared an attractive card reproducing Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

With a decorative initial letter, all the difficult work was done with an ordinary lettering pen. Darnier spent more than 20 hours on the work.

Darnier formerly was with the Zaner school of penmanship and helped in preparing the Zaner penmanship method which is widely used in public schools.

BURNS DINNER TO BE GIVEN ON THURSDAY

When John Rowan, a visitor in Fullerton from Vancouver, B. C., attends the second annual Burns dinner and concert of the Canadian Legion at Knights of Columbus hall, Santa Ana, next Thursday evening it will be his first Burns birthday event.

Rowan came to Illinois from Scotland in 1883 and when one or more Scots are gathered together there will you find a Burns dinner also. So Rowan started the Burns tradition in Illinois, as Scots do all over the world and as the Canadian Legion post of Orange county has here. Alex F. Walker of Fullerton, member of the post, however, has the honor of starting it in this county, having had three annual Burns dinners in Fullerton before the Canadian and British veterans' organization held it in Santa Ana last January.

Rowan has an intimate interest in the great Scottish bard, as he was a boy helper of one John McKendrick, a Scottish singer, who in turn was an intimate of Burns himself.

Thursday night's events will start with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock with haggis, a famous Scotch dish, and all the other "trimmings" of a Burns banquet, including kilts, bagpipes, Scottish dances, songs and comedy. Robert Brown of Santa Ana and James F. Watkins of Balboa will sing, and the latter will lead the gathering in Auld Lang Syne.

Russell Munro of Santa Ana, commander of the Canadian Legion Orange county post, will give a brief welcome, while George A. Henry, of Anaheim, will say the Burns grace, and Walker will give the "address to the haggis."

Munro will propose a toast to the President of the United States; C. D. Swanner, commander of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion, a toast to the King of Britain; George Locke, first vice-commander of the California Canadian Legion, a toast to "the haggis." Walker will also lead in singing "O Canada" and, of course, there will be a toast to "The Immortal Memory" of Burns.

Remodel Building for Restaurant

Work started today to remodel the building at 609 West Fourth street, formerly occupied by a bowling alley, in preparation for the removal of the Hof Brau from its present location in the Pacific building at Third and Broadway to the new location.

Reconstruction work on the new quarters will cost $100,000, according to A. M. Caspari, of Orange, who bought the Hof Brau business from Carl Edgar, beer distributor who had taken over the establishment from Major Anderson.

Caspari has taken a three-year lease on the building where the Hof Brau will be located, and will install an up-to-date restaurant, where all types of meals will be served, he said. Dancing and entertainment will be featured at nights.

FEW PEOPLE DIE FROM EXTERNAL DISEASE

The real enemy, "TOXIC POISON," is within and has its beginning in the Stomach and Intestines. This poison is carried by the blood stream to organs, glands, tissues and joints, and irritates them just as it does the Stomach and Intestines. Thus it is that the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Thyroid and other glands and tissues, become DISEASED AND ENLARGED. This I believe to be the true source of most cardiac ailments as well as cancer of the liver and minor ailments.

We can't create new organs, glands or tissues, only God can do that, but we can protect what you already have by removing the toxic poisons from the Stomach, Intestines and Blood stream, and by increasing the flow of healing energy to the diseased parts.

Young Couple Wedded En Route to New Arizona Home

A definite upward step in his chosen line of business for Harold Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Lawrence of Newport road, Tustin, had a delightfully romantic sequel in the quiet wedding on Saturday, January 20, of Mr. Lawrence and Miss Dorothy French, daughter of Mrs. Emma J. French, 617 1-2 North Van Ness avenue.

Mr. Lawrence, who has been connected with the Santa Ana Woolworth store, was advanced to the post of manager of the store in Biebee, Ariz. When the confirmation of his appointment reached him late last week, it hastened the plans he and Miss French had made for a spring wedding, and he persuaded his fiancée to accompany him to his new location.

The young people left Saturday morning for Yuma, that romantic Arizona town, where the wedding took place. For her bridal attire, Miss French chose a smart spring suit in pale yellow with which she wore black hat, gloves and slippers. From Yuma the new Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence continued on a more leisurely trip, combining a honeymoon journey with their advance to their future home.

The bride had made her home in Santa Ana since completing her high school course in the former family home, Sedalia, Mo. She is a sister of Mrs. William Ashman, 325 Normandy Place.

Dinner Celebrates Two Birthdays

Birthday anniversaries of Wallace and Allen McClure, twin brothers, were celebrated Sunday afternoon at a dinner party given by their mother, Mrs. Margaret McClure, entertaining in their home at 505 South Birch street.

A decorated birthday cake centered the table where a delectable baked ham dinner was served.

In the group with Mrs. McClure were Wallace and Allen McClure were Miss Blanche Temple, Charles Ewson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lipsett and son, Bert Jr., Mrs. Mary L. Mayes, Miss Roma Mayes and Miss Emily Marsh.

You and your Friends

Major and Mrs. Earl B. Hawks, 2045 South Broadway, are entertaining their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell A. Bace and daughters, Donna Jean and Joy Nadene Bace, and their friend, Miss Lorraine Swelger, who arrived by automobile from Oshkosh, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Bace may decide to make their home in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Johnson, 527 South Garnsey street, entertained as weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Trago, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Bates of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Burdett of Hollywood. The group attended a dance conducted in Orange by Mr. Johnson on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are former residents of Twin Falls.

Mrs. Louis Causley, 2006 South Rose street, returned home Sunday from Santa Ana Valley hospital, where she has been confined for the past three weeks, having undergone an operation. She is reported making steady improvement in health.

Dr. A. K. Henry of Bozeman, Mont., arrived Monday for an extended visit with his sister, Mrs. T. F. Wiseman, 904 West Fourth street, and with friends in this community.

Pegasus Club Enjoys Writing About "Success"

Pegasus club members found "Success" an interesting topic for poems and stories, reading various compositions on this subject at their meeting the past week with Mrs. Hugh Neighbour, 1234 South Parton street.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Morris, the program was opened by Mrs. C. C. Briscoe, who read a one act play, "Off to the Races" written by Mrs. Frank Was. Mrs. Neighbour read a poem, "Today Is Mine," written by Mrs. George Bond. Mrs. Bond read an article on "Success," and reported the sale of a story, "A Trip to the Hawaiian Islands," to Standard Publishing company.

Mrs. Frank Lansdown read a poem, "An Ideal," in which she brought out the idea that man may be in the midst of strife either in time of war or of peace. Mrs. Rose Havelly gave a poem, "Success," by Edgar Guest, and Mrs. Justice Birtcher read an article taken from Exchange, "Fifty Years Ago and Today."

Mrs. Walter Foote had the pleasure of presenting "Unless I Can," a poem which has been accepted for publication in "The Country Bard," a magazine of poetry. Mrs. C. C. Fuller contributed a poem, "Fame," after which Mrs. Caleb Jackson read an article, "To Him That Hath," basing her ideas on the quotation itself.

In her story, "A Soft Answer," Mrs. Earl Morris told of a small boy's efforts to avert anger by giving a pleasant reply. Mrs. Emily Munro, welcomed into the club as a new member, read a poem of her own composition, "Success," in addition to one by Edgar Guest.

Mrs. Neighbour made the refreshment hour very enjoyable, serving fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee. Mrs. C. C. Fuller is to be hostess at the next meeting, Thursday, February 1, when "A Rainy Day" will be program topic.

Theater Party
Patrons and patronesses for the theater party are:

Judge and Mrs. James Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Backs, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jorckard, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Campbell, Bessie Randall Coulter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. George Duke.

Traditions of Sorority Observed in Telling Betrothal News
Miss Thelma Dugan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dugan of Orange conformed to traditions of Alpha Theta chapter of Beta Sigma Omicron sorority last evening on the U. S. C. campus when she announced her engagement to Le Roy Burns of Santa Ana by means of a box of chocolates. Mr. Burns is son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burns of this city.

Announcement of the betrothal came as a surprise feature of a meeting of the sorority held on the campus. Miss Dugan is an alumna of the organization.

At the refreshment hour, following impressive initiation ceremonies in the sorority house during which eight new members were pledged, the attractively wrapped box of chocolates was brought in by a pledge member as Lohengrin's Wedding March was played on the piano. Miss Miriam Brown, sorority president, opened the box, passing it around to the 35 members present. Excitement prevailed, for not until the second layer of candy had been reached did the group learn which member was announcing her engagement.

A miniature picture of the engaged couple had been placed between two hearts on which were written the initials, "T. D. and L. R. B."

Miss Dugan remained overnight at the chapter house as a guest of her sorority sisters.

Miss Dugan was graduated from U. S. C. in 1931 with a Bachelor of Science degree in education. She is a member of the Orange County Trojan Women's club, of which she is secretary, and of the Business and Professional Women's club of Orange. Since graduation from the university she has been engaged in dramatic work and private teaching in Orange.

Mr. Burns, who is with the Trust department of the First National bank, is a member of Santa Ana chapter of Delta Sigma fraternity, and is the immediate past president of Santa Ana 30-34 club.

Sorority members to whom the announcement was made were Miss Miriam Brown, Miss Dorothy Sagar, Miss Mary Bergin, Miss Norma Jones, Miss "Billie" Clifton, Miss Virginia Christy, Miss Nellie Pelton, Miss Marcia Carmichael, Miss Clara Carmichael, Mrs. Peggy Fischer, Mrs. Constance Hubbard, Mrs. N. H. Martin, Mrs. Dorinda Graber, Mrs. L. Merry Party Given in Celebration of Birthday

Miss Lorna Gittins' eleven birthday anniversary was celebrated Saturday afternoon at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Lyman Gittins, in their home, 1549 Willis street. In entertaining, the hostess was assisted by another daughter, Mrs. Francis Sherman of Santa Ana, and by Miss Rosella Handick of Orange.

Early afternoon hours were devoted to outdoor games. Refreshments of strawberry sundaes and pink and white birthday cake were served at a large table. Pink and green streamers suspended from the chandelier led to fluffy bows and mottoes at each place. Pink and green place cards and a centerpiece of pink and white carnations furthered the pretty decorative motif. Arranged throughout the rooms were bouquets of pink stocks.

Two games were played at the close of refreshment hour, with the Misses Marilyn Peters and Della Huntzinger winning prizes. There were many birthday gifts for Lorna.

The honoree's aunts, Mrs. George Dierker and Mrs. Frank Bandick of Orange, joined the group for the latter part of the afternoon. Others sharing the event with Miss Lorna were her schoolmates from Orange, including the Misses Frances Towdy, Marilyn Gunther, Marilyn Peters, Ruth Wunderlich, Della Huntzinger, Martha Huntzinger, Margaret Bunkle, Lorraine Lentz, Pauline Meyers, Margaret Bandick and Miss Gloria Schultz of Santa Ana.

Choral Club to Give Musical Comedy
Appearing in their first program of the year, members of First Methodist Dorcas Choral club will present "The Comical Country Cousin," a musical comedy, Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the church banquet hall. Mrs. Harry Hayes, director, is assisted by Mrs. John Clarkson as dramatic director.

A silver offering will be taken at the door, and proceeds will go to the club's fund for purchasing vestments.

Mrs. Charles Blackburn, Mrs. W. D. Finn, Mrs. Thelma Hein, Mrs. Richard Cribaro and Mrs. Georgia Lewis have main roles in the production, whose entire cast numbers about 30.

The comedy has its setting in an old-time living room where the country cousins have come to visit their aunt, and to join with her in attending a festival. Negro mammas and old-fashioned costumes are expected to add to the enjoyment of the evening. Solo and choral selections, including old time melodies and Southern numbers will be interspersed throughout the presentation.

Speaker Explains That Enduring Art Must Have Honesty

That truth without compromise is essential to any art that endures, was emphasized forcibly by Charles Morgan, A.I.A., in his address, "Century of Progress in Painting and Sculpture," delivered yesterday afternoon before members of Santa Ana Ebbeh society in Ebbeh auditorium.

In presenting his address, climaxed by the showing of some two score lantern slides of famous paintings, Mr. Morgan showed how closely allied are art and architecture. Beginning with the early Egyptians, he passed rapidly through successive eras in the artistic development of the world, assigning to each its architectural symbol by means of which both art and architecture have been developed.

Construction itself was the most significant feature of Egyptian buildings, he declared using a straight vertical line as the symbol and showing how it was attained through the simple piling of one stone on another. Grecian architecture added the horizontal line to the vertical, and in the Roman era this abstract symbol increased to the arch. The jumble of these symbols in much of the architecture of today, aroused his condemnation.

Mr. Morgan, who is architect of the famous Empire State building in New York City as entirely lacking in grace, beauty and that honesty that is essential to beauty.

Discussing the architecture of a Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, he frankly declared that it really represented a "century of decadence." This same integrity that is essential to architecture is equally necessary to all forms of art, he declared, and expressed scorn for the various "isms" of art, declaring that eventually they all become "wasm" when subjected to the test of honesty.

In making his various points, Mr. Morgan presented a series of rapidly executed charcoal sketches, illustrating graphically the direct abstract symbols he cited. The latter half of his talk was devoted to discussion of the pictures presented by means of lantern slides and to short anecdotes of the artists.

Local Group Shares Surprise Party In Anaheim
A group of local residents took part in a pleasant affair Sunday night, going to Anaheim for a celebration of the 14th wedding anniversary of former Santa Anans, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sellman, now living on South Citron street in the neighboring city.

Guests had planned the party as a surprise compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Sellman. A four-course dinner, provided by the self-invited group, was served in a pretty floral setting of pink and white peach blossoms. Mrs. Elizabeth Smithwick had baked a decorated anniversary cake for the occasion.

Games of 500 were enjoyed following dinner. Prize winners were Mrs. Smithwick and L. Brown, scoring high, and Mrs. Mason Squires and E. J. Scott, low. There were gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Sellman.

Announcements
Martha Washington club will meet Wednesday at 1 o'clock for luncheon in the home of Mrs. Inez Baker on the Irvine ranch.

Lucy V. Schrock of First Congregational church will hold a monthly meeting tomorrow in the home of Mrs. Bert Miles, 2139 North Broadway.

Calvary church Missionary society will have an all-day meeting Thursday in Berman hall. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Attention of Capistrano Y. L. I. members was called today to a change in meeting night this week from the scheduled Thursday to Wednesday at 8 o'clock in Knights of Columbus hall. Election of treasurer will take place during business meeting. Members of the entertainment committee, headed by Mrs. Walter Mackel, have planned a dance to follow the meeting. Music will be furnished by a local orchestra.

Young Couple Wedded En Route to New Arizona Home

A definite upward step in his chosen line of business for Harold Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Lawrence of Newport road, Tustin, had a delightfully romantic sequel in the quiet wedding on Saturday, January 20, of Mr. Lawrence and Miss Dorothy French, daughter of Mrs. Emma J. French, 517 1-2 North Van Ness avenue.

Mr. Lawrence, who has been connected with the Santa Ana Woolworth store, was advanced to the post of manager of the store in Bismarck, Ark. When the confirmation of his appointment reached him late last week, it hastened the plans he and Miss French had made for a spring wedding, and he persuaded his fiancée to accompany him to his new location.

The young people left Saturday morning for Yuma, that romantic town of Arizona, where the wedding took place. For her, the bride wore a gown of white tulle with a smart spring suit in pale yellow with which she wore black hat, gloves and slippers. From Yuma the new Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence continued on a more leisurely trip, combining a honeymoon journey with their advance to their future home.

The bride had made her home in Santa Ana since completing her high school course in the former family home, Sedalia, Mo. She is a sister of Mrs. William Ashman, 325 Normandy place.

Dinner Celebrates Two Birthdays

Birthday anniversaries of Wallace and Allen McCure, twin brothers, were celebrated Sunday afternoon at a dinner party given by their mother, Mrs. Margaret McCure, entertaining them at her home at 508 South Birch street.

A decorated birthday cake centered the table where a delectable baked ham dinner was served.

In the group with Mrs. McCure were Miss Blanche Temple, Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lipsett and son, Bert Jr., Mrs. Mary L. Mayes, Miss Roma Mayes and Miss Emily Marsh.

YOU and your Friends

Major and Mrs. Earl B. Hawks, 2445 South Broadway, are entertaining their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell A. Race and daughters, Donna Jean and Joy Nadene Race and their friend, Miss Lorraine Swiger, who arrived by automobile from Oshkosh, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Race may decide to make their home in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Johnson, 527 South Garnsey street, entertained as weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Grace Bates of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Burdett of Hollywood. The group attended a dance conducted in Orange by Mr. Johnson on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are former residents of Twin Falls.

Mrs. Louis Cassey, 206 South Rose street, returned home Sunday from Santa Ana Valley hospital, where she has been confined for the past three weeks, having undergone an operation. She is reported making steady improvement in health.

Dr. Ada K. Henry of Roseman, Mont., arrived Monday for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. T. P. Wiseman, 304 West Fourth street, and with friends in this community.

Pegasus Club Enjoys Writing About "Success"

Pegasus club members found "Success" an interesting topic for poems and stories, reading various compositions on this subject at their meeting the past week with Mrs. Hugh Neighbour, 1234 South Barton street.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Morris, the program was opened by Mrs. C. C. Brisco, who read a one act play, "Off to the Races" written by Mrs. Frank Was.

Mrs. Neighbour read a poem, "Today Is Mine," written by George Bond. Mrs. Bond read an article on "Success," and reported the sale of a story, "A Trip to the Hawaiian Islands," to Standard Publishing company.

Mrs. Frank Lansdown read a poem, "An Ideal," in which she brought out the idea that man may be in the midst of strife either in time of war or of peace.

Mrs. Rose Havelly gave a poem, "Success," written by Mrs. Frank Was. Mrs. Neighbour read an article taken from Exchange, "Fifty Years Ago and Today."

Mrs. Walter Foote had the pleasure of presenting "Unless I Can," a poem which has been accepted for publication in "The Country Bard," a magazine of poetry. Mrs. C. C. Fuller contributed a poem, "Fame," after which Mrs. Caleb Jackson read an article, "To Him That Hath," basing her ideas on the quotation itself.

In her story, "A Soft Answer," Mrs. Earl Morris told of a small boy's efforts to avert anger by giving a pleasant reply. Mrs. Emily Munro, welcomed into the club as a new member, read a poem of her own composition, "Success," in addition to one by Edgar Guest.

Mrs. Neighbour made the refreshment hour very enjoyable, serving fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee. Mrs. C. C. Fuller is to be hostess at the next meeting, Thursday, February 1, when "A Rainy Day" will be program topic.

Choral Club to Give Musical Comedy

Appearing in their first program of the year, members of First Methodist Dorcas Choral club will present "The Comical Country Cousin," a musical comedy, Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the church banquet hall. Mrs. Harry Hayes, director, is assisted by Mrs. John Clarkson as dramatic director.

A silver offering will be taken at the door, and proceeds will go to the club's fund for purchasing vestments.

Mrs. Charles Blackburn, Mrs. W. D. Finn, Mrs. Thekla Helm, Mrs. Richard Cribaro and Mrs. Georgia Lewis have main roles in the production, whose entire cast numbers about 30.

The comedy has its setting in an old-time living room where the country cousins have come to visit their aunt, and to join with her in attending a festival. Negro mammas and old-fashioned costumes are expected to add to the enjoyment of the evening. Solo and choral selections, including old time melodies and Southern numbers will be interspersed throughout the presentation.

Local Group Attends Annual Convention

Several members of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Phi spent the week end at the Biltmore hotel in Santa Barbara attending the third annual state convention of the sorority. The Misses Louise Peas and Marcene Cook were official delegates.

Others attending from here included four new members of the local chapter, the Misses Vivian Van Norman, Jerry Beach, Helen Tynes and Sylvia Westhe, who were awarded special honors during the convocation, and Mrs. Frances Henry, Miss Estelle Schlessinger and Mrs. Charles Woodfill.

The convocation opened with a formal dinner dance on Saturday evening. Attending the affair as guests of the Santa Ana girls were Messrs. George Dearborn, Carl Gerhardt, Jo Hamann, Chester Riegl, Harvey Bear and Tage Carlson.

Eta Beta chapter of Ventura was hostess for the weekend. Next year's convention will be held at Long Beach.

Merry Party Given in Celebration of Birthday

Miss Lorna Gittins' eleventh birthday anniversary was celebrated Saturday afternoon at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Lyman Gittins, in their home, 1549 Willis street. In entertaining, the hostess was assisted by another daughter, Mrs. Francis Sherman of Santa Ana, and by Miss Rosella Bandick of Orange.

Early afternoon hours were devoted to outdoor games. Refreshments of strawberry sundaes and pink and white birthday cake were served at a large table. Pink and green streamers suspended from the chandelier led to fluffy bows and mottoes at each place.

Pink and green place cards and a centerpiece of pink and white carnations furthered the pretty decorative motif. Arranged throughout the rooms were bouquets of pink stocks.

Two games were played at the close of refreshment hour, with the Misses Marilyn Peters and Della Huntzinger winning prizes. There were many birthday gifts for Lorna.

The honoree's aunts, Mrs. George Dierker and Mrs. Frank Bandick of Orange, joined the group for the latter part of the afternoon. Others sharing the event with Miss Lorna were her schoolmates from Orange, including the Misses Francis Towdy, Marilyn Gunther, Marilyn Peters, Ruth Wunderlich, Della Huntzinger, Martha Huntzinger, Margaret Bunke, Lorraine Lentz, Pauline Meyers, Margaret Bandick and Miss Gloria Schultz of Santa Ana.

El Greco, two of whose paintings, "Assumption of the Virgin" and "View of Toledo" was reproduced, he declared to have been the most modern artist of the twentieth century although he died in the 17th century. Ingres' "Mile. Gonin" he characterized as the most beautiful and appealing portrait of the ages, and in a succession of masterpieces he explained the underlying integrity that made each one deathless.

A few examples of cubism were included in the collection, including Duchamp's "Nude Descending the Staircase," and a few other collections of angles and planes which he dismissed with the terse statement that they were the "least worse of cubism."

Country Club Members Have Monthly Party

Santa Ana Country club members who participated in the recent monthly afternoon of bridge at the clubhouse spent a most enjoyable time, with Mrs. Hugh Shields and Mrs. H. E. Van Dien as hostesses.

Eight tables of contract bridge were in play. Prize winners, Mrs. H. B. Rapp and Mrs. Roy Langley, scoring first and second high, are to be hostesses at the next afternoon party, Friday, February 16 at 2 p. m.

Refreshments of coffee and wafers were served at the close of play. Mrs. W. C. Pearce, club hostess, had decked the clubhouse with many flowers for the pleasant occasion.

American women spend, on an average, $150 a year each on beauty aids.

The Eskimo lad said, "Well, friends, I'll leave you, now. I guess this ends the fun we've had together. Gee, I hate to head back home."

"I must return, though, ere the dawn. My parents miss me when I'm gone. I hope you all have lots of fun, no matter where you roam."

"Oh, thank you, sir," said Goldy. "Gee, you've been as kind as you could be. Some day we may come back here. Then we'll have a lot more fun."

The other Tinies shook his hand and said the time they'd had was grand. Said Scouty, "We'll remember you, for everything you've done."

Shower Is Held in Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 23. — Members of the Three 'n Twenty club gathered at the home of Mrs. F. A. Monroe on Ocean avenue recently for a special called meeting, which was in the form of a shower in honor of Mrs. E. W. Edwards and son, Jackie. Among the gifts was a lovely high chair in Spanish design.

The lad then hopped aboard his sled and to old bruin loudly said, "All right, you fat old fellow, let me see you show some speed!"

The bear dashed off with all his might, and very soon was out of sight. Said Doty, then, "Let's board that boat. Somebody take the lead."

"I will," cried Scouty. "Follow me. I am as curious as can be. There must be someone on the boat, though not a soul's in sight."

"Be careful, as we cross the ice. To fall in wouldn't be so nice. If we just hop from chunk to chunk, I guess we'll be all right."

Then, off they went, and my what fun! When little Duncy tried to run, he slipped and took a tumble. "Are you all right?" Goldy cried.

CHIROPRACTOR WILL DISCUSS CURTLEIGH

A further explanation of the recent decision handed down by the Appellate Court in San Jose, recognizing the science of Chiropractic in the State of California, will be given by Dr. James Workman, Santa Ana chiropractor, during his "Keep Smiling" program on KREG tonight at 6 o'clock, in addition to his lecture on "Headaches, A National Affliction," and a presentation of semi-classical music.

Causes of both light and severe headaches and their removal will be discussed by Dr. Workman, who said "There are many thousands of people who have suffered because of headaches, some of them for many years, and during that time have been continually treating the effects, in one way or another, rather than getting to the fundamental basis of what is causing the incoordination."

The musical portion of the program will be given by the National Cavaliers Quartet and songs by the Earl Burnett Trio.

KREG NOTES

During the Adult Education broadcast, starting at 5:30 this evening, from KREG, Miss Ruth Bartlett, instructor of lip reading, will speak on the Pasadena conference for the hard of hearing to be held January 26 and 27, which will present typical problems found especially in Southern California.

It may surprise some of the listeners to know just what is being done along this line. Miss Bartlett said.

"I hear a Thrush at Eve" Cadman, "One Rose," Chomewich, "Santa Lucia," Baranoville, and "Sing Me to Sleep," Greene, will comprise Donald McDonald's program for tonight, KREG, at 7:30.

A new CBS presentation to be broadcast from KREG at 8 o'clock tonight will bring the "Balladeers" to KREG listeners in a program of light classics. At 8:15, the orchestra will assist Oscar Heatter, a new "find" in tenors.

GUILD MEETING ANAHEIM BANK CONDUCTED BY DIRECTORS TO NEW DIRECTOR HOLD MEETING

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—Miss Kathryn Adams was formally presented to the National Bank, a directors' meeting will be held tonight to make plans for re-organization of the bank that was closed a week ago today by orders of the comptroller at Washington.

At the same time a date will be decided upon for the general stockholders' and directors' meeting, Mr. Dolan said.

The bank is now open for the issuing of money on the new accounts that have been placed within the bank since March. Approximately $50,000 will be paid out on these new accounts.

The following standing committees were appointed for the ensuing year: program, Mrs. Harry Horn; ways and means, Miss Stevie Jackson, chairman; Mrs. Robert Easton, chairman; Mrs. Mabel Dixon, chairman; Miss Helen Graton, chairman; Mrs. Cortez Hoskins, social service, Mrs. Clyde Cromer, Miss Madeline Lumsdon; devotionals, Miss Mary Easton; parliamentary, Miss Jane Vander Veer and press correspondent, Mrs. Ed Howell.

Following the business session Mrs. Katherine Shulke presented Mrs. Florence Austin Newkirk in the role of piano solos. She played "Choir du Lune" by Debussy, a "Gypsy Dance" by Friedmann-Gardner and as an encore "Little White Donkey" by Ibert.

The retiring director was presented with a prayer book given by the members.

At the refreshment hour Miss Yungbluth was conducted to the buffet table where a miniature "Luncheon" steamship centered the table and was piled high with handkerchiefs as a farewell token. Miss Yungbluth will sail on Wednesday from Wilmington for a three months cruise of the Pacific ocean.

Red tapers in tall silver holders completed the table appointments. Miss Freda Lumsdon poured from the coffee urn and Miss Maude Dent poured from the silver tea service.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Chapman J. Lightner, 51, who passed away early yesterday morning in a Los Angeles hospital following a brief illness. The services will be held at the chapel of Backs, Terry and Campbell at 10 o'clock in the morning. Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. V. K. Ledbetter of the Calvary Baptist church. Interment will be made in the Anaheim cemetery.

The deceased was a native of Missouri, but came to California 25 years ago.

He is survived by a brother, Clarence Lightner of Anaheim, three sisters, Mrs. Frank Middle-schwartz, Mrs. Orville Ferguson and Mrs. F. R. Loving, all of Hood River, Oregon.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—Having lived in many parts of the world during his lifetime, Louis Reinheimer, 87, passed away at the home of his nephew, John Neuschaefer of Fairhaven and Prospect streets last evening after an extended illness.

He was born in Darmstadt, Germany, but at the age of seven moved with his parents to Australia where he lived for 13 years. For the next two years he lived in Canada, coming to the United States where he settled in Missouri and lived for 22 years.

He moved to California in 1890. For the last two-and-a-half years he has made his home here with his nephew.

The deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. Catherine Neuschaefer of Shelbyville, Missouri, and 23 nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel of the Hilgenfeld Funeral home. The Rev. Cora Isham, of the Nazareth church, will officiate at the service. Interment will be made in Fresno.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—Word was received here yesterday of the birth of twins, a son and daughter, to Mrs. Richard Miner of San Francisco. Mrs. Miner was formerly Miss Ruth Grimm of Anaheim.

HOLD DIRECTOR MEETING FOR BALCON DRIVING COUNT

C. M. Coelho, Talbert dairyman, charged with failure to stop and render aid after an accident on January 8 at Vero road and West Fifth street, was bound over to the superior court this morning at his preliminary hearing in the justice court.

California Highway Patrolman George Peterkin gave the principal testimony against Coelho when he said that the dairyman, when arrested, he did not stop.

Further, Peterkin said he had to go home to milk his cows. I could not stop for him, I know that guy, you couldn't kill him anyway."

Jo Tornavacca, driver of the other car in the wreck, said his car turned over several times and he was pinned under it.

Peterkin, standing upon the scene of the accident only a few moments after it happened, testified that Tornavacca was intoxicated. After the wreck, he was taken to the jail and booked for drunken driving, and later taken to the Orange County hospital for treatment.

Defense Attorney Harry West attempted to prove that Coelho did not realize that there had been an accident nor that anyone had been hurt. He pointed out that the dairyman was rushing home to milk his cows during the current dairy strike, looked back and failed to see a wreck, so continued on his home.

District Attorney James Davis made the point that Coelho admitted there had been a wreck and had to have his truck repaired but failed to go back and see if anyone had been hurt.

Raymond Guerre, a youth who saw the wreck, testified and said that Tornavacca drove his car into Coelho's truck.

Coelho created a furor in the courtroom several weeks ago when he was arraigned following his arrest. When he came into the courtroom and started to explain the cause to Judge Kenneth Morrison, he was sent back to the jail for a sobriety test and was found to have been drinking.

Morrison said he had confined him to sober up and continued the arraignment later in the day.

An information will be filed against him in superior court Friday, Davis said. He was released without bond by Judge Morrison, since he had been on his own recognizance since his arrest.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—Upon the request of Exalted Ruler Leonard Evans and his staff of officers, past exalted rulers of the Anaheim B. P. O. E. lodge, No. 1345, will assume the chairs tonight when the regular meeting is held.

Thomas E. McPadden will preside as exalted ruler; L. A. Lewis, leading knight; H. H. Benjamin, leading knight; Buster Callan, leading knight; Oscar Heynig, leading knight; H. E. W. Barnes, chaplain; George Holden, inner guard and Dr. Meneges, tyler.

Past Exalted Rulers L. H. London and L. P. Bonnat have been named on a special committee on membership and to re-instate former members, the initiation to occur tonight.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Twenty years with the same major league club, and getting ready for his 21st—that's the record of 45-year-old Urban ("Red") Faber, Chicago White Sox venerable right-handed pitcher.

No other player left in the game has a record to equal Faber's for steady employment by the same club. He broke in with the White Sox in 1914, and during his 20 years of service has just about run the gamut of baseball's experience.

His greatest achievement was in the 1917 world series when he won three games from the New York Giants.

He survived the "Black Sox" scandal of 1919, which resulted in the banishment of nine of his teammates the following year. He has seen almost a thousand players come and go with the White Sox, including some of the greatest rookies ever to go to a training camp with a major league club.

Before he came to the Sox he pitched a perfect game for the Davenport club of the Three-I league in 1915. He did not allow a run, a hit or a base on balls and only 27 men faced him.

During his major league career Faber has won 242 games and lost 210. Last season he participated in 36 games, is credited with winning three and losing four. He won 20 or more games in five seasons, his best year being 1915 when he won 24 games and lost 13.

When the Sox start training at Pasadena, there will be several players who were born the year Faber pitched his first major league game. Luke Appling, Sox shortstop, was only three when Faber was a major league pitcher.

The only other pitcher in the league who has put in 20 years of service is Sam Jones, also with the White Sox, who broke in with Cleveland in 1914.

George Jenkins, Miss Mary J. Jones, and the hostess Mrs. David Meyer.

Standard Bearers

Guest speakers at a meeting of First Methodist Standard Bearer club, the past week in the home of Miss Vivian Vale, 812 Fairview street, were Mrs. A. W. Golder, counselor for young people's work for San Diego district of Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary society, and Miss Blanche Britain, returned missionary from Japan. Both make their homes in San Diego.

The meeting was preceded by a covered dish dinner. Miss Helen Tart was welcomed as a new member of the organization.

Those present, other than Mrs. Golder and Miss Britain, were Mrs. Mary J. Jones, Mrs. Edna Machander, secretary; Mrs. R. L. Pearson, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Pearson, librarian; Mrs. George Jenkins, reporter; Mrs. A. T. Davis, absentee secretary. Each was presented with a corsage bouquet of spring flowers.

Mrs. Effie Miller, retiring president, conducted the meeting, presenting a plan to each member of her cabinet. Mrs. Richard Sullivan had provided work basket novelty sunbonnets for all retiring officers.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

Those present were Mesdames Adeline Weichel, R. C. Robinson, W. R. Aldrich, J. R. Farwell, R. W. Cole, W. H. McMurphy, G. W. Spurrier, F. E. Thomas, Earl Glenn, Mabel E. ADDING INSULT TO INJURY

Foreign Minister Koko Hirota of Japan addressed the Japanese Diet yesterday and made a marvelous address. If one had not known anything about what has taken place in Manchuria and in Geneva, he would be deeply impressed with the idea that Japan, as a great evangel of peace, was working only with the idea of ameliorating conditions of those in distress, and lending a helping hand as a brother to China and the Soviet.

One could hardly believe that any man, in a position such as Hirota occupies, could speak in the manner which he did, which certainly to any other race of people would simply be ironical. Japan, for her own interests and contrary to treaty rights, and to treaties signed by eight other nations besides herself, attacked China, established her own rule on Manchuria, and set up a puppet state. Our own State department has declared that we would not recognize the validity of any such state which was established by violating those sacred treaty rights.

A committee was appointed by the League of Nations to examine into the facts concerning the bloody struggle due to Japan's attack on China. The committee made its report, placing the onus entirely at Japan's door, and the Council of the League unanimously, with the exception of Japan herself, sustained the committee and condemned Japan. Japan then withdrew from the League of Nations.

Japan has repeatedly shown a contempt for Russia, and it must have been only through great restraint that the Russian government has not been driven to declare war. She did, some weeks ago, issue an ultimatum that further action by Japan would precipitate conflict. Japan has been proceeding in this high-handed anti-brotherhood, nationally crazed way against a united world sentiment.

With all that condition, her Foreign Minister suggests that Japan has a "serious responsibility for the maintenance of peace in Asia" and as having "made a firm resolve in that regard," and then he suggests that the "most important essential to peace in Eastern Asia is the stabilization of China herself." Then, referring to the severance of friendly relations with the United States, due to the Manchurian incident, he re-emphasizes the idea that things will change when America comes to realize "Japan's role as the stabilizing force in Eastern Asia."

Stabilizing force for China—by wrecking her cities and property and destroying her people? It is as though a cruel giant with a club went into the midst of a playground filled with spirited and lively children, and with that club crushing the children here and there, stopped their activities and "stabilized" them. We are rather impressed that there are those statesmen in the world who will consider this "lecture" by Japan's foreign minister as little short of adding insult to injury, particularly when he says:

Now that Manchukuo has been founded, our empire deems it essential to respect the independence of the new state and to encourage its healthy development, in order that sources of evil in the Far East may be eradicated, and enduring peace thereby established.

The only reason which he brings forth why Japan has any hope in finally winning in her program is that "it is her will, and finally the world will come to see that Japan is right." In the last analysis, if Japan insists, as she does insist, by this address, of having a free hand and being practically the monitor of Eastern Asia, she cannot expect to have other countries like our own, enter into treaties with her, permitting unrestrained armament, which power is to be used in the manner in which she has used it for the violating of the treaties signed. The situation finally will be determined by economics. Japan is headed for an awakening.

HAS AL SMITH GONE BY?

A writer in the February Scribners says he has. It describes the downfall of an idol, a man capable of high leadership but, embittered by defeat and forsaking the sidewalks of New York for the gilded palaces of the rich, he has lost the common touch. "It apparently seems more important to him," says the writer, "that large fortunes should be safeguarded than that the government should find the wherewithal through taxation at the top to balance its budget and to bring relief to the unemployed."

It is a tragic story. We will not dwell on it. We suggest the reading of the article to all those who deplore the fall of an idol, because in a moment of bitterness and worldly ambition, like "the base Judean," he flung away a pearl richer than all his tribe. The later friends will never have the love and the loyalty for him that the millions of his earlier and humbler followers had for him. Many of these later friends have come to want or have been so stripped that they have few if any favors to bestow upon one who sacrificed his popularity of the people for the blandishments of the few.

This is the moral of many a human tale which has saddened the world. To read this story in the article, one can appreciate as never before the meaning of Whittier's "Ichabod" and Browning's "Lost Leader," which express the lament of two great souls for the supposed apostasy of Daniel Webster and William Wordsworth. There were those of us who appreciated the Smith who as Governor of New York sensed the problems of the poor and was the sterling advocate of freedom of speech and had a deep interest in the reformer, even though we might disagree with his social philosophy.

While many who admired him did not believe he was just the man for the presidency, they stood by him when his religious faith was assailed, and even when he took his stand against prohibition. The frankness and the integrity of the man appealed to them. Little attention was given to his last blast against Mr. Roosevelt; and it is hardly likely that anything that he may write in his journal, "The New Outlook," will carry much weight with the people who once shouted for him.

HELPING THE UNDERNOURISHED CHILDREN

The Relief Administration has now started a movement to aid the undernourished children of the nation. According to the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor about one-fifth of all the school and pre-school children of the country are suffering from undernourishment or malnutrition. This involves some eight million children. A statement made by President Hoover at a White House conference called by him in 1930, just after the prosperity era, comes to mind. He stated that there were six million children in the nation, even during the prosperity era, suffering from an undernourishment or malnutrition.

These are alarming revelations. It reveals a deterioration, both physical and moral, of the manhood and the womanhood of the coming generation which cannot but be disastrous for the country. From time to time studies have been made of school children. And it was discovered that thousands of children came to school not having had breakfast. In some cases it was due to domestic irregularities; in others to actual need of money to buy adequate food; in still others it was due to the fact that mothers were compelled to work, and left home before the children were out of bed.

All this touches something that is fundamental in the nation's life. To say nothing of the subsequent cost to the states and the nation in money through millions of men and women who were stunted and starved in their childhood, there is the added human misery due to illness and deformities which many of these children will carry throughout their existence.

The Roosevelt administration is making one of its chief projects the remedy of this alarming condition of the children of the country. While this condition has been aggravated by the depression of the past four years, it should be noted, in view of Mr. Hoover's statement at the White House conference, that the condition has been chronic in our society long before the depression.

Six Thousand Years of Clocks

New York Herald Tribune

One of the oldest mysteries of scientific history seems at last to have been solved. This is the origin of the twelve-hour day, apparently universal among civilized mankind since long before the Greeks and even before the first actual clocks invented by the Egyptians. The origin of the decimal system has been traced, with great plausibility, if not certainty, to man's possession of ten fingers. The history of our so-called Arabic numerals is even better known. Most of the essentials of mathematical operations are traceable to more or less definite times and places in Greece, Egypt or Babylonia. Many scholars have suspected, also, that the beginning of the twelve-hour day was in these same Babylonian lands and with some relation to the number counts by sixties which the earliest Babylonians used. But there was no certainty, nor was there even a plausible solution of the selection of the daily number of hours of the six or thirty-six or sixty which the Babylonians number system would seem to make more reasonable.

Now the mystery appears as related to that other puzzle, the origin of the dozen. This ancient method of counting eggs or other articles of trade seems not be Babylonian but later. It has been conjectured that it was invented because twelve is so easily divisible into parts. Half a dozen, a quarter dozen, a third dozen, all are whole numbers. Undoubtedly this is why dozens and grosses still are used in many trades in spite of inroads by the decimal system in money and measures. A similar origin behind the twelve-hour day was suggested by Professor Stephen Langdon, expatriate American who now heads the Department of Assyriology at Oxford, in a recent address at that university.

Another Oxford enthusiast, Dr. J. K. Fotheringham, began as an astronomer but had turned historian and Assyriologist. For more than a decade he has been applying his astronomical knowledge to points of obscure interpretation in ancient Babylonian records. Recently he uncovered on an inscribed prism now in London the system of time reckoning which seems to have been in use among the mysterious Sumerians, first bringers of the germ of civilization to Babylonia and possibly that germ's inventors. This system was to divide both day and night into twelve parts each; these "hours" being, therefore, of different lengths in Summer and Winter. The hour had no definite length of its own but was merely a twelfth part of a day or night. Other fractions of day or night probably were used quite as much as the twelfths, since no one credited mechanical clocks or could do more than estimate roughly how much of the dark or light part of the daily cycle had elapsed. There was the same reason for having units easily related to halves, thirds or quarters as there is for this convenience in counting by dozens.

A Lesson in Justice

San Francisco News

An Englishman recently wrote a letter to the London Times to commend the London police and courts for their promptness in disposing of a case of burglary. His letter—revealing, as it does, a kind of law enforcement which is regrettably strange on this side of the water—is worth quoting here: "The goods were stolen on Saturday morning," he writes. "The burglar was caught and the goods recovered on Saturday afternoon. On Monday the burglar was committed by a magistrate to stand his trial at the Old Bailey. On Tuesday he was duly tried, convicted and sentenced."

Probably speed of this kind is somewhat exceptional, even in England, where quick justice is proverbial. Nevertheless, the object lesson is too plain to be missed.

With police and courts that work so fast, is it any wonder that England has less trouble with "crime waves" than we have?

More Truth Than Poetry

SOLILOQUY

The boys are skating on the pond
Behind the old white mill,
And on the hillside just beyond
They're sliding down the hill.
Outside the door the snowflakes whirl
All creamy white, like foam;
It's pretty hard to be a girl
And have to stay at home.

"You can't do this, you can't do that,"
That's all one ever hears,
"You can't go out without a hat
Because you'll freeze your ears.
Don't wear that discolored look;
What has got into you?
Why not sit down and read a book
Like other children do?"

There's Fido, running 'round the yard,
He doesn't do a lick,
And never has to study hard
At old arithmetic.
He just can gallop up and down
Like great big grown-up men,
And no one ever frowns a frown
When he comes home again.

"Why don't you do your sewing, child?"
That's all one ever says,
Although they know I'm simply wild
To go outdoors and play.
"Don't look as if you'd like to cry;
There's home work to be done."
Oh gosh! I just can't see why I
Can't ever have some fun.

The trouble about being partizan is that you have to side with so many damned idiots.

The reformer has one consolation. Whatever happens, he never runs out of raw material.

You could always tell a bandit from a dry agent. If it was too late to stop you, the bandit didn't shoot.

The hard problem is to keep wages down to $12 a week and sell the workers five million new cars.

Anyway, a garage big enough for two cars will hold a lot of poor kin.

YOU CAN'T CALL A MAN A LIAR, BUT YOU CAN SAY: "HE'S THE KIND THAT SAYS THE RICH ARE POOR NOW."

All things are relative, and the richer he seems the more his off-spring say: "Charge it to Dad."

Still, it doesn't follow that professors can't manage the country because they couldn't manage junior.

AMERICANISM: Outlawing the saloon because the liquor business was rotten; quitting Prohibition because the liquor business was rotten; still expecting laws to make it stop being rotten.

The country is safe so long as people have faith in the dollar and merely cuss merchants for charging so much.
What we can't understand is why an inflated dollar buys less shirt and more automobile.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ARE WE BEING ITALIANIZED?

Mussolini's latest address hints that the United States is following Italy's lead in making the state supreme in the nation's economic enterprise.

What is the likelihood that we shall Italianize ourselves and go Fascist?

In my opinion, there is little chance for this change. I say this despite my conviction that laissez faire, as we have known it in the past, is doomed and despite my conviction that the results aimed at by the innumerable "planned economy" schemes are results our national enterprise must achieve.

But I do not think we should or that we shall be able to achieve these results by a scheme so politically dominated as Italian Fascism. National policy cannot be syndicated throughout the world. The national spirit is the soil in which national policy must root, and from which it must take its character. There is much in the American experience and tradition that Mussolini did not have upon which to build in Italian experience and tradition.

The supreme decision American statesmanship must make has to do with the degree of government-participation in economic policy and organization and the steps government may effectively take to influence and compel private enterprise to co-ordinate and plan itself.

The lines along which we must proceed, in my judgment, are: (1) Government must assume the responsibility for imposing upon private enterprise certain minimum policies respecting wages, hours, prices and profits that will keep purchasing and producing power in effective working relation, with due provision for flexibility and adjustment of these policies to differing enterprises and regions.

(2) Government must take the leadership in influencing and compelling all major fields of economic enterprises to organize nationally as units of industrial government, with all elements of enterprise adequately represented in the councils, and with the government participating only so far as the safeguarding of the public interest makes imperative.

There are elements of the corporative state in this conception, but it is mainly the guild philosophy adapted to the American experience and tradition.

GROWING UP

It is a good thing that fathers and mothers cannot look ahead to the day when the baby they adore will startle and shock them by the expression of his growing self. Time deals gently with parents and children in this, as in many other adjustments. Growth is gradual and the shocks to parents that accompany its development in their children are mercifully lessened. Still the shocks are bound to come. One must be prepared for them.

Adolescent children are entering a world that is foreign to the one their parents know. Each generation makes its own dwelling place and try as they may, parents may enter it only as strangers. It is difficult to realize that the children who live and have their being under one's roof have their lives apart from one's own, but so it is. Just one bond holds the children to the family circle: parental affection.

I cannot say parental understanding, for that is strained to the breaking point at this period of family life. The parents have formed opinions on religion, politics, social behavior which are their guides, if not their laws. The children have formed other opinions, perhaps far removed from those of their parents. These opinions may be wrong, or they may be right. Time alone will prove them. The struggle between parents and children that these differences make is likely to be prolonged and bitter, unless the bond of affection holds.

It is hard for parents who consider the subject taboo, to listen to a strong defense of birth control from the lips of a son or daughter barely out of the teens. It is painful to hear a boy say, "I'm not going to church any more. I don't believe in it." The old parties are the bunk. Look where they landed the country. I'm for a new order. The old ways are worn out. These expressions strike fear into the snugly settled mind of the responsible citizen. Shock and the fear it arouses create anger and that way trouble lies. We must avoid anger with these children!

It is only when we can listen with irritation held in check, with affectionate tolerance, that we can expect to be heard at all. We have had our turn in our own world and we have enjoyed it in our way. It was not the way of our fathers. How then can we be so unreasonable as to hope that our children will continue to accept our way and our world? We must let them go, not in anger, but in affection. I don't agree with a word you say. I don't believe a syllable of your theory. When you've lived as long as I have you'll have proved a few things, only a few, to your satisfaction. Let's hope you'll be happy, and that you'll find comfort in your doings. But don't expect me to go along with you. I know better."

And keep on liking the child. Hold wide open the door of your heart, the fortress of your mind, so he always finds a welcome and a defense in time of trouble. Listen as patiently as you can and sow what seeds of wisdom you may. But guard your temper. Anger is a poor persuader. Affection is the only true bond between parents and children.
